A SIEGE OF MUD—Heavy rains and subterranean flooding have created a serious mud problem at the north end of Puerto Suello Tunnel where soft dirt mining is in progress.

Tunnel Workers Fight Dirt, Water

Northwestern Pacific Railroad asked the State Public Utilities Commission yesterday to extend from Dec. 31 to next June 30 the deadline for completion of the Puerto Suello Tunnel restoration.

The railroad, in its request filed with the commission, said it had spent $912,228 thus far on repair of the tunnel and cited a long list of unexpected difficulties encountered.

It was the second extension requested since the railroad was ordered by the commission last February, after a long series of court battles, to have the tunnel restored by June 30. When that deadline could not be met an extension to Dec. 31 was granted.

The railroad reported yesterday that it would have to reconstruct 1,248 feet of the 1,357-foot tunnel destroyed in July, 1961, by a fire set by two boys. Northwestern said that it has so far reconstructed about 700 feet, working from both ends, and that there remains a 547-foot central section to be cleared.

The $912,228 already spent indicates a far higher total cost than the $1 million estimated by the railroad five years ago.

Whether the June deadline can be met, the company said, depends on whether the center section is "fully collapsed." Thus far, it said, every portion of the tunnel worked on was caved in.

Northwestern said that at the north end of the tunnel soft dirt mining, "a most difficult form of mining," was necessary. The pressure from the earth and rock above was described as terrific. Reconstruction at this end, the railroad said, has gone in 212 feet and progress is being made at the rate of four feet a day.

At the south end, Northwestern said, "It has been decided to add reinforcing steel sets and to concrete 447 feet of this portion of the tunnel to withstand the extreme pressure and prevent its collapse." The railroad said this concreting will not be completed sufficiently until at least March 15 for mining to be resumed in this area.

Meanwhile, Northwestern said,

Tourist Parking, Buses Proposed To Unsnarl Sausalito's Streets

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Weekend and summer traffic in Sausalito will be so bad in five years that tourists will have to park at Marinship and take a bus downtown, a consulting traffic engineer last night told the Sausalito planning commission.

"There is no practical or desirable way to create facilities downtown which will handle the situation," said D. Jackson Faustman of Sacramento. Traffic and parking facilities now are strained on peak days with almost 18,000 cars a day, he noted, and by 1985 the figure is expected to reach 32,000 a day. His report was part of the city's "701" program to plan the central waterfront.

To cope with the traffic, Faustman proposed a parking lot for 1,500 cars between the Army Corps of Engineers building and Big G supermarket. A parking fee of 50 cents to $1 also could buy a round trip on a shuttle bus between the lot and downtown, he suggested, and the lot could double during the week as a parking lot for commuters to transfer to buses to San Francisco.

Use of the lot by commuters could induce the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to help finance its construction, he proposed. District financing, plus income from parking fees, should mean the lot need not be financed by Sausalito taxpayers, he added.

"You could have your cake and eat it too," Faustman said.

Traffic coming off Highway 101 at the Fort Baker turn-off, he suggested, would be monitored so that when congestion became too heavy downtown,

Mickey Mouse Creator Walt Disney, 65, Dies

Circulatory Collapse Blamed In His Death

BURBANK (AP)—Walt Disney, who built an entertainment empire based on a mouse named Mickey and won a reputation as the movies' most versatile creator, died today. He was 65 ten days ago.

His studio, after at first declining to give the cause of death, later attributed it to "acute circulatory collapse." There was no elaboration. However, the Associated Press was told by an informed source that Disney suffered from spreading cancer.

The founder of Disneyland and producer of more than 600 films ranging from the animated cartoon "Snow White" to the lavish color musical "Mary Poppins" succumbed at St. Joseph Hospital. He underwent surgery there last month for removal of part of his left lung after a lesion was found.

He is survived by his widow, Lillian, and two married daughters, Mrs. Ron Miller and Mrs. Robert Brown.

Disney was entertainment's most successful practitioner. He made a meager start as an artist with an idea for a comedy cartoon featuring Mickey Mouse—and saw the lively rodent become a worldwide institution.

MANY SUCCESSES

He pioneered feature length color cartoons, popularized nature films, expanded into adventure, comedy and musical films. He became a mainstay of television. The fabulous success of his huge amusement park, Disneyland, set the pattern for others elsewhere. He built a studio that in facilities and volume of production rivaled the majors.

Disney was a stubborn nonconformist who brought his imaginative dreams to reality. In the 1965 annual report of Walt Disney Productions to shareholders and employees he wrote: "We're interested in doing things that are fun—in bringing pleasure and especially laughter to people."

Young men, he once advised, should "get into a business they actually can love."

GOT 31 OSCARS

From organizations and governments around the world he received more than 900 awards including 31 of the Motion Picture Academy's Oscars.

U.S. Denies Jet Strikes Inside Hanoi

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON, South Vietnam — Hanoi may have become a victim of its own defenses against bombing raids, American military sources said tonight.

The Communists charge that American planes bombed the North Vietnamese capital Tuesday and yesterday. Official U.S. spokesmen said the targets were rail and truck yards five and six miles from the city's center.

American military men said the reported damage probably was the result of Communist antiaircraft shells and missiles, shot at U.S. planes, falling back on the city. The defensive fire was intense.

"We have been very precise with our bombings and from all we can determine, we didn't do the damage," a top source said. "We don't know. We are looking into this thing very closely."

The U.S. Command announced heavy ground fire and a missile-firing MIG shot down three of the American planes.

A U.S. military spokesman said three American jets were shot down in the raid yesterday —one by a Soviet MIG-21.

The victim of the Soviet jet was rescued but the other two pilots shot down by groundfire were lost. Communist broadcasts, often exaggerated, claimed 10 U.S. planes were shot down.

A U.S. military spokesman said the American targets in the raid—the second in two days on the Hanoi area were a truck repair center at Van Dien, five miles south of the city, and the Yen Vien railroad yard six miles northeast of the city. The same targets were hit Tuesday.

The Communists insisted that heavily populated areas of Hanoi proper were hit, and that 100 civilians were killed or wounded. The raids appeared to have ruled out any hope that the New Year's and Christmas truces in South Vietnam could be extended.

South Vietnamese sources said a mile-long bridge which

Train Derails; Damage Set At $2 Million

BURBANK (UPI) — More than half of a 57-car freight train loaded with fresh produce from San Luis Obispo was derailed early today and officials estimated losses and track damage would approach $2 million.

Southern Pacific officials said 33 cars were derailed near a small depot at the Burbank Boulevard overpass tearing up southbound rails.

Several small fires broke out when hot wires ignited leaking fuel from refrigeration systems in the freight cars, but were quickly put out.

Marin Hospitals Will Raise Rates

Hospital room rates in Marin County will go up Jan. 1, as salary increases for hospital personnel go into effect.

Room rates at Novato and Ross General Hospitals will increase by $6 to $8 a day, said Dr. John C. Siemens, administrator of both hospitals.

Marin General Hospital rates will jump too, but it's not yet known by how much. Hospital district directors are scheduled to discuss the raise at their board meeting next Tuesday evening.

Pay raises granted nurses account for some of the increase. Pay hikes for all hospital employees are in the offing.

Current rate for two-bed rooms at Marin General is $38, and at Novato and Ross is around $40, a figure reached last summer. Increases will boost the figures for two and four bed wards to about $46, while private rooms will be about $53.

Effective Jan. 1, nurses at Marin hospitals will receive pay scales approximating those established by a fact-finding committee in San Francisco after the fall nurses' strike.

The new range established for a nurse with less than one year's experience will be from $600 to $700 a month, while experienced nurses will receive from $625 to $725 at Marin General.

Dr. Siemens said a general review of salaries of all Ross and Novato hospital personnel is scheduled, and the hospital board will consider recommendations Jan. 30, with salary increases retroactive to Jan. 1.

Quake Work Required For Homestead School

Homestead School in Mill Valley will require at least $24,000 in reconstruction to bring it up to earthquake-proof standards of the Field Act, the Mill Valley School District has been informed by a structural engineer.

H. M. Engle of Engle and Engle, San Rafael engineering firm, made the report after an inspection of the building, first two classrooms of which were built in 1921. The report was relayed to trustees yesterday by Supt. G. R. McConnell.

Five classrooms in the original portion of Park School in the same district were demolished last week as a result of report by the same engineer that they failed to meet Field Act standards. Temporary double sessions resulted for some classes when the Park School rooms were closed.

Second floor and roof framing of the two-story Homestead School fail to meet the act's standards, Engle reported, but can be brought up to state requirements by "some minor repair."

"In summary," he wrote, "the structure does not comply with state law and the rules and regulations of the Office of Architecture and Construction in regards to earthquake safety; however, the structure is not entirely devoid of some dependable bracing elements."

He estimated a new building to replace the unsafe portion would cost about $75,000, while reconstruction of the present building would cost $24,000 — plus whatever modernization to heating and electrical systems the district wished to add at the same time.

Although the report was dated Dec. 3, Superintendent McConnell said he did not receive it until Tuesday. He requested the board of trustees to accept the report on Jan. 9 and refer it to the school district's architect.

Novato Students Let Off Steam

About 50 students at Novato High School capped a day of restiveness by setting a bonfire last night in the school parking lot and attempting to cut wires on a nearby utility pole.

Earlier in the day, according to Principal Robert Wisgerhof, 28 students were late to their 9:45 a.m. classes after they and others assembled outside the school demanding a half-holiday tomorrow.

Last night's incidents occurred while the school's annual variety show was being staged in the gymnasium.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant deplored today what he described as "the intensification of the bombing of North Vietnam" by the United States.

Through a spokesman, he also expressed fear "it might lead to a wider war."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Assessor's New Plan Protested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sacramento County Assessor Irene Hickman says if she's prevented from assessing property at 100 per cent of market value, she'll assess instead at 20 per cent —thereby sharply reducing the county's tax base.

Dr. Hickman

County supervisors, who have laid plans to fight Dr. Hickman's 100 per cent plan in the courts, said Wednesday the 20 per cent plan could seriously affect the financing of school districts and other local taxing agencies.

The supervisors said the average county assessment currently is between 23 and 25 per cent.

Dr. Hickman said she recognized the problems her newest plan might cause school districts, and added:

"If they want to be poor, this will make them very poor."

She said the 20 per cent plan would force taxing agencies to raise tax rates and "that would make them the bad guys, rather than me."

More Men Wanted For Kindergarten

Miller said yesterday classes favor "the little girl who can sit primly and do what is expected instead of the little boy who wants to scratch and look around.

"If we have to make a choice, I think we should favor the little boys, the potential family bread winners," he said during a hearing of his Senate Finance and Governmental Administration Interim Committee.

Max Rafferty, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, told Miller kindergarten teaching includes "putting on overshoes and mufflers and even toilet training" and "women are generally considered to be more suited to that kind of work."

Miller agreed that kindergartens should not become too masculine, and added, "I don't want little girls chewing tobacco, either."

State Financial Czar List Cut To One Man

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Ronald Reagan's long search for a new state finance director has narrowed down to "one man we're very interested in," the governor-elect's executive secretary disclosd today.

Philip M. Battaglia told a reporter the prospective director is "trying to square away his fiscal position" before a final decision is made on whether he will accept a salary cut and take the $30,319-a-year job.

Battaglia said difficulty in finding the right man — not disagreements within Reagan's camp — have slowed the selection process.

He said Reagan, assisted by citizen committees, has been looking for someone "in the hundred thousand dollar bracket who can clean up this mess."

Battaglia said some top business executives have been willing to take a "70 per cent salary cut."

But other financial factors such as possible conflict of interest with stocks they own; requirements for public disclosure of assets; and the need to divest themselves of property have forced some possibilities out of the running.

Battaglia said the Reagan sions on next year's budget with out a finance director.

"I don't think it's a case of nobody minding the store," he said. "We're not only making decisions on next year's budget but on things in this year's budget that have been funded but are out of money."

Battaglia said an agriculture director, a water resources director and "several other" department heads will be appointed by the end of this week or the beginning of next.

He said it's possible some key positions will not be filled until after the Jan. 2 inaugural.

Battaglia said he will meet with Ohio's finance director, Richard Krabach, at the national governor's conference in West Virginia next week end. But he said Krabach is not being considered for the California job.

Franco Wins Election Nod For Reform

MADRID (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco emerged today from Spain's second national referendum in 30 years with smashing support for his government reorganization plans and new strength from which to negotiate Spain's future relations with the rest of Western Europe.

More than 17 million Spaniards—85 per cent of those eligible to vote — apparently said "si" in the nationwide vote yesterday on Franco's program which may lead to a democratic monarchy for Spain.

The heavy pro-Franco vote was likely to dismay potential opposition groups seeking an early end to the 27-year-old dictatorship.

It was expected to have an equally strong effect abroad, where complaints that the Spanish people are denied liberty as it is known in some democratic countries has kept Spain from membership in the European Common Market and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

A substantial growth of agricultural trade in Africa during the last decade has raised annual exports from about $3 billion to more than $4 billion.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Assessor's New Plan Protested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sacramento County Assessor Irene Hickman says if she's prevented from assessing property at 100 per cent of market value, she'll assess instead at 20 per cent —thereby sharply reducing the county's tax base.

Dr. Hickman

County supervisors, who have laid plans to fight Dr. Hickman's 100 per cent plan in the courts, said Wednesday the 20 per cent plan could seriously affect the financing of school districts and other local taxing agencies.

The supervisors said the average county assessment currently is between 23 and 25 per cent.

Dr. Hickman said she recognized the problems her newest plan might cause school districts, and added:

"If they want to be poor, this will make them very poor."

She said the 20 per cent plan would force taxing agencies to raise tax rates and "that would make them the bad guys, rather than me."

Cow Killing Banned

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The slaughter of cows, sacred to Hindus, has been forbidden by the Indian government in the Delhi capital district and the former Portuguese enclaves of Nagar Haveli and Dadra. Thousands of Hindus seeking a nationwide ban rioted Nov. 7 in New Delhi.

Reporters Strike

ROME (AP) — Most Italians were left without newspapers today by the second 24-hour strike by journalists within a week, for more pay and a shorter work week.

Tree Is Stolen

HASTINGS, England (AP) — An oak tree planted 10 days previously to mark Hastings' association with Sir Winston Churchill has disappeared from the town's old fishing quarter.

Freeway Adopted

SACRMENTO (AP) — Routing for about four miles of future Route 92 east-west freeway in San Mateo County has been adopted by the State Highway Commission.

Tito To See Fair

MONTREAL (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito plans to visit Canada next year and to bring 1,000 of his people with him to see the 1967 Montreal World's Fair, Yugoslavia's commissioner-general for the fair said last night.

Death On Campus

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Troops occupied the campus of Venezuela's Central University yesterday and, using mine detectors, found a large cache of arms. Snipers opened fire, one soldier was killed.

Plane-Bus Crash

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — An Iraqi air force training plane crashed into a bus near the Iraq-Syria frontier yesterday, killing all 25 passengers on the bus and the pilot of the plane, Baghdad radio reported today.

Wedding Site Set

CHICAGO (AP) — John D. Rockefeller IV and his bride-to-be, Sharon Percy, have chosen Rockefeller Chapel at the University of Chicago as the site of their wedding next April 1.

The Gothic-style chapel was donated by the bridegroom's great-grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, whose philanthropy made possible the founding of the university.

Warren Likes State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren says he likes his job in Washington but misses his home state of California. On his family's annual Christmas visit in San Francisco, Warren will go duck hunting on Saturday, with Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a Democrat.

Slide Wipes Out Rail Line Section

RIO DEL (UPI) — About 850 feet of Northwestern Pacific rail line along the Eel River was wiped out yesterday by a slide which occurred just minutes after a northbound train passed the area.

A company spokesman said repairs to the damaged section, across the river from Rio Del, would take several days.

More Men Wanted For Kindergarten

Miller said yesterday classes favor "the little girl who can sit primly and do what is expected instead of the little boy who wants to scratch and look around.

"If we have to make a choice, I think we should favor the little boys, the potential family bread winners," he said during a hearing of his Senate Finance and Governmental Administration Interim Committee.

Max Rafferty, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, told Miller kindergarten teaching includes "putting on overshoes and mufflers and even toilet training" and "women are generally considered to be more suited to that kind of work."

Miller agreed that kindergartens should not become too masculine, and added, "I don't want little girls chewing tobacco, either."

State Financial Czar List Cut To One Man

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Ronald Reagan's long search for a new state finance director has narrowed down to "one man we're very interested in," the governor-elect's executive secretary disclosd today.

Philip M. Battaglia told a reporter the prospective director is "trying to square away his fiscal position" before a final decision is made on whether he will accept a salary cut and take the $30,319-a-year job.

He said it's possible some key positions will not be filled until after the Jan. 2 inaugural.

Battaglia said he will meet with Ohio's finance director, Richard Krabach, at the national governor's conference in West Virginia next week end. But he said Krabach is not being considered for the California job.

Cities Air Mixed Opinions On ABAG

By FRANK FARRARA

Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen warmed up last night for the General Assembly meeting of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments in Berkeley tomorrow.

There were pleas to go slow toward legislation to make ABAG a limited regional government, and there were calls for action.

At the close of the meeting at the Windjammer Restaurant in Tiburon, Larkspur City Councilman Neil R. Brixon, council chairman, said, "It appears to be the wish of the majority to proceed slowly, thoroughly and steadily."

Larkspur Mayor Vaughn Marker warned against moving too quickly toward legislation. "Whatever we do, we'll have to live with a long time," he said.

Marker said he was afraid that cities will be asked to vote tomorrow on resolutions they are not prepared to vote upon.

ACTION URGED

Novato Councilman William Jack Adams said: "We need to get something on the table. The important thing is to force the legislature to face this problem, and the way to do it is to put a proposal on the table."

San Rafael Councilman Charles W. Aby said he did not feel members of ABAG have "to act or react" to the regional government proposal "without a great deal of study." Problems exist, but "I don't think another layer of government is the solution," Aby said.

ABAG's goals and organization committee has recommended that ABAG be established as a regional agency in the fields of planning, refuse disposal, open space and parks and airport systems.

There also have been recommendations that its function be expanded to include housing, Bay pollution, water quality and Bay Area transportation.

CITY PROBLEMS

The cities also will have to consider proposals on the method of representation, bonding capacity, and the vote required for passage of bonds.

Marker said the cities have not had time to consider all the recommendations and "the possible injuries they might do. By threat of legislation in Sacramento, we shouldn't be scared, afraid, or forced into hasty action."

Mayor Edward Colthurst of Corte Madera said he objected to forming "another taxing agency without the consent of the people."

Sausalito Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin said Sausalito will request more time for study.

But Tiburon Councilman Gordon Strawbridge urged that there be action. "It's already too late," he said.

BELLI MISSES DATE

The councilmen entered into discussion of the ABAG proposal after San Francisco attorney Melvin Belli, the scheduled speaker, failed to appear. John C. Hoffmire, mayor of Tiburon, the host city, explained he was informed yesterday that Belli was in Los Angeles.

Bill Gordon, a KGO-TV personality of Sausalito, was called in to pinch-hit for Belli. He entertained with a humorous monologue and a few tricks on a yo-yo. Gordon is master of ceremonies of "Luau," a morning show.

POLICE DISTRICT

The council also urged Mill Valley Councilman Michael Wornum, a member of the city-county service committee, to keep pushing for creation of a county service area for police protection. Supervisors rejected the proposal by 3-1 vote Tuesday, with Peter H. Behr dissenting and William A. Gnoss absent.

The creation of a county service area would lift some of the cost of the sheriff's department from city taxpayers and increase the cost for those in unincorporated areas.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher of Corte Madera urged cities to enter into urban thoroughfare agreements with the county, which provide gasoline funds to the cities on a matching basis.

Under the proposed agreements, the allocations will not be made on a fixed formula as under the prior agreements, but will relate to road needs, Usher said.

Larkspur Councilman Earl O'Grady and Adams will attend a meeting of ABAG's executive committee tonight as representatives of Marin cities.

The next council meeting will be in Belvedere, Jan. 25.

India's Income Down

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's per capita national income fell by 5.9 per cent in the 1965-66 fiscal year, planning minister Ashoka Mehta announced. He said a major factor was the drought which crippled crop production and that there also was a decline in the growth of mining and manufacturing.

Reagan's Hold On Budget Draws Wrath Of Teachers

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan was under fire today from the California Federation of Teachers (CFT) for his hold-the-line budget policy.

CFT officials charged that the policy would be harmful to the state college system.

San Jose State College Prof. John G. Sperling, president of the AFL-CIO teachers' organization, said yesterday that the CFT would "do whatever is necessary to maintain quality in the system."

Necessary steps, he said, might include limiting enrollment to maintain existing student-teacher ratios or urging faculty members not to accept teaching assignments in larger classes.

Hutchinson said professors have an obligation to maintain educational quality. He added they would honor the obligation even at the cost of a "headon confrontation" with Reagan and the legislature.

The teachers would not hesitate "to dramatize the issues by demonstrating or taking to the picket line," he said.

Reports By Jan. 15

Marin County Grand Jury expects to have all committee reports completed by Jan. 15, foreman James S. Goodale said today following a meeting yesterday to work on the reports. Next meeting is Dec. 28.

Headlands Park Cash On Agenda For State

Development of Marin Headlands as a state park is on tomorrow's agenda of the State Park Commission, meeting in Palm Springs to consider proposed expenditure of $6 million under the Park Bond Act of 1964 and $5 million from the state's general fund.

The headlands are among 10 park bond projects in the state due for decision. Other items on the agenda are potential routes for a state parkway sustem and a report on the relation of fees and charges to costs within the park system.

NEW DISCOVERY RECOMMENDED by THOUSANDS OF DENTISTS

Water Pik® helps clean effectively for healthful care of teeth and gums

Water Pik Oral Hygiene Appliance, in conjunction with regular brushing and regular professional care, lets you clean your teeth and gums in a new way never before possible at home. Recommended by thousands of dentists. Now used by more than half a million people enthusiastically!

Why?
Because the Water Pik cleans in a refreshing new way—with a vigorous, pulsating jet stream of water. This Water Pik appliance now cleans hard-to-reach places your toothbrush may never even touch. Places which may often be left neglected between regular professional visits.

Who needs it?
Almost everyone. Because the Water Pik cleans, and cleanliness is the single, most important contribution you can make at home toward healthful care of teeth and gums.

How does it work?
What appears to be a steady, continuous stream of water is actually 20 separate spurts each second . . . with the unique ability to lift the gum margin which loosely surrounds each tooth—and sweep out loose bits of food trapped underneath, in pockets and crevices, and caught between the teeth. Assists in cleaning orthodontic appliances, fixed bridgework, and partial dentures. Individual jet tips. Easy to use. The Water Pik appliance is small, light, attractive. At leading retail stores everywhere. Available in Canada.

At the close of the meeting at the Windjammer Restaurant in Tiburon, Larkspur City Councilman Neil R. Brixon, council chairman, said, "It appears to be the wish of the majority to proceed slowly, thoroughly and steadily."

Larkspur Mayor Vaughn Marker warned against moving too quickly toward legislation. "Whatever we do, we'll have to live with a long time," he said.

Marker said he was afraid that cities will be asked to vote tomorrow on resolutions they are not prepared to vote upon.

ACTION URGED

Novato Councilman William Jack Adams said: "We need to get something on the table. The important thing is to force the legislature to face this problem, and the way to do it is to put a proposal on the table."

San Rafael Councilman Charles W. Aby said he did not feel members of ABAG have "to act or react" to the regional government proposal "without a great deal of study." Problems exist, but "I don't think another layer of government is the solution," Aby said.

ABAG's goals and organization committee has recommended that ABAG be established as a regional agency in the fields of planning, refuse disposal, open space and parks and airport systems.

There also have been recommendations that its function be expanded to include housing, Bay pollution, water quality and Bay Area transportation.

CITY PROBLEMS

The cities also will have to consider proposals on the method of representation, bonding capacity, and the vote required for passage of bonds.

Marker said the cities have not had time to consider all the recommendations and "the possible injuries they might do. By threat of legislation in Sacramento, we shouldn't be scared, afraid, or forced into hasty action."

Mayor Edward Colthurst of Corte Madera said he objected to forming "another taxing agency without the consent of the people."

Sausalito Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin said Sausalito will request more time for study.

But Tiburon Councilman Gordon Strawbridge urged that there be action. "It's already too late," he said.

BELLI MISSES DATE

The councilmen entered into discussion of the ABAG proposal after San Francisco attorney Melvin Belli, the scheduled speaker, failed to appear. John C. Hoffmire, mayor of Tiburon, the host city, explained he was informed yesterday that Belli was in Los Angeles.

Bill Gordon, a KGO-TV personality of Sausalito, was called in to pinch-hit for Belli. He entertained with a humorous monologue and a few tricks on a yo-yo. Gordon is master of ceremonies of "Luau," a morning show.

POLICE DISTRICT

The council also urged Mill Valley Councilman Michael Wornum, a member of the city-county service committee, to keep pushing for creation of a county service area for police protection. Supervisors rejected the proposal by 3-1 vote Tuesday, with Peter H. Behr dissenting and William A. Gnoss absent.

The creation of a county service area would lift some of the cost of the sheriff's department from city taxpayers and increase the cost for those in unincorporated areas.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher of Corte Madera urged cities to enter into urban thoroughfare agreements with the county, which provide gasoline funds to the cities on a matching basis.

Under the proposed agreements, the allocations will not be made on a fixed formula as under the prior agreements, but will relate to road needs, Usher said.

Larkspur Councilman Earl O'Grady and Adams will attend a meeting of ABAG's executive committee tonight as representatives of Marin cities.

The next council meeting will be in Belvedere, Jan. 25.

India's Income Down

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's per capita national income fell by 5.9 per cent in the 1965-66 fiscal year, planning minister Ashoka Mehta announced. He said a major factor was the drought which crippled crop production and that there also was a decline in the growth of mining and manufacturing.

Reagan's Hold On Budget Draws Wrath Of Teachers

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan was under fire today from the California Federation of Teachers (CFT) for his hold-the-line budget policy.

CFT officials charged that the policy would be harmful to the state college system.

San Jose State College Prof. John G. Sperling, president of the AFL-CIO teachers' organization, said yesterday that the CFT would "do whatever is necessary to maintain quality in the system."

Necessary steps, he said, might include limiting enrollment to maintain existing student-teacher ratios or urging faculty members not to accept teaching assignments in larger classes.

Hutchinson said professors have an obligation to maintain educational quality. He added they would honor the obligation even at the cost of a "headon confrontation" with Reagan and the legislature.

The teachers would not hesitate "to dramatize the issues by demonstrating or taking to the picket line," he said.

Reports By Jan. 15

Marin County Grand Jury expects to have all committee reports completed by Jan. 15, foreman James S. Goodale said today following a meeting yesterday to work on the reports. Next meeting is Dec. 28.

Headlands Park Cash On Agenda For State

Development of Marin Headlands as a state park is on tomorrow's agenda of the State Park Commission, meeting in Palm Springs to consider proposed expenditure of $6 million under the Park Bond Act of 1964 and $5 million from the state's general fund.

The headlands are among 10 park bond projects in the state due for decision. Other items on the agenda are potential routes for a state parkway sustem and a report on the relation of fees and charges to costs within the park system.

NEW DISCOVERY RECOMMENDED by THOUSANDS OF DENTISTS

Water Pik® helps clean effectively for healthful care of teeth and gums

Water Pik Oral Hygiene Appliance, in conjunction with regular brushing and regular professional care, lets you clean your teeth and gums in a new way never before possible at home. Recommended by thousands of dentists. Now used by more than half a million people enthusiastically!

Why?
Because the Water Pik cleans in a refreshing new way—with a vigorous, pulsating jet stream of water. This Water Pik appliance now cleans hard-to-reach places your toothbrush may never even touch. Places which may often be left neglected between regular professional visits.

Who needs it?
Almost everyone. Because the Water Pik cleans, and cleanliness is the single, most important contribution you can make at home toward healthful care of teeth and gums.

How does it work?
What appears to be a steady, continuous stream of water is actually 20 separate spurts each second . . . with the unique ability to lift the gum margin which loosely surrounds each tooth—and sweep out loose bits of food trapped underneath, in pockets and crevices, and caught between the teeth. Assists in cleaning orthodontic appliances, fixed bridgework, and partial dentures. Individual jet tips. Easy to use. The Water Pik appliance is small, light, attractive. At leading retail stores everywhere. Available in Canada.

Bungling Safecrackers Both Fail, Succeed

Amateurish safecrackers struck twice in Marin County, yesterday and today, making off with $650 from Santa Venetia Junior High School but failing to open a second safe in Point Reyes Station post office.

Sheriff's deputies said both attempts were crude, and could be by the same burglars.

The school at 177 North San Pedro Road was by prying a front door. The intruders then entered the main office, knocked the knob off a six-foot floor safe door, but had to cut off the double door hinges to remove the door.

Principal George Yertson said the burglary was discovered this morning. He said $650 in cash and checks was taken.

Deputies said a screwdriver used to pry the front door and a pair of gloves were discarded by the burglars outside the door.

At the Point Reyes Station Post Office, in the Grandi Co. building, burglars forced a rear window to enter, they battered the dial knob off a four-foot safe in an unsuccessful attempt to crack it, officers said.

LBJ Reported Ready For Extended Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is seeking in Christmas truce proposals a new opening for talks with the Communists on ending the war in Vietnam.

Johnson made known through a White House comment last night that he was ready to discuss an extended cease-fire in Vietnam, including a freeze on troop reinforcements "if the other side is responsive."

When press secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked whether that meant the United States was ready to talk over with the other side in the war the specific issues of an extended cease-fire and a "stand fast" by both sides he replied, "Yes."

Behind this new White House move lies a double purpose strategy, reflecting some guarded speculation among top officials for peace talks of much broader significance.

One major purpose behind the President's willingness to have discussions on the length and conditions of a cease-fire, therefore, is to find out whether the Communist side is willing to exchange views directly or indirectly on any subject.

The second apparent purpose of the President's strategy is to make certain that the United States does not show signs of lagging in developing peace possibilities, however slender.

Opposition to an extended cease-fire was expressed yesterday by Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., who recently returned from an inspection trip to South Vietnam. He said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U. S. commander in Vietnam, and South Vietnamese officials also oppose lengthening the holiday cease-fires.

The White House statement was prompeted by a proposal by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that the presently planned brief holiday truces be extended to a single cease-fire lasting just short of two months.

The Communists and the United States and its allies already have set one 48-hour truce for the period of Dec. 24-26 and another 48-hour truce for Dec. 31-Jan. 2.

Russia Boosts Its Defense Budget To $1.22 Billion

MOSCOW (AP) — Accusing the United States of "criminal aggression in Vietnam," the Soviet government today announced an increase in its defense spending for 1967 of 1.1 billion rubles — $1.22 billion at the official exchange rate — or 8 per cent more than the 1966 figure.

Finance Minister Vasily F. Garbuzov announced a defense budget next year of 14.5 billion rubles. The announced figure for 1966 was 13.4 billion rubles.

Western experts believe the announced defense spending figure is only about half the total Soviet defense expenditure in any one year, and that the rest of the military funds are hidden in other parts of the budget.

Defense spending by the United States in the current fiscal year ending next June 30, originally budgeted at $58.5 billion, is now expected to run around $67 to $68 billion. There has been no indication whether defense outlays in the following fiscal year will be higher or lower than that.

Addressing the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's rubber-stamp Parliament, Garbuzov blamed what he called the aggressive actions of U.S. imperialist circles for the defense boost. He said that due to U.S. policy "the international situation is aggravated and the danger of a new war is increased."

"The Soviet Union, devoted to its international duty, rendered and will render all-around support to the heroic Vietnamese people fighting for their freedom and independence," he added.

He did not mention Red China. Informed sources here believe, however, that China has become a major concern of Soviet military men and one reason for greater defense spending.

extends across the Red River into the Hanoi limits only two miles from the home of President Ho Chi Minh was hit by explosives during Tuesday's raid. U.S. officials said the bridge may have been hit by exploding surface-to-air (SAM) missiles.

The implication was that a SAM might have misfired, fallen back on the bridge and exploded, damaging two spans.

Privately, U.S. sources left open the possibility that some bombs might have dropped on civilians by accident. State Dept. press officer Robert J. McCloskey said he wanted to "be very careful about making any misstatements — statements which might tend to confirm or deny matters on which we are uncertain."

On the political front South Vietnam's constituent assembly voted overwhelmingly today to create a civilian government headed by a president to be chosen directly in a nationwide general election.

The type of government to be formed next year is the most important part of the constitution now being written by the 117 assembly members.

The assembly approved the proposal to have a president head the new government by a vote of 107 to 5 with five abstentions.

CHESTER WALLS

Youngster Discovers Stolen Cash

A purse, taken from a Mill Valley woman Monday in a strong-arm robbery, was found yesterday on Tamalpais High School grounds by an Independent-Journal newspaper boy—all its contents intact, including $75 in cash.

Chester Walls, 12, an eighth grade student at Edna Maguire School, was delivering the evening paper, accompanied by his 6-year-old brother, Robert, and had cut across the high school grounds when he came upon the purse close to Almonte Boulevard.

The purse was taken from Della DeMoss of 43 Midway Avenue in the Safeway Store parking lot at Miller Avenue and Camino Alto by two youths who knocked her to the ground.

Chester took the wallet to his home at 241 California Avenue, and turned it over to his father, Chester E. Walls, who promptly relayed the good news to Mrs. DeMoss at the Seven Seas Restaurant in Sausalito, where she works.

Mrs. DeMoss called Mr. and Mrs. Walls "wonderful parents to raise their boys like that." In addition to a cash award to Chester and Robert, Mrs. DeMoss said, she is inviting the two boys, their two brothers and their parents to dinner at the Seven Seas.

TUNNEL

mining will continue at the north end although "the pressure of earth above is greater than anticipated and recent heavy rainfall has created extreme and unexpected difficulties."

Reconstruction has been further complicated, according to the railroad, by "subterranean water . . . flowing into the tunnel in substantial volume, creating a mud problem."

The request for deadline extension contained a pledge by Northwestern that "work will continue on the tunnel and we'll proceed with all dispatch. Our goal will be to promptly complete restoration . . . with due regard to safety and the problems involved."

Youths Drop Engine During Canal Chase

Norman L. Shepley heard a noise in the dock area behind his 400 Canal Street apartment at 9:45 p.m. yesterday and looked out to see three teen-age boys stealing an outboard engine from a dinghy.

Shepley shouted and gave chase, but the boys, lugging the motor with them, outran him. However, they dropped and damaged the motor some 50 yards away, San Rafael police said.

Stolen Gun Found

Los Angeles police yesterday recovered a .22-caliber automatic stolen March 22 from Jay C. Smallridge, 259 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, police said. The automatic was found in a storm drain in Los Angeles.

LABOR CLASS WOE; TEACHER JOINS STRIKE

There'll be a slight delay in completion of a course in collective bargaining sponsored by the Marin County Labor Council. The teacher went on strike.

Final class of the special extension course in Painters Hall at the San Rafael Labor Temple was scheduled last week. But it fell just at the time that teaching assistants at University of California who are members of the American Federation of Teachers were on strike in support of a student movement.

William Rentfro of the U.C. Institute of Industrial Relations, teacher of the course, was among those striking. So, he notified county labor officials, he couldn't teach the class.

When it will be completed—and the union officials who attended given diplomas in negotiating — remained undetermined today.

PARKING

"bells would ring and lights would flash, and the turn-off would be physically closed off." Tourists then would be diverted further north on the freeway to the Rodeo Avenue and Waldo Point exchanges.

Some system might be devised, perhaps by issuing stickers, to allow residents to get by the barriers on peak traffic days, he suggested hopefully.

However, Faustman discounted making some streets one-way during peak traffic hours as "too confusing and inconvenient."

Bridgeway also would be closed on peak traffic days north of downtown, perhaps at Napa Street, under Faustman's plan.

His plan assumed the state will complete the exchange at Rodeo Avenue, and that a four-lane road will be built from the interchange down the hill to Bridgeway. The Waldo Point interchange also will have to be improved, he said.

Faustman reported that peak traffic congestion, "when all hell breaks loose," occurs on 83 days of the year.

Curbside and off-street parking now is available downtown for 1,345 cars, he told commissioners, thus his proposed 1,500-car lot would more than double the present parking capacity.

He also endorsed a proposal by the "701" consultant, William E. Spangle Jr., for a two-level depressed parking lot for 380 cars on the city lot north of Bank of America. "If you do not double-deck the lot, you are in trouble for your average week day once you lose the present parking behind Vina Del Mar Plaza," he cautioned. Expansion of the plaza is part of the waterfront plan.

Meeting Cancelled

Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission's meeting tonight has been cancelled. Next meeting of the commission will be on Jan.5 at 8 p. m. at City Hall, announced secretary Louis Brunini.

OBITUARIES

Henry M. Smalley Dies At 59

Henry M. Smalley, 59, a house painter of 715 Del Mar, Novato, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Houston, Tex., he moved to Marin County with his parents while still a small boy. He had lived in Fairfax and Novato.

He was a member of Fairfax Lodge 556, Free and Accepted Masons, and Painters' Union Local 83.

He is survived by his wife, Helen M. Smalley of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Beverly Wallace of Petaluma and Mrs. June C. Coffing of Los Angeles, and seven grandchildren.

Masonic funeral services will be conducted by Fairfax Lodge at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato. Inurnment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park in Petaluma.

EDWARD M. BURKE

Edward M. Burke, administrative assistant at Terra Linda Valley Hospital since it opened in 1963, died at the hospital, now owned by Kaiser Foundation, after a long illness yesterday. He was 56.

Burke, a native and lifetime resident of San Rafael, was the son of the late Michael and Ida Burke. His father owned a San Rafael furniture business and was a Marin County supervisor in the early 1920s.

Burke attended St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco and University of San Francisco. He was a member of the USF Alumni Assn. and El Retiro Retreat in Los Gatos.

He serves as a volunteer stretcher bearer in Lourdes, France, for about two years before joining Terra Linda Valley Hospital. He worked there until becoming ill about a month ago.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9 a.m. Saturday at St. Isabella's Church in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

IRENE E. THOMAS

Irene E. Thomas of San Bruno, mother of Gary W. Thomas of San Rafael, Marin County deputy district attorney, died in a South San Francisco hospital yesterday after a long illness. She was 61 years old.

Mrs. Thomas was a native of Great Falls, Mont., and had lived in California 25 years.

She is survived by her son; a daughter, Mrs. William C. Jordan of San Bruno; three sisters, Mrs. Frances Berg and Mrs. Carl Rassmussen, both of Yuma, Ariz., and Mrs. Gertrude Seifert of Great Falls; and a brother, James Ross, also living out of the state.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Robert's Church, San Bruno. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the W. C. Lasswell and Co. Mortuary in Daly City.

LOUIS FERRETTI

Funeral for Louis L. Ferretti of San Rafael will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

A 21-year civil service employee, Ferretti was employed as a draftsman at Hamilton Air Force Base. A native of San Francisco, he was 42.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Whearty of San Rafael. His home was at 62 Prospect Drive, San Rafael.

FRANK M. COLEMAN

Funeral for Frank M. Coleman, 62, father of James F. Coleman of Mill Valley, was scheduled this afternoon at Daphne's San Francisco Funeral Service.

The elder Coleman, retired superintendent of buildings and grounds at San Francisco General Hospital, died yesterday after an illness of several months.

He worked for the hospital from 1954 until last April, and earlier was employed from 1939 to 1954 by the San Francisco public schools. He was born Aug. 19, 1904, in Portland, Ore.

He was a member of Local 39 of the Operating Engineers Union.

Surviving are his wife, Doris, at the family home in San Francisco; his son; a daughter, Mrs. Betty M. Merritt of Daily City; two brothers, Timothy J. and James M. Coleman, and a sister, Mrs. Mary C. Maucieri of New York.

RICHARD WHORF

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Actor-director Richard Whorf, who distinguished himself on Broadway and lately directed such television favorites as "Gunsmoke" and "Beverly Hillbillies," died yesterday in a hospital after a heart attack.

Bungling Safecrackers Both Fail, Succeed

Amateurish safecrackers struck twice in Marin County, yesterday and today, making off with $650 from Santa Venetia Junior High School but failing to open a second safe in Point Reyes Station post office.

Sheriff's deputies said both attempts were crude, and could be by the same burglars.

The school at 177 North San Pedro Road was by prying a front door. The intruders then entered the main office, knocked the knob off a six-foot floor safe door, but had to cut off the double door hinges to remove the door.

Principal George Yertson said the burglary was discovered this morning. He said $650 in cash and checks was taken.

Deputies said a screwdriver used to pry the front door and a pair of gloves were discarded by the burglars outside the door.

At the Point Reyes Station Post Office, in the Grandi Co. building, burglars forced a rear window to enter, they battered the dial knob off a four-foot safe in an unsuccessful attempt to crack it, officers said.

LBJ Reported Ready For Extended Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is seeking in Christmas truce proposals a new opening for talks with the Communists on ending the war in Vietnam.

Johnson made known through a White House comment last night that he was ready to discuss an extended cease-fire in Vietnam, including a freeze on troop reinforcements "if the other side is responsive."

When press secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked whether that meant the United States was ready to talk over with the other side in the war the specific issues of an extended cease-fire and a "stand fast" by both sides he replied, "Yes."

Behind this new White House move lies a double purpose strategy, reflecting some guarded speculation among top officials for peace talks of much broader significance.

One major purpose behind the President's willingness to have discussions on the length and conditions of a cease-fire, therefore, is to find out whether the Communist side is willing to exchange views directly or indirectly on any subject.

The second apparent purpose of the President's strategy is to make certain that the United States does not show signs of lagging in developing peace possibilities, however slender.

Opposition to an extended cease-fire was expressed yesterday by Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., who recently returned from an inspection trip to South Vietnam. He said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U. S. commander in Vietnam, and South Vietnamese officials also oppose lengthening the holiday cease-fires.

The White House statement was prompted by a proposal by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that the presently planned brief holiday truces be extended to a single cease-fire lasting just short of two months.

The Communists and the United States and its allies already have set one 48-hour truce for the period of Dec. 24-26 and another 48-hour truce for Dec. 31-Jan. 2.

Russia Boosts Its Defense Budget To $1.22 Billion

MOSCOW (AP) — Accusing the United States of "criminal aggression in Vietnam," the Soviet government today announced an increase in its defense spending for 1967 of 1.1 billion rubles — $1.22 billion at the official exchange rate — or 8 per cent more than the 1966 figure.

Finance Minister Vasily F. Garbuzov announced a defense budget next year of 14.5 billion rubles. The announced figure for 1966 was 13.4 billion rubles.

Western experts believe the announced defense spending figure is only about half the total Soviet defense expenditure in any one year, and that the rest of the military funds are hidden in other parts of the budget.

Defense spending by the United States in the current fiscal year ending next June 30, originally budgeted at $58.5 billion, is now expected to run around $67 to $68 billion. There has been no indication whether defense outlays in the following fiscal year will be higher or lower than that.

Addressing the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's rubber-stamp Parliament, Garbuzov blamed what he called the aggressive actions of U.S. imperialist circles for the defense boost. He said that due to U.S. policy "the international situation is aggravated and the danger of a new war is increased."

"The Soviet Union, devoted to its international duty, rendered and will render all-around support to the heroic Vietnamese people fighting for their freedom and independence," he added.

He did not mention Red China. Informed sources here believe, however, that China has become a major concern of Soviet military men and one reason for greater defense spending.

extends across the Red River into the Hanoi limits only two miles from the home of President Ho Chi Minh was hit by explosives during Tuesday's raid. U.S. officials said the bridge may have been hit by exploding surface-to-air (SAM) missiles.

The implication was that a SAM might have misfired, fallen back on the bridge and exploded, damaging two spans.

Privately, U.S. sources left open the possibility that some bombs might have dropped on civilians by accident. State Dept. press officer Robert J. McCloskey said he wanted to "be very careful about making any misstatements — statements which might tend to confirm or deny matters on which we are uncertain."

On the political front South Vietnam's constituent assembly voted overwhelmingly today to create a civilian government headed by a president to be chosen directly in a nationwide general election.

The type of government to be formed next year is the most important part of the constitution now being written by the 117 assembly members.

The assembly approved the proposal to have a president head the new government by a vote of 107 to 5 with five abstentions.

CHESTER WALLS

Youngster Discovers Stolen Cash

A purse, taken from a Mill Valley woman Monday in a strong-arm robbery, was found yesterday on Tamalpais High School grounds by an Independent-Journal newspaper boy—all its contents intact, including $75 in cash.

Chester Walls, 12, an eighth grade student at Edna Maguire School, was delivering the evening paper, accompanied by his 6-year-old brother, Robert, and had cut across the high school grounds when he came upon the purse close to Almonte Boulevard.

The purse was taken from Della DeMoss of 43 Midway Avenue in the Safeway Store parking lot at Miller Avenue and Camino Alto by two youths who knocked her to the ground.

Chester took the wallet to his home at 241 California Avenue, and turned it over to his father, Chester E. Walls, who promptly relayed the good news to Mrs. DeMoss at the Seven Seas Restaurant in Sausalito, where she works.

Mrs. DeMoss called Mr. and Mrs. Walls "wonderful parents to raise their boys like that." In addition to a cash award to Chester and Robert, Mrs. DeMoss said, she is inviting the two boys, their two brothers and their parents to dinner at the Seven Seas.

TUNNEL

mining will continue at the north end although "the pressure of earth above is greater than anticipated and recent heavy rainfall has created extreme and unexpected difficulties."

Reconstruction has been further complicated, according to the railroad, by "subterranean water . . . flowing into the tunnel in substantial volume, creating a mud problem."

The request for deadline extension contained a pledge by Northwestern that "work will continue on the tunnel and we'll proceed with all dispatch. Our goal will be to promptly complete restoration . . . with due regard to safety and the problems involved."

Youths Drop Engine During Canal Chase

Norman L. Shepley heard a noise in the dock area behind his 400 Canal Street apartment at 9:45 p.m. yesterday and looked out to see three teen-age boys stealing an outboard engine from a dinghy.

Shepley shouted and gave chase, but the boys, lugging the motor with them, outran him. However, they dropped and damaged the motor some 50 yards away, San Rafael police said.

Stolen Gun Found

Los Angeles police yesterday recovered a .22-caliber automatic stolen March 22 from Jay C. Smallridge, 259 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, police said. The automatic was found in a storm drain in Los Angeles.

LABOR CLASS WOE; TEACHER JOINS STRIKE

There'll be a slight delay in completion of a course in collective bargaining sponsored by the Marin County Labor Council. The teacher went on strike.

Final class of the special extension course in Painters Hall at the San Rafael Labor Temple was scheduled last week. But it fell just at the time that teaching assistants at University of California who are members of the American Federation of Teachers were on strike in support of a student movement.

William Rentfro of the U.C. Institute of Industrial Relations, teacher of the course, was among those striking. So, he notified county labor officials, he couldn't teach the class.

When it will be completed—and the union officials who attended given diplomas in negotiating — remained undetermined today.

PARKING

"bells would ring and lights would flash, and the turn-off would be physically closed off." Tourists then would be diverted further north on the freeway to the Rodeo Avenue and Waldo Point exchanges.

Some system might be devised, perhaps by issuing stickers, to allow residents to get by the barriers on peak traffic days, he suggested hopefully.

However, Faustman discounted making some streets one-way during peak traffic hours as "too confusing and inconvenient."

Bridgeway also would be closed on peak traffic days north of downtown, perhaps at Napa Street, under Faustman's plan.

His plan assumed the state will complete the exchange at Rodeo Avenue, and that a four-lane road will be built from the interchange down the hill to Bridgeway. The Waldo Point interchange also will have to be improved, he said.

Faustman reported that peak traffic congestion, "when all hell breaks loose," occurs on 83 days of the year.

Curbside and off-street parking now is available downtown for 1,345 cars, he told commissioners, thus his proposed 1,500-car lot would more than double the present parking capacity.

He also endorsed a proposal by the "701" consultant, William E. Spangle Jr., for a two-level depressed parking lot for 380 cars on the city lot north of Bank of America. "If you do not double-deck the lot, you are in trouble for your average week day once you lose the present parking behind Vina Del Mar Plaza," he cautioned. Expansion of the plaza is part of the waterfront plan.

Meeting Cancelled

Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission's meeting tonight has been cancelled. Next meeting of the commission will be on Jan.5 at 8 p. m. at City Hall, announced secretary Louis Brunini.

OBITUARIES

Henry M. Smalley Dies At 59

Henry M. Smalley, 59, a house painter of 715 Del Mar, Novato, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Houston, Tex., he moved to Marin County with his parents while still a small boy. He had lived in Fairfax and Novato.

He was a member of Fairfax Lodge 556, Free and Accepted Masons, and Painters' Union Local 83.

He is survived by his wife, Helen M. Smalley of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Beverly Wallace of Petaluma and Mrs. June C. Coffing of Los Angeles, and seven grandchildren.

Masonic funeral services will be conducted by Fairfax Lodge at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato. Inurnment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park in Petaluma.

EDWARD M. BURKE

Edward M. Burke, administrative assistant at Terra Linda Valley Hospital since it opened in 1963, died at the hospital, now owned by Kaiser Foundation, after a long illness yesterday. He was 56.

Burke, a native and lifetime resident of San Rafael, was the son of the late Michael and Ida Burke. His father owned a San Rafael furniture business and was a Marin County supervisor in the early 1920s.

Burke attended St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco and University of San Francisco. He was a member of the USF Alumni Assn. and El Retiro Retreat in Los Gatos.

He serves as a volunteer stretcher bearer in Lourdes, France, for about two years before joining Terra Linda Valley Hospital. He worked there until becoming ill about a month ago.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9 a.m. Saturday at St. Isabella's Church in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

IRENE E. THOMAS

Irene E. Thomas of San Bruno, mother of Gary W. Thomas of San Rafael, Marin County deputy district attorney, died in a South San Francisco hospital yesterday after a long illness. She was 61 years old.

Mrs. Thomas was a native of Great Falls, Mont., and had lived in California 25 years.

She is survived by her son; a daughter, Mrs. William C. Jordan of San Bruno; three sisters, Mrs. Frances Berg and Mrs. Carl Rassmussen, both of Yuma, Ariz., and Mrs. Gertrude Seifert of Great Falls; and a brother, James Ross, also living out of the state.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Robert's Church, San Bruno. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the W. C. Lasswell and Co. Mortuary in Daly City.

LOUIS FERRETTI

Funeral for Louis L. Ferretti of San Rafael will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

Ferretti died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack.

A 21-year civil service employee, Ferretti was employed as a draftsman at Hamilton Air Force Base. A native of San Francisco, he was 42.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Whearty of San Rafael. His home was at 62 Prospect Drive, San Rafael.

FRANK M. COLEMAN

Funeral for Frank M. Coleman, 62, father of James F. Coleman of Mill Valley, was scheduled this afternoon at Daphne's San Francisco Funeral Service.

The elder Coleman, retired superintendent of buildings and grounds at San Francisco General Hospital, died yesterday after an illness of several months.

He worked for the hospital from 1954 until last April, and earlier was employed from 1939 to 1954 by the San Francisco public schools. He was born Aug. 19, 1904, in Portland, Ore.

He was a member of Local 39 of the Operating Engineers Union.

Surviving are his wife, Doris, at the family home in San Francisco; his son; a daughter, Mrs. Betty M. Merritt of Daily City; two brothers, Timothy J. and James M. Coleman, and a sister, Mrs. Mary C. Maucieri of New York.

RICHARD WHORF

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Actor-director Richard Whorf, who distinguished himself on Broadway and lately directed such television favorites as "Gunsmoke" and "Beverly Hillbillies," died yesterday in a hospital after a heart attack.

EDWARD M. MILLS
Publisher to be president

Mills Named President Of Chamber

Also elected were Peter W. Tibbetts, manager of the Southern Marin Exchange, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., first vice president, and Samuel W. Schneider, co-owner of Varney's Hardware, second vice president. Clyde E. Beasley, controller and personnel director of Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, was re-elected treasurer.

Directors appointed John D. Finn, public accountant, to the board to replace Jerry D. Carver, former manager of Mill Valley Food Mart, who has resigned. Finn will serve Carver's 1967-68 term.

Leonard S. Peck was appointed to arrange the chamber's annual dinner meeting and installation of officers, to be held early next year.

The board endorsed a $500,000 sewer bond measure proposed by the city for vote in the spring, and agreed to circulate petitions to consolidate the measure with the April school board election.

Father Accidentally Runs Over His Child

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Robin Nichols, 2, was killed yesterday afternoon when her father, Verne Nichols, 26, accidentally drove over her in his pickup truck in a driveway in front of their house trailer home.

Nichols' truck was being pushed by a friend's car. The child apparently had crawled under the truck while nobody was looking.

Business And Conservation Balance Cited

Marin County must have the right balance between conservation efforts and the development of business and light industry, according to Melvin J. Rupp, executive director of the Marin Property Owners Assn.

Rupp, addressing the annual dinner meeting of the Marin County Clearing House Assn. last night at Dominic's Restaurant, said Marin must remain beautiful—but it cannot remain isolated and untouched. He said unrealistic groups in the county oppose all types of development, forgetting the economic balance that must be maintained to pay for parks and recreation.

"Bees and business both have a place in Marin," he said. "Trees and lagoons enrich our lives, but so does commerce."

He urged the bankers to join civic groups which would help good local businesses to expand and also aid the county's ranches in their struggle for survival. Business groups, as such, are conspicuous by their absence at most government hearings and as a strong force in local politics, he said.

Wage Meeting On Sugar Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced today a public hearing in San Francisco Jan. 16 on the question of wage rates to be paid by producers of the 1967 sugar beets crop.

Producers who wish to qualify for payment under the government sugar stabilization program must pay wage rates not less than those determined to be fair and reasonable by the secretary of agriculture.

Six other meetings will be held in other sugar beet areas.

Mill Valley Women Artists Win Awards

Marjorie M. Horton of 22 Hillcrest Road, Mill Valley, has won the $50 Helen Critchett Memorial Award for her oil painting, "Woolworth's — Hot Turkey San," entered in the San Francisco Women Artists' annual exhibition, on view at the San Francisco Museum of Art through Jan. 15.

Elsie Lower Pomeroy of 22 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, won an honorable mention award for a watercolor entered in the same exhibition.

EDWARD M. MILLS
Publisher to be president

Mills Named President Of Chamber

Also elected were Peter W. Tibbetts, manager of the Southern Marin Exchange, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., first vice president, and Samuel W. Schneider, co-owner of Varney's Hardware, second vice president. Clyde E. Beasley, controller and personnel director of Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, was re-elected treasurer.

Directors appointed John D. Finn, public accountant, to the board to replace Jerry D. Carver, former manager of Mill Valley Food Mart, who has resigned. Finn will serve Carver's 1967-68 term.

Leonard S. Peck was appointed to arrange the chamber's annual dinner meeting and installation of officers, to be held early next year.

The board endorsed a $500,000 sewer bond measure proposed by the city for vote in the spring, and agreed to circulate petitions to consolidate the measure with the April school board election.

Father Accidentally Runs Over His Child

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Robin Nichols, 2, was killed yesterday afternoon when her father, Verne Nichols, 26, accidentally drove over her in his pickup truck in a driveway in front of their house trailer home.

Nichols' truck was being pushed by a friend's car. The child apparently had crawled under the truck while nobody was looking.

Business And Conservation Balance Cited

Marin County must have the right balance between conservation efforts and the development of business and light industry, according to Melvin J. Rupp, executive director of the Marin Property Owners Assn.

Rupp, addressing the annual dinner meeting of the Marin County Clearing House Assn. last night at Dominic's Restaurant, said Marin must remain beautiful—but it cannot remain isolated and untouched. He said unrealistic groups in the county oppose all types of development, forgetting the economic balance that must be maintained to pay for parks and recreation.

"Bees and business both have a place in Marin," he said. "Trees and lagoons enrich our lives, but so does commerce."

He urged the bankers to join civic groups which would help good local businesses to expand and also aid the county's ranches in their struggle for survival. Business groups, as such, are conspicuous by their absence at most government hearings and as a strong force in local politics, he said.

Wage Meeting On Sugar Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced today a public hearing in San Francisco Jan. 16 on the question of wage rates to be paid by producers of the 1967 sugar beets crop.

Producers who wish to qualify for payment under the government sugar stabilization program must pay wage rates not less than those determined to be fair and reasonable by the secretary of agriculture.

Six other meetings will be held in other sugar beet areas.

Mill Valley Women Artists Win Awards

Marjorie M. Horton of 22 Hillcrest Road, Mill Valley, has won the $50 Helen Critchett Memorial Award for her oil painting, "Woolworth's — Hot Turkey San," entered in the San Francisco Women Artists' annual exhibition, on view at the San Francisco Museum of Art through Jan. 15.

Elsie Lower Pomeroy of 22 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, won an honorable mention award for a watercolor entered in the same exhibition.

UNION BACKS HOFFA—Rank-and-file members of the Teamsters Union in Detroit hoist this sign in a tavern in support for their leader, James Hoffa, and anger at the Supreme Court. Hoffa was enroute to Detroit today to seek the halt of a proposed 24-hour transport strike. (AP Wirephoto)

Hoffa Orders His Union Back To Work

DETROIT (AP) —Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa today bluntly ordered rebellious rank-and-file demonstrators to return immediately to work and "don't take the law in your own hands."

Hoffa told more than 1,200 Teamsters, who staged a wildcat strike to protest the Supreme Court decision that may send the union chief to jail, that, "You must return to work.

"You took this action out of the emotions of your hearts," he said at a back-to-work meeting called hastily by Hoffa to cut short a planned 24-hour walkout of truck drivers.

He said if the Teamsters didn't return to their jobs "the TV and the newspapers will accuse you of defying the courts and it will be used against me."

After Hoffa snapped, "Meeting adjourned," the Teamsters forged out of their meeting room, mumbling, "go to work, go to work."

Earlier, they cheered lustily, waved signs and stood on chairs, showing their support of the Teamsters president.

Cavanagh had warned Hoffa, who was in Chicago on union business, that the proposed day-long refusal to work would cripple Detroit. Some 45,000 Teamsters work in and around the Motor City.

By daybreak, hundreds of Teamsters drivers failed to report for work in the Detroit area.

There were unconfirmed reports that other cities might be similarly struck, but truck traffic appeared normal today at major terminals in other states.

A group of 10 to 15 men at a Detroit terminal attacked Associated Press photographer Al Quinn and this reporter, smashing a camera and kicking dents in the side of Quinn's car in an attempt to confiscate a roll of film.

After a brief pummeling, in which Quinn was kicked several times, they let us go.

The Teamsters revolt erupted last night in what had been scheduled as a routine business meeting for Teamsters Local 299, Hoffa's home local.

A motion from the floor brought the 3,000 members at the meeting shouting and voting almost unanimously in favor of a 24-hour work stoppage, starting at midnight.

The Supreme Court ruling that angered the truckers upheld a jury tampering conviction and eight-year prison sentence given Hoffa in Chattanooga, Tenn., in connection with his trial in Nashville, Tenn., on conspiracy charges.

The walkout, while constituting an unauthorized work stoppage, apparently is compatible with Teamsters contracts, which usually forbid reprisals against wildcat strikes during the first 24 hours.

In Washington, a source close to Hoffa said the union leader wanted no part of the work stoppage because he was afraid it would hurt his case.

Hoffa discouraged suggestions from elsehwere in the country that more work stoppages be held, the source said.

Virginia Police Attempt To Halt Cross Burnings

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Virginia State Police began a crackdown on cross burnings day while Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton and the Virginia Ku Klux Klan prepared for six days of rallies.

Gov. Mills E. Godwin ordered police to begin studying records from across the state on the 79 illegal cross burnings this year.

The governor also said known members of the Klan may be watched by police in an attempt to put an end to illegal use of the fiery torches.

The Klan scheduled rallies in rural Chesterfield County abiut 20 miles south of Richmond for tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. Marshall R. Kornegay, Grand Dragon of the Virginia Klan, was to lead those.

Shelton, an Alabaman, planned to lead rallies at the same place next Tuesday, Wednesday and Trursday nights.

Godwin met with top law enforcement officials yesterday to draw plans for the harsher policy toward cross burnings. He said "a plan of joint action" came out of the two-hour conference.

Ike Enjoys A Good Breakfast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower started taking food by mouth today and "enjoyed a good breakfast," Walter Reed Army Hospital reported.

In a forenoon report on the general's progress since Monday's gall bladder surgery, the hospital said:

"Gen. Eisenhower continues to make satisfactory progress.

"He is still receiving no visitors other than members of his immediate family."

No details were given on the breakfast menu. Eisenhower has been up and about in his hospital room and hopes to be home for Christmas.

Coed Barber Keeping Busy

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Barb Phinney, 19, is the only girl barber on the University of Illinois campus.

"Customers are usually surprised when they first come in—but they're flattered when they walk out," she said.

She became a barber "because it seemed kind of different and a little exciting."

"It's very interesting work," she said, "and it's easy. I definitely think more women could do well in it."

Uric Acid Can Affect Youths' Ambition, Drive

CHICAGO (SS)—A high-school boy's ambition to go to college could be due to the amount of uric acid in his blood, a purely physiological phenomenon.

Three University of Michigan researchers report a study of 62 Pittsburgh, Pa., high school boys whom they followed through college, or into whatever environment they had chosen. The thing that set apart the boys who attended college from those who did not was not their intelligence alone but the fact that the college boys had significantly higher serum urate concentrations. Serum urate, which is the same as uric acid, is a waste product of the body's metabolism.

It has previously been pointed out by investigators that high uric acid levels are present in persons with gout. In this disease there is a precipitation of uric acid crystals in a joint, often the joint of a big toe.

Earlier studies that included girls were inconclusive, indicating that the effects of uric acid on behavior may only apply to males.

Governors See No Tax Sharing Plan Because Of Viet Financing

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP)—A majority of the nation's governors willing to state an opinion believe that a tax increase to finance the Vietnam war would eliminate any state - sharing of federal revenues.

Gov. William M. Guy, North Dakota Democrat who heads the National Governors' Conference opening here today, conceded in an interview he does not expect the tax-sharing plan to go into effect until the Vietnam war, with its drain on the national budget, is ended.

This governors' interim conference, at a summer resort hotel, was called primarily on the insistence of Michigan Gov. George W. Romney. He said he had not been able to report fully at last July's governors' meeting in Los Angeles on his special committee's investigation of possible sharing of federal tax collections with states and local communities.

As a potential candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, Romney is suspected in some quarters of having a political gimmick going for him in this tax-sharing business.

An Associated Press canvass of the governors in advance of this meeting indicated many of those willing to respond felt that an increase in taxes to pay for the Vietnam war was almost inevitable.

But some respondents wanted spending cut first.

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, new chairman of the Republican Governors' Assn., said the first thing to do was cut government spending.

"I have the belief, though, that even with great restraint in spending in the effort to balance the budget, there will have to be new taxes," he said. "But there should be careful study in advance of the effect a tax increase might have on the economy."

Others in the cut-spending category included:

South Carolina Democrat Robert E. McNair — He hopes there can be sufficient reduction in nonessential expenditures to offset the Vietnam cost. "However, if it can't be done, the tax increase would be the only answer because we cannot increase the deficit."

Hawaii Democrat John A. Burns — Some budget balancing steps must be taken to combat inflation, but it is not unreasonable "that some share of the Vietnam war cost must be born by future generations."

Five other respondents said they thought taxes probably would be increased: Democratic Govs. Jack M. Campbell of New Mexico, Calvin L. Rampton of Utah and Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, and Republicans Gov. Clifford T. Hansen of Wyoming and Gov.-elect Tom McCall of Oregon.

Vitamin Intake Just Too Much

CHICAGO (SS) — There is such a thing as too much vitamin D, even for arthritis sufferers.

Vitamin D has been used in the treatment of arthritis, allergy, rickets, psoriasis, acne, trichinosis (the disease from larvae of underdone pork) and calcium deficiency.

Dr. Frank E. Taylor of Charlottesville, Va., reports the case of a 41-year-old patient at Martha Jefferson Hospital who was able to get large doses of vitamin D without a prescription for 12 years.

At no time was he warned of the possible harmful effects of the drug. After taking 200,000 units of the vitamin a day to help his arthritis, we was admitted to the hospital with a number of serious complications, including kidney and bladder deposits.

HAVE A CUP OF CHRISTMAS COFFEE CHEER!

HOT MOCHA JAVA

4½ measuring cups hot cocoa

Combine equal quantities coffee and cocoa. Serve hot, but do not boil. Pour into cups or mugs and top with marshmallows. Makes 12 servings.

TURKISH COFFEE

In the Near East, coffee is served in tiny cups about the size of an eggshell. Each guest is sure to get his share of the creamy foam formed by the coffee. In Arabic, this is called "the face of the coffee"—and you lose face if you serve coffee without it!

1½ cups water 4 teaspoons sugar
4 tablespoons finely pulverized coffee

Measure water into heavy saucepan. Add sugar and bring to a boil. Stir in coffee. Bring to a boil. Allow brew to froth up 3 times, then remove from heat. Add a few drops of cold water. Spoon some of the foam into each cup and pour in the coffee. Makes 4 demitasse servings.

VIENNESE COFFEE

The Viennese enjoy many versions of their world-renowned coffee. They may drink it spiced, with the addition of little or much hot milk, or plain, but always with a dritt of Schlagober—which is Viennese for whipped cream. Here's the simplest recipe:

Serum urate, which is the same as uric acid, is a waste product of the body's metabolism.

It has previously been pointed out by investigators that high uric acid levels are present in persons with gout. In this disease there is a precipitation of uric acid crystals in a joint, often the joint of a big toe.

Earlier studies that included girls were inconclusive, indicating that the effects of uric acid on behavior may only apply to males.

HAVE A CUP OF CHRISTMAS COFFEE CHEER!

HOT MOCHA JAVA

4½ measuring cups hot coffee
4½ measuring cups hot cocoa

Combine equal quantities coffee and cocoa. Serve hot, but do not boil. Pour into cups or mugs and top with marshmallows. Makes 12 servings.

TURKISH COFFEE

In the Near East, coffee is served in tiny cups about the size of an eggshell. Each guest is sure to get his share of the creamy foam formed by the coffee. In Arabic, this is called "the face of the coffee"—and you lose face if you serve coffee without it!

1½ cups water 4 teaspoons sugar
4 tablespoons finely pulverized coffee

Measure water into heavy saucepan. Add sugar and bring to a boil. Stir in coffee. Bring to a boil. Allow brew to froth up 3 times, then remove from heat. Add a few drops of cold water. Spoon some of the foam into each cup and pour in the coffee. Makes 4 demitasse servings.

VIENNESE COFFEE

The Viennese enjoy many versions of their world-renowned coffee. They may drink it spiced, with the addition of little or much hot milk, or plain, but always with a dritt of Schlagober—which is Viennese for whipped cream. Here's the simplest recipe:

Jackie Kennedy Prefers 'Horrible' Trial To Publication Of Volume

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jacqueline Kennedy would rather endure a "horrible" trial than live with the official book about her husband's assassination as written. Its publisher insists that blocking its publication would be censoring history.

The Kennedy family handpicked William Manchester to set down the events of November, 1963. Mrs. Kennedy charges the historian with breach of contract and within a few days plans to file a suit against Manchester, Harper and Row Publishers, Inc., and Look magazine, which bought the serialization rights.

Her attorney, former Federal Judge Simon Rifkind, said yesterday he would ask a State Supreme Court for an injunction restraining the publication of "The Death of a President" and its serialization, scheduled to appear in Look starting Jan. 10.

"As horrible as a trial will be, it now seems clear that my only redress is to ask the courts to enforce my rights and postpone publication until the minimum limits of my family's privacy can be protected," Mrs. Kennedy said in a rare statement issued at her Fifth Avenue office.

William Attwood, editor in chief in all publications of Cowles Communications, Inc., which owns Look, announced the magazine's intention to begin its serialization on schedule Jan. 10.

"We feel strongly that it would be improper to withhold this significant document from the American people," said William Attwood, Look executive. "To do so would amount to a censorship of history."

Manchester, who had written a book about Kennedy based on interviews, was suggested to the family by Pierre Salinger, who had been President Kennedy's press secretary. Robert Kennedy, then the attorney general of the United States, announced the authorization for Manchester to write his book "in the interest of historical accuracy and to prevent distortion and sensationalism."

Believing the manuscript would be too painful, the Kennedys asked four friends to read it. They found Manchester had used sections of a 10-hour taped interview with the widow, intimate and emotional reminiscenses.

Informed sources said Mrs. Kennedy objects to statements in the manuscript concerning President Johnson which might backlash on the political future of Robert Kennedy, who has said he would not seek to block publication. Mrs. Kennedy described the book as "a premature account of the events of November, 1963, that is in part both tasteless and distorted."

"To the author and publishers this book will be just another transient chapter in their work, but my children and I will have to live with it for the rest of our lives," Mrs. Kennedy said.

New Chapter Of Optimist Club Started

The new Corte Madera Optimist Club today has a bell to ring, a charter to operate and gift checks to begin its youth help projects.

Optimist International and district officials formally chartered the new club last night in a dinner at Sabella's Restaurant, Alto. Thirty-five members of the new club and 100-plus other Marin Optimists and their wives, guests and out-of-county guests took part.

Optimist District Gov. Tarro Yomagami of San Francisco presented the charter. Albert Lordeaux, president of the Mill Valley Optimists who sponsored the new club, presented the traditional bell and gavel to the new club's president, Kenneth S. Garwick. Other club paraphernalia was presented by Optimise officials from as far away as Dallas, Tex.

William Eberhart of Santa Rosa installed the club's officers, including Garwick, vice presidents H. M. Angel and Jim K. James, secretary-treasurer Stephen A. Cardoza and directors Charles O. Bradley, Robert G. Hollifield Sr., Jack J. Kelley, H. Don Fay, Donald R. Shill and Stuart A. Stevens.

The new club will meet each Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. in Gregory's Restaurant, Corte Madera.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — James O. Reimel, state director of alcoholic beverage control under Gov. Brown, said today he'll resign to accept a job with the liquor industry.

Reimel, 57, served in state government for 21 years and formerly was chief of investigation for the State Employment Department. A Democrat, Reimel was appointed to his present post, with a $22,500 annual salary, three years ago.

He said he is preparing a letter of resignation for Brown and Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan.

Reimel said he'll be executive secretary of the California Retail Liquor Dealers Institute, represents about 5,000 independent, off-sale liquor dealers.

Psychiatric Disorders Up In LSD Patients

Special to the I-J

LOS ANGELES — Of 70 patients seen at the UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute in a six-month period for serious LSD reactions, more than half had become psychotic or neurotic or had developed character disorders.

Drs. Thomas Ungerleider and Duke Fisher reported their experiences with the patients in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

All had obtained the drug from illicit sources. Seven were college students, six from vocational schools, and three were high school students. The rest were artists, housewives, businessmen or jobless.

Twenty-five needed psychiatric care in a hospital, 12 for more than a month. Symptoms — hallucinations, severe anxiety and depressions, confusion, suicidal tendencies and paranoia—often recurred six weeks to several months after taking the LSD, the physicians reported.

Noting the large number of serious side-effects from the drug, the UCLA psychiatrists suggested there might be many more reactions — serious or not — which are never brought to medical or psychiatric attention.

Since the 1950s, farm productivity has zoomed a spectacular 7.7 per cent a year, the United States Department of Agriculture reports.

HOW MANY SHILLINGS IN A DOLLAR

A bewildered London theater worker studies the money charts, after her bosses decided to get ready well in advance for Britain's plans to switch all money to the decimal system. NADER CRITICIZES FORD'S STATEMENT

Auto Critic Brands Report Extortion Over Severity Of New Safety Standards

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Auto safety critic Ralph Nader branded as "industrial extortion" today a warning from Henry Ford II that the auto industry might have to shut down production lines unless the government modifies its new safety standards.

Nader claimed that there was no reason why the automakers could not meet the 23 standards issued earlier this month for 1968 model cars.

But Ford, chairman of Ford Motor Co., thinks differently. He told newsmen in Detroit yesterday that many of the standards proposed by the new National Highway Safety Agency were "unreasonable, arbitrary and technically not feasible."

Ford was the first industry leader to speak out against the proposed standards. His reaction indicated the automakers may launch a major fight against them.

Nader, a lawyer and author of the best-selling "Unsafe At Any Speed," led the fight to impose safety standards on the auto industry. He reacted sharply to Ford's warning, saying, "if these standards are not feasible then Ford's engineers are incompetent."

The proposed standards were issued under the new auto safety law passed by Congres earlier this year. The automakers have until Jan. 3 to comment on the proposals; then, on Jan. 31, h te government will issue its final standards. All of the standards were based on features already in use on many cars.

Ford indicated that unless the standards presently proposed are changed, the auto industry will be unable to meet them and might be forced to shut down, throwing hundreds of thousands of auto workers out of jobs, and severely dislocating the economy of the entire nation.

He complained bitterly that the way Congress set up the highway safety act, not enough "lead time" is given t h e industry to meet standards.

Ford's bitter attack on the safety standards followed a prepared year-end statement in which the auto executive issued the most pessimistic forecast for new car sales in 1967 of any industry leader.

Young Laborer Is Shot To Death

OAKLAND (AP)—A 21-year-old laborer with a police record was shot fatally in the chest on an East Oakland street last night.

Residents said they heard an argument, three shots, then two persons drove off in a car.

Two persons were slain in a similar fashion in Richmond Saturday.

Mill Valley Zoning Administrator Begins

Mill Valley Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon, sitting yesterday for the first time as zoning administrator, issued variances to Kenneth Pratt, 7 Fairway Drive, to convert a non-conforming carport into a living room, and to Marvin Lundwall, 415 Molino Avenue, to extend and enclose a non-conforming porch.

Bragdon was empowered by a revised zoning ordinance adopted in October by the city council to issue variances. He will hear variance requests on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at 2 p.m. in the city council chambers in city hall.

School Children Play Santa Claus

A Marin City family with nine children will be able to give toys for all the children this year because the 28 students in an Isabel Cook sixth grade class in San Anselmo decided they would rather play Santa Claus than exchange gifts.

The students of Warren English's class collected $15, and the Toy Palace in San Rafael sold the students about $30 worth of toys for their $15, Glass reported.

A counselor in the Sausalito School District chose the family, with nine children ranging in age from 6 to 11 years, and will deliver the gifts next week.

Mill Valley Zoning Administrator Begins

Mill Valley Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon, sitting yesterday for the first time as zoning administrator, issued variances to Kenneth Pratt, 7 Fairway Drive, to convert a non-conforming carport into a living room, and to Marvin Lundwall, 415 Molino Avenue, to extend and enclose a non-conforming porch.

Bragdon was empowered by a revised zoning ordinance adopted in October by the city council to issue variances. He will hear variance requests on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at 2 p.m. in the city council chambers in city hall.

Young Laborer Is Shot To Death

OAKLAND (AP)—A 21-year-old laborer with a police record was shot fatally in the chest on an East Oakland street last night.

Residents said they heard an argument, three shots, then two persons drove off in a car.

Two persons were slain in a similar fashion in Richmond Saturday.

Abortion Lecture Finale Draws 60

Marin's first abortion lecture series ended last night at Star Hall in San Anselmo with 60 people listening to Patricia Maginnis's frank explanation of where and how to get abortions.

A total 300 Marin residents attended the three weekly lectures, and Miss Maginnis, San Francisco medical laboratory technologist, rated them among the most successful of dozens she's given throughout California since July.

Pickets paraded outside the class last night, augmented by some 30 Marin Catholic High School students, but Sister Claire, teaching nun who appeared outside the first class, was not present.

Dist. Atty. Bruce R. Bales said today he had received many inquiries about the legality of the classes.

"In my opinion this woman is not violating any criminal law, including section 276 of the Penal Code which requires a specific act of soliciting a particular pregnant person to secure an abortion," said Bales.

He said the same conclusions had been reached independently by district attorneys of the counties of San Francisco, Sacramento, Alameda, San Mateo, Santa Clara and Sonoma where similar abortion classes have been given.

Mrs. Fred Baumsteiger of San Anselmo, who heads the picketing group, had offered to sign a complaint against Miss Maginnis, said Sausalito attorney A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., but Bales refused to issue the complaint, saying he could find no violation.

Miss Maginnis said she was "disappointed" at not being arrested, since she has consistently sought a test case.

Macy's Acquires More Property

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Macy's Department Store has acquired an adjoining six-story building that gives it an entrance on Union Square.

Macy's said yesterday it had acquired a long-term lease to the Dohrmann Building.

Dohrmann's said no decision had been made on whether to reopen elsewhere in San Francisco or to go out of business.

Swedish Pair Meets In Kansas

BETHANY, Kan. (AP)—Two young natives of Sweden had never heard of each other until they came to this Kansas town—which was settled by Swedes—and learned they had the same names and birthdays.

Goran Lundberg, 18, learned about Goran Lundberg, 19, after reading his name in a newspaper story.

The younger Lundberg, a native of Nassjo, Sweden, had the meeting arranged by a professor at Bethany College where the older Lundberg, a native of Stockholm, is a student.

They had visited for some time before learning they had the same birthday—Sept. 25.

Young Lundberg is a high school student and both are in the United States on scholarships.

Sausalito Planners Approve Proposal To Ease Parking

Sausalito Planning Commission last night approved a proposal that would allow developers to substitute in-lieu payments for requested off-street parking spaces in commercial areas.

The proposal was made by the city's "701" planning consultant, William E. Spangle Jr., to ease the critical parking problem in the downtown waterfront area. Payments would go into a city fund reserved to build parking lots.

Still to be heard by the city council, the proposal would apply to new commercial developmentts, and to properties already developed if there were a change in use or extensive remodeling. The city council is expected next Tuesday to set a public hearing on the proposal.

Vote in favor was 5-3, vice chairman Robert L. Nissen and commissioners Hendrik J. Keizer and Mrs. Richard Phillips dissenting. Commissioner Roy Starbird was absent.

Nissen termed the proposal "an undue financial burden on the few for the benefit of the many." Commissioner Norman Murdoch, however, argued that it "increases the range of flexibility of alternatives available to the developer." The plan "will encourage development where it presently is hard to provide parking," commissioner George C. Hoffman added.

Spangle made a similar proposal in 1963 when his firm wrote the present zoning ordinance, but it was rejected by the city council.

The amount of the payment of each parking space would be set annually by the city council. The minimum cost per space, Spangle estimated, would be $2,000 to $2,500.

Warship Steams Under Gate Span

The guided missile light cruiser Oklahoma City steamed through Golden Gate at noon today, returning to the Bay Area after 32 months duty in the West Pacific.

The fighting ship participated in the Gulf of Tonkin action and in gunfire support missions for U.S. Marines in Vietnam. Her overseas home port was Yokosuka, Japan.

The cruiser will remain at Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard for a period of maintenance and leave for her officers and crew. The Oklahoma City is commanded by Capt. David H. Bagley, USN, of San Francisco, whose daughter, Marie Louise, is a sophomore at Dominican College in San Rafael.

Among the crew returning aboard the cruiser is Seaman James N. Kard of 55 Billou Street, San Rafael.

Fire Sweeps Half Block Of Reno, Destroys Hotel

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A fire swept through a half-block-long building near Reno's gambling casions yesterday, destroying a hotel and five businesses.

Fire Chief Wagner Sorensen said there were no major injuries. Several firemen suffered cuts and bruises.

Two young Canadians and several firemen helped evacuate the hotel's elderly residents and guests.

Flames broke out at 4 p.m. Sorensen said his men had it under control shortly after 6 p.m.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately known. There was no estimate of damage.

Destroyed were the 40-year-old Wyn Hotel; the Nevada Novelty Co., which operates gambling and vending machine routes; a cocktail lounge; a pool hall and news stand; a tailor shop, and a printing company.

Mine, Mill Work Is Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reports the output of the nation's mines, mills and factories declined during November for the second time in the last three months.

The Federal Reserve Board's newest index of industrial slowdown in the economy. The index dropped to 158.3 per cent production confirmed again the of the 1957-59 average last month, three-tenths of a point lower than October.

The drop in industrial production, coupled with a slowdown in the growth of personal income and declines in retail sales and wholesale prices, would appear to lessen the possibility of a tax increase next year to help fight inflation.

Filipinos trace their origins to about 3000 B.C., when the first immigrants came from Indonesia and Malaya.

Man Reported Killed On Dare

The woman was booked at San Mateo County Jail on a murder charge after her husband, George, 43, was stabbed in the heart with a steak knife Tuesday night.

Police said that the couple began drinking in their home and an argument developed.

"Finally, George said, 'If you hate me so much, why don't you kill me?'," officers quoted his wife as saying.

"So I did."

Fire Sweeps Half Block Of Reno, Destroys Hotel

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A fire swept through a half-block-long building near Reno's gambling casions yesterday, destroying a hotel and five businesses.

Fire Chief Wagner Sorensen said there were no major injuries. Several firemen suffered cuts and bruises.

Two young Canadians and several firemen helped evacuate the hotel's elderly residents and guests.

Flames broke out at 4 p.m. Sorensen said his men had it under control shortly after 6 p.m.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately known. There was no estimate of damage.

Destroyed were the 40-year-old Wyn Hotel; the Nevada Novelty Co., which operates gambling and vending machine routes; a cocktail lounge; a pool hall and news stand; a tailor shop, and a printing company.

Mine, Mill Work Is Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reports the output of the nation's mines, mills and factories declined during November for the second time in the last three months.

The Federal Reserve Board's newest index of industrial slowdown in the economy. The index dropped to 158.3 per cent production confirmed again the of the 1957-59 average last month, three-tenths of a point lower than October.

The drop in industrial production, coupled with a slowdown in the growth of personal income and declines in retail sales and wholesale prices, would appear to lessen the possibility of a tax increase next year to help fight inflation.

Filipinos trace their origins to about 3000 B.C., when the first immigrants came from Indonesia and Malaya.

Man Reported Killed On Dare

The woman was booked at San Mateo County Jail on a murder charge after her husband, George, 43, was stabbed in the heart with a steak knife Tuesday night.

Police said that the couple began drinking in their home and an argument developed.

"Finally, George said, 'If you hate me so much, why don't you kill me?'," officers quoted his wife as saying.

"So I did."

Water District Accepts Ross Offer To Buy Land

An offer by the Town of Ross to purchase Marin Municipal Water District land for a town picnic area near Phoenix Lake for $600 per acre was accepted yesterday by the water district board.

An appraisal for the district by John King of Petaluma showed that deed restrictions and zoning, which limit the 25 acres of land at the end of Lagunitas Road to recreational or open-space use, gave it no market value to an outside purchaser.

One condition of the district's agreement with Ross is that the land must be open to the public. The district will still have control over roads to its facilities at Phoenix Lake.

"I'm only sorry Crawford Greene couldn't know about this," said President William A. Marcus to Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., Ross town councilman. "He loved Ross, as you know, and was interested in this project." (Attorney A. Crawford Greene died Monday night at his home in Ross.)

Marcus was not ready to approve a request by Boy Scout Troop 33 of Mill Valley to install signs honoring the "crookedest railroad in the world" on Mount Tamalpais until conservation groups voice an opinion.

Other directors agreed to invite assistant scoutmaster Stanley Gallagher and "the conservation people" to meet with the board next Wednesday.

Marin Municipal Water District Board Also:

1. Accepted a low bid of $534.83 by Construction Services, San Francisco, for a vibratory tamper to compact sand. Only other bid was $551.20 by Ricker Machinery Co., Oakland.
2. Authorized Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger to purchase a new Wilde universal surveying transit for $1,720, and a hoist for the Nicasio fish trap for $410.
3. Heard Seeger report the district's storage tanks are up to 92 per cent capacity, with Bon Tempe and Lagunitas reservoirs still overflowing.
4. Called for bids to be opened next March 8, for sale of the district's corporation yard property in San Rafael.
5. Agreed to continue a California Disaster Office radio lease for $37.50 a month until the office moves to St. Helena.
6. Approved automatic wage increases and reclassifications for employees.
7. Adjourned until Dec. 21 at 1:30 p.m.

Charge To See Taj

AGRA, India (AP)—It's going to cost tourists to look at India's fabled Taj Mahal from now on. The Archaeological Survey decided to post a 20 paisa (2.6 cents) per head charge on visitors to the fabulous monument. But admission will be free on Fridays, in case you are on a tight budget.

Blackboard Phone Lectures

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—An electric "blackboard-by-wire" teaching system has sent voice communications and handwriting over telephone lines for a long-distance illustrated lecture.

The demonstration was sponsored by Purdue University and General Telephone and Electronics Corp.

James S. Miles, director of television at Purdue, said the system appears to have many applications in education, particularly for continuing education to sparsely populated areas distant from colleges or universities."

He said costs appear low enough to make such an effort capable of being done.

Village Back To Lanterns

CAIRO (AP) — Villagers of Albadary in Upper Egypt hardly emerged from the use of gas lanterns to enjoy the comfort of electricity, than red tape blacked out their happy village.

In less than a month the village was blacked out when the local council found out that contractors had not signed certain papers proving they had installed the electric power station.

Until the contractors sign the papers, which according to reports will take several months, the village will continue using gas lanterns.

Fire Escape Plunge Is Fatal

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — A man who, police say, was in the habit of visiting his girl friend by way of the fire escape, fell three stories to his death when he lost his footing last night.

Police said Ervin Bacote, 23, apparently slipped on the ice-coated platform as he was about to open the window.

Detectives said Hazel Rosewell, 23, looked out the window at 3:30 a.m. today and saw the body on the concrete pavement below.

Tiburon Ex-Official Says Effort 'Wasted'

A man who served on the Tiburon City Council during the city's first two years admitted today he considered the time "wasted and thrown away."

Fred C. Hannahs who, with two other councilmen, failed to get re-elected last April, said: "We did very little. But I think that dis-incorporation would be like throwing the baby out with the bathwater. It's going to work out."

CITY STAYS AWAY

Hannahs was on a panel of four discussing a proposal to dis-incorporate the City of Tiburon, today's topic on the Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program conducted by Kitty Oppenheimer.

Joining the discussion were Fred Mantegani, chairman of the committee to dis-incorporate; James Murray, attorney for the group and a member of the Tiburon Sanitary District Board, and Mrs. Mimi Berticevich, a member of the city's parks and recreation commission.

Mrs. Oppenheimer said Mayor John S. Hoffmire of Tiburon declined an invitation to attend the discussion or have someone represent the city officially.

Mantegani declared he had no political aspirations. "I also want it understood I am not trying to grind an axe for anyone in particular," he said." It is a matter of cents and dollars."

DELAYS CITED

He complained that after two years, the city had not provided what it had been promised: Its own planning and police departments.

"It is said it is cheaper to contract out for these services . . . Then let's go back to the County of Marin," urged Mantegani.

When Tiburon was incorporated in June, 1964, he said, a city manager was appointed at a salary of $900 a month. The salary now is $1,300 plus a car allowance and other fringe benefits.

Local taxes of Tiburon residents total $1.71 per $100 assessed valuation, he said. He compared this with long-incorporated Mill Valley where the rate exceeds $2. "What is to happen in Tiburon in two or three years?" he asked.

Mrs. Berticevich listed several benefits to the City of Tiburon under incorporation.

She said the city has a good police department and the roads are well maintained. There is a planning commission, a parks and recreation commission, and the council has passed several important ordinances, she said, including a ban on mechanical noises.

"The city has not had a chance," she said. "I feel we need more time."

Murray said planning needed "top-notch" people and this the city could not get unless it paid high for them. The county has a skillful planning staff, he argued.

There are too many small communities in the county, said Murray, each with its own police department and council. He considered it too much government for the people to pay for. "No one can afford overlapping government," he said.

Advocates of dis-incorporation, he said, are not destructive as labelled by some critics but are making an honest effort to be constructive.

In answer to a question on taxes, Hannahs said he did not subscribe to the opinion annexation of Strawberry or any other area would cut in half the tax rate. With more people, there would be a greater demand for services and taxes would go "spiraling," he claimed.

He criticized the trend of arguments for and against the proposal and said it was not uncommon to "not listen to what you say but question your motives." He called for debate at a more "constructive level."

New Sheppard Evidence Hint

CLEVELAND (UPI)—In a sharp attack on Dr. Samuel Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey, a grand jury today said it found "not one iota of evidence" to support his charges Marilyn Sheppard was murdered by the jealous wife of an alleged lover.

Bailey, whose charges led to an investigation of the 12-year-old case by the Cuyahoga County grand jury earlier this month, said at Freehold, N. J., where he was defending Dr. Carl A. Coppolino against a murder charge: "It's a ridiculous, damn whitewash and exactly what I expected. Cleveland is protecting itself for 12 years of sin."

Sheppard was in Chicago and unavailable for comment.

Students Sell Cakes For Patient Flowers

Students at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur yesterday sold cakes to buy flowers for patients of the Larkspur Convalescent Home. The flowers will be given to the hospital tomorrow.

The Christmas flower project grew out of a volunteer program which 12 seventh and eighth grade students started two months ago.

The 12, who have formed the Hall School Volunteers Club, have been spending an hour or more three days a week after school at the Greenbrae Hospital, doing chores and errands for the patients.

Bolinas School Board Sets Wide-Ranging Bond Ballot

Bolinas - Stinson School District trustees last night decided to hold a bond election early in March with four choices ranging from tents to expansion and improvements costing $275,000.

Date of the election will be set at a special board meeting Monday at 7 p.m. at Bolinas School, after the county counsel advises the district on when to hold the election. Trustees also will begin to screen applications from 16 architects for supervising the building program.

Voters will be offered these choices:

1. Put some classes in tents.
2. Repair three classrooms declared unsafe under the Field Act following recent inspection, financing the repair with a 20-year bond issue.
3. Make the same repairs, financed with a one-year tax increase.
4. Issue $275,000 in bonds to replace or repair the classrooms and meet school expansion needs for the next 10 years.

Trustee Arthur E. Carpenter said the fourth choice would be included because the board fears that unification of South Marin school districts may leave Bolinas-Stinson "last in line" for new construction unless it has the funds available before unification.

Cost of repairing the three classrooms, one at Stinson Beach and two at Bolinas School, was estimated at $60,000. To finance the repair with a 20-year bond issue would add about 10 cents initially to the present $1.20 tax rate. To finance it with a one-year tax would add 70 to 80 cents to the rate next year, Carpenter said.

The $275,000 bond issue would add 35 cents to the tax rate initially, but the increase would decline to 12 cents by the end of the 20 years, he reported.

Vote on the bond proposals was 3-0. Trustee John Collingwood left before the vote and Trustee Roberta Shockey was absent.

Trustees also endorsed recommendations by their planning committee to "phase out" the Stinson Beach School, rehabilitate the old Bolinas School building so the library can be used by students, and retain a portable classroom at Bolinas School.

Purse Snatching Incident Probed

Two slender young men grabbed a purse from Mary C. Somers, 27, near her home at 4 Ebbtide Avenue, Sausalito, Sunday sheriff's officers belatedly reported today.

The victim told deputies she was walking from her parked car to her apartment at 7:15 p. m. when the pair approached, snatched the purse from her hand, and fled. In the purse, she said, were $2 cash, a credit card, and identification papers.

Auto Burning Last Night Still Mystery

A car burning in unincorporated Mill Valley last night was still a mystery today to California Highway Patrol, who reported the case would be turned over to the Marin County Sheriff's office for investigation of suspected arson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shoop of 859 Marin Drive, Mill Valley, saw a fire on the hill across from their home last night at 9:39 p.m. They drove over and found a car "burning fiercely" 50 feet over the bank, on the north side of Erica Road. The Shoops called the highway patrol.

Officer Robert Borzone said the car was a white MG, with a California license NQS194. There was a Treasure Island sticker on the bumper. An owner's manual on the ground bore the name Jess B. Bollinger, U.S.S. Navasota, with a San Francisco Fleet post office number.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson said at noon today that report of the discovery had not yet been received from the patrol.

A PRE-DAWN DRAMA OF LIFE AND DEATH

Sabin Impatient At Vaccine Delay

WASHINGTON (SS) — Five years may be just too long to have to wait for a German measles vaccine, Dr. Albert B. Sabin, father of the live polio vaccine, declared.

"Should we have to wait five years," he demanded, "to make rubella vaccine available to young girls who may have deformed babies because they married before arguing groups get around to deciding which method shall be used for making the vaccine?"

Dr. Maurice R. Hilleman of the Merck Laboratory had reported earlier at a session of the Interntaional Conference on Vaccines against Viral and Rickettsial Diseases of Man that his vaccine is available and safe, but must go through extensive and time consuming human testing required by Federal licensing regulations.

Juvenile Is Cited

A juvenile was cited yesterday for taking colored floodlights from the Ttburon Lodge. Benjamin A. Farlatti, manager of the motel, reported to Tiburon sheriff's sub-station at 5:55 p.m. he saw four boys removing the lights behind the lodge. Sheriff's deputies caught one. The others ran away.

Boulder Creek Area Searched For Meyer

Santa Cruz County sheriff's deputies today were searching a semi-remote area near Boulder Creek in the Santa Cruz Mountains for Otto H. Meyer, former chief building inspector of Marin County, feared victim of a mountain climbing accident.

A team of 12 deputies, led by Undersheriff Paul Tara, was searching steep terrain on both sides of the road this morning.

Sunnyvale police, who report Meyer has not been seen since leaving the Santa Clara County Public Works Department for a vacation Nov. 18, theorized he was in a mountain climbing accident, saying he was an avid climber.

His son, Colton Meyer, reported his father missing on Nov. 28, police said. Santa Cruz deputies said Meyer's car could have been left there shortly after his disappearance, since the road is rarely used.

Meyer quit his job with the County of Marin in March, 1963, after a dispute with the board of supervisors. His former wife, Dorothy Babcock, lives in San Rafael.

Center Set Up For The Study Of All Life

Special to the I-J

LOS ANGELES—UCLA's new Molecular Biology Institute is joining in science's search for the chemical and physical basis of all life.

The institute this week received its first grant, $60,000 from the U. S. Public Health Service to purchase basic equipment.

At the same time, Director Paul D. Boyer announced a new study program, cutting across many scientific specialties and leading to a Ph.D in molecular biology.

Molecular biology is the broad and young field which during the past decade has delved into the minute particles which make up the living matter and processes of plants, animals and men.

A PRE-DAWN DRAMA OF LIFE AND DEATH

Sabin Impatient At Vaccine Delay

WASHINGTON (SS) — Five years may be just too long to have to wait for a German measles vaccine, Dr. Albert B. Sabin, father of the live polio vaccine, declared.

"Should we have to wait five years," he demanded, "to make rubella vaccine available to young girls who may have deformed babies because they married before arguing groups get around to deciding which method shall be used for making the vaccine?"

Dr. Maurice R. Hilleman of the Merck Laboratory had reported earlier at a session of the Interntaional Conference on Vaccines against Viral and Rickettsial Diseases of Man that his vaccine is available and safe, but must go through extensive and time consuming human testing required by Federal licensing regulations.

Juvenile Is Cited

A juvenile was cited yesterday for taking colored floodlights from the Ttburon Lodge. Benjamin A. Farlatti, manager of the motel, reported to Tiburon sheriff's sub-station at 5:55 p.m. he saw four boys removing the lights behind the lodge. Sheriff's deputies caught one. The others ran away.

Boulder Creek Area Searched For Meyer

Santa Cruz County sheriff's deputies today were searching a semi-remote area near Boulder Creek in the Santa Cruz Mountains for Otto H. Meyer, former chief building inspector of Marin County, feared victim of a mountain climbing accident.

A team of 12 deputies, led by Undersheriff Paul Tara, was searching steep terrain on both sides of the road this morning.

Sunnyvale police, who report Meyer has not been seen since leaving the Santa Clara County Public Works Department for a vacation Nov. 18, theorized he was in a mountain climbing accident, saying he was an avid climber.

His son, Colton Meyer, reported his father missing on Nov. 28, police said. Santa Cruz deputies said Meyer's car could have been left there shortly after his disappearance, since the road is rarely used.

Meyer quit his job with the County of Marin in March, 1963, after a dispute with the board of supervisors. His former wife, Dorothy Babcock, lives in San Rafael.

Center Set Up For The Study Of All Life

Special to the I-J

LOS ANGELES—UCLA's new Molecular Biology Institute is joining in science's search for the chemical and physical basis of all life.

The institute this week received its first grant, $60,000 from the U. S. Public Health Service to purchase basic equipment.

At the same time, Director Paul D. Boyer announced a new study program, cutting across many scientific specialties and leading to a Ph.D in molecular biology.

Molecular biology is the broad and young field which during the past decade has delved into the minute particles which make up the living matter and processes of plants, animals and men.

Conservation Council Hears About Lobbying

A legislative program for which conservationists will lobby in Sacramento was outlined for the Conservation Council of Marin last night by attorney Thomas F. Skornia of Ross.

The Planning and Conservation League of California, Skornia said, will press for:

1. Extension to other open space of the Williamson Act which permits establishment of agricultural preserves to qualify for lower taxes.

2. Establishment of a coastline conservation commission, similar to the Bay Area Conservation and Development Commission, to oversee orderly and suitable development of the coastline.

3. Creation of a joint legislative study committee to act with a citizen advisory committee on development of conservation legislation.

4. Passage of a statute declaring that park use "represents the highest and best use for public land.

These objectives, Skornia reported, were developed by the PCL's open space committee, headed by County Supervisor Peter H. Behr, at the league's Dec. 3 workshop in Berkeley.

Skornia said the league also favored creation of a State Land Use Review Commission to study the plans of other state agencies, such as the Division of Highways, and such local groups as city and county planning commissions. Such a commission, Skornia said, would not have veto power over other agencies' decisions, though this was advocated by some.

Skornia appealed to conservation groups affiliated with the league to contribute greater financial support. He said the PCL's 'bare bones budget" this year is $30,000 and there isn't that amount on hand. He listed the $1,500 a month salary of fulltime lobbyist John Zierold as a major expense.

Youth Reports Robbery Attempt

Two 16-year-old Novato residents yesterday told sheriff's officers that three youths in Marin City attempted to rob them of $150 after using the ruse of having auto parts for sale.

Brad C. Willis, of 12 Momar Court, and Frank Jordan of 1037 First Street, said they went with the trio to Marin City about 5 p.m. Instead of having the parts, they said, the three demanded their money.

The three knocked Willis down, but Jordan fled, he told officers. After Willis told his assailants that Jordan had the money, they left Willis and chased Jordan — but did not catch him.

Pup Gets Yule Spirit, Dines On Tree Lights

Duchess got the Christmas spirit yesterday. At least she ate the Christmas spirit. And she's very well today, thank you.

Hitson, who was taking a nap after decorating the tree, awoke to find the tree in ruins, and his dog chomping up the remains of 25 light bulbs.

"She's in great shape, which is more than I can say for the tree," reflected Hitson. "Guess I'll have to plug her in for Christmas decorations."

Sacramento Symphony To Join Festivities

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The inaugural concert for Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan on Jan. 4 will feature the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, it was announced today.

The committee handling the week's festivities said the orchestra would be directed by directed by Harry Newstone, conductor of the Sacramento Symphony; Henry Lewis, a conductor from Los Angeles; and Josef Kreps, conductor of the San Francisco Symphony.

Coin Purse Stolen

Nancy Salvenini of Dominican College, San Rafael, told police last night that someone stole her coin purse, with $1 in cange, from her car parked behind the college cafeteria between 6 adn 7:15 p.m.

Medical Reserve Unit Added To Hamilton Wing

The 349th Military Airlift Wing (Golden Gate Wing), with headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base, will soon be flying medical air evacuation missions.

The Secretary of the Air Force notified the wing this week that the 65th Aeromedical Evacuation Flight will be activated and assigned to the 938th Military Airlift Group, a part of the 349th based at Hamilton.

It will have two fulltime air reserve technicians, the flight commander and the medical administrative technician. In addition there will be 20 reserve officers, mostly nurses, and 34 reserve airmen, medical corpsmen, in the flight.

In the total program for the 349th Military Airlift Wing, 186 officers and men will be new personnel in various aeromedical evacuation units throughout the West.

Medical Reserve Unit Added To Hamilton Wing

The 349th Military Airlift Wing (Golden Gate Wing), with headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base, will soon be flying medical air evacuation missions.

The Secretary of the Air Force notified the wing this week that the 65th Aeromedical Evacuation Flight will be activated and assigned to the 938th Military Airlift Group, a part of the 349th based at Hamilton.

It will have two fulltime air reserve technicians, the flight commander and the medical administrative technician. In addition there will be 20 reserve officers, mostly nurses, and 34 reserve airmen, medical corpsmen, in the flight.

In the total program for the 349th Military Airlift Wing, 186 officers and men will be new personnel in various aeromedical evacuation units throughout the West.

Cafeteria Operator Resents Questionnaire

Complaints about the cafeteria in the Marin County Civic Center have been renewed by the Marin County Employees Assn., which offered questionnaires to patrons yesterday asking ways the facility could be improved.

The cafeteria is operated by James Riley under a contract between the county and the State Department of Rehabilitation. Riley, who is blind, said he "resented those words in the questionnaire very, very deeply."

He particularly resented the association's stated motives of better service and lower prices.

"We don't have high prices here," he said.

Hamburgers are 52 cents, wrapped sandwiches range from 35 to 50 cents, and the hot lunch of ham, mashed potatoes and fresh peas served yesterday was 85 cents. A bowl of chili sells for 40 cents.

The questionnaire includes such questions as:

"Do you like the wrapped sandwiches?" and "Do you have any suggestions on how you think the cafeteria service might be improved so as to lower prices?"

It will be used by an association committee in preparing recommendations for changes.

Future Farmers Slate Third Speech Contest

Tomales Future Farmers will hold their third annual public speaking contest at 7 p.m. today in the Tomales High School auditorium.

Club members seeking association trophies and a chance to advance to sectional and national contests of the Future Farmers of America are Bob Borello, Mike Furlong, Ron Souza, Bill Jenson, Don Erickson, Glenn Parks, David Wilson, Jim Gray, Bob Mache, Pat Hendren, Jim Furlong and Bob Bissig.

Daniel Allen, former mayor of Larkspur and member of that city's library board, has been selected radio station KABL's "Citizen of the Week" for the week beginning Sunday. Allen lives at 215 West Baltimore Avenue, Larkspur.

Marin's Doctors Prepare Annual Conclave Papers

Doctors in the Marin Medical Society have been asked to begin preparing abstracts of papers they wish to present at the society's Marin Academy of Medicine at 8 p.m. next April 27 at Marin General Hospital.

Dr. Russell Klein, chairman of the academy committee, said eight papers will be selected for presentation at the academy, which was held for the first time last year.

Papers should concern subjects the doctors have come across in their everyday practice, he said. They can be any original work on clinical or investigative subjects, he said.

Dr. Klein said abstracts should be submitted by Feb. 1 and should be no longer than 200 words.

Wolfe Grade School Program Is Tomorrow

A FLURRY OF WINTER WHITES

Winter whites are forecasting a bright outlook extending to all moods and styles this season. The soft as a pussycat pure white wool shetland boxer-styled sweater in horizontal pink and yellow stripe at left accompanies an easy white skirt patterned with cross-checked pink and yellow windowpane. The sweater, designed by Karen Dahlgard for Bernard Altmann, has ribbed turtleneck and roll-cuffed short sleeves for easy wearing. The white coat at center, a standout in any social setting, is of pure virgin wool designed by Seymour Fox. The artfully seamed and shaped full-length silhouette is dramatically detailed in 'parade dress' military manner with jewel-buttoned closing, epaulets at trimly set-in shoulder line and crisply turned collar. Reaching the ultimate in theater magic is the costume at right of white wool designed by Harvey Berin. Dress and jacket reflects elegance in motion with exquisitely defined cross-seaming of dress and trim of jacket delicately beaded in gold.

The traditional bauble party which friends of the W. C. Witters look forward to each holiday season will be given Saturday. Guests each bring an ornament and help decorate the large tree in the Witters' Belvedere home. Thirty guests from Belvedere will attend. The Witters' son Jack, a senior at the University of Colorado, will arrive Friday night and be on hand for the cocktail-buffet supper. The Witters are just home from a trip to the West Indies. Jack joined his parents for Thanksgiving in Jamaica.

A "LOVELL-LY PARTY" Tuesday evening will be one of the most unusual gatherings during the holidays in Mill Valley. This will be a party with decor and refreshments in a Swedish theme to be hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Swedenborg for 65 people who live on Lovell Avenue. Since all are not acquainted, guests will wear the numbers of their addresses instead of name tags, thus providing a novel guessing game. Among those attending will be Mr. and Mrs. William Cary, the Swedenborg's new neighbors, Dr. and Mrs. Michael Hogan, and Messrs. and Mesdames Richard Jessup, Donald Oman, William German, Rex Allen, Wayne Speckmann, Robert Westberg and Donald Westerbeke.

THE OPEN HOUSE which Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mackey will give for their Marin debutante daughter, Mary at 8 p.m. Sunday at their Belvedere home will be a holiday reunion for the deb's young Marin friends. "Muffy" Mackey will arrive late this week from the University of Oregon.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

I'm Not Allowed To Go To Parties, Talk To Boys, And I'm Almost 18

DEAR HELEN:

The rule is "respect your parents," but I think parents should also respect their children.

My parents think all teenagers are bad—except me, and the only reason I'm not is because they never allow me out of their sight, except when I'm at school. When I wonder why I can't have fun like the other kids, they say, "You go to school. Isn't that enough fun?" I guess they think school is only a playground. If I flare up, they accuse me of being cruel and unloving.

Some of the things I am not allowed to do are: Take in any school activity or club; go to parties, even with just girls; talk to friends on the telephone; talk to boys—ever! And if they ever caught me kissing a boy, they'd judge it a mortal sin. Naturally, I can't date. My father sets the rules.

Some people say your parents don't let you do things because of your immature actions. This is not true with me. I'm known as a quiet, somewhat shy girl who is tied to her Mama's apron strings. I'm also the school outcast, as kids soon tire of asking a girl who must always say, "My folks won't let me."

Now if I were 13 or 14 you might side with them, Helen, but I'll be 18 in four more months!

How can I possibly make my parents understand? They won't even let me explain my point of view.—DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED:

You didn't say, but I'd guess your parents belong to a religious sect that forbids all "worldly pleasures." Therefore they'll consign me to the "eternally damned" when I write, you can't change a fanatic's rules with reason, but you don't have to live with them much longer. Don't waste your energy fighting a hopeless cause when you might better use it planning your escape . . . to a job, an apartment and a life of your own after high school graduation in June.

And remember this: no matter what the restrictions, you won't be considered an outcast unless you pity yourself into the role. You can have fun at school and you'd better—because presently it's all you've got.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My best friend says he is going to quit college and get married as soon as he gets a job. This because his girl friend might not wait for him three years until he graduates. She is moving to California with her folks, about 2,000 miles away, where she will finish school. He is on a scholarship, a real brain, and, until now, full of ambition.

Now here's the problem. She is supposed to be engaged to him, yet my kid brother saw her at a game with another boy. They had their arms around each other and left, holding hands.

Should I tell my friend outright and lose a good friendship besides a few teeth? Should I tell his folks, who are very much against the marriage anyway? Should I tell the girl and ask her to explain? Or should I just keep my big mouth shut?—LOST FOR WORDS

DEAR LOST:

Don't tell anyone except as a last resort, but don't keep your big mouth shut. Use it to persuade your brainy friend that he should hang on to his scholarship until June, then find a summer job, get married, return to college and work his way through—with his wife's help.

If this plan gets a veto from the bride-to-be, it may open his eyes and make a wiser man of him. If she agrees, it could mean either, 1. She is wiser than you think, or, 2. She's cooling off and wants to ease out of the engagement gracefully.

At any rate, the discussion will take time, and "time to think it over" has blasted many a bad decision. Let's hope it works this time.—H.

MAUREEN COY

Husband-Wife Team Produces Pageant

A year's work and planning have gone into the Christmas pageant which British-born Maureen Coy has produced and directed with the help of her husband, Brian Coy.

The husband-wife team have molded an amateur cast of 30 adults and children into a well trained troupe which will present an imaginary trip around the world as the holiday program for the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon at 8 p.m. on Sunday at the church.

Maureen Coy is a dancer and did the choreography for the festival, which has 16 numbers and takes participants and the audience on a fanciful journey from San Francisco westward around the world and back.

Mrs. Coy, who now lives in Greenbrae, started dancing when she was four years old and continued as a professional dancer until her marriage in 1960. She received her instruction at the Ragleth School of Dancing in Birmingham, England, and stayed on at the school for seven years as assistant to her former dancing teacher. She also does some singing, although she says "my soprano voice is somewhat scratchy from so many years of concentrating on dancing, but I do sing in the church choir on Sunday mornings."

The Coys and their daughter, Jayne Elizabeth, now 4, came to this country from England three years ago. Brian and Maureen hope to become American citizens "in two years time when we become eligible."

Specializing in tap dancing, musical comedy and mime, the pert brunette enjoys working with children. "Unfortunately, I was never cut out to be a Pavlova," she says, "but I love to help children. The children are the ones who should receive the praise. I only project the talent they hide the rest of the year."

The family had been in their new home only a few months when Maureen's first opportunity to take part in an amateur performance came in the spring of 1964. At that time Mrs. Coy helped with choreography and performed several dance numbers in a Brazilian show for the Lions Club of Corte Madera.

Mrs. Coy works as a secretary for the Charles Pfizer Co. in San Francisco. Her husband, an employee of a large warehouse firm in San Francisco, has developed quite a talent for show music, according to his wife. He assists with the production, and spends many hours selecting music suitable for the numbers.

The dancer also designs costumes and sets, and for the church show she had copies of her designs made. Mrs. Robert Judd, chairman of the wardrobe committee, headed a group of Tiburon Peninsula women who finished all the costumes. Lawrence Haman is lights and stage arrangements manager; Mrs. Arthur Gensler Jr. is make-up artist.

Now Maureen's only problem is one of too much success. With a full-time job, a young child, and a rehearsal schedule that has taken two afternoons and one evening every week for several months, she is wondering how she will find the time for a second showing of the pageant. Enthusiastic cast members and observers think it is going to be such a smash hit that a full-scale encore will be demanded.

House Plans May Thwart Park Hopes

County purchase of 3.3-acre Paganini Point on San Rafael's east boundary for a park may not be possible.

Members of the County Park and Recreation Commission got this news yesterday from Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske, who reported that Charles E. Paganini plans to build a home on the property.

The news came before the commission got into discussion of a six-year, $5.5 million capital improvement program which includes purchase of the point in fiscal 1968-69 at $80,000. Joske reported the price might be $100,000.

Commissioners recommended that supervisors take what steps are necessary to obtain the property as soon as possible and asked that Joske talk with Paganini's attorney, E. Warren McGuire.

The capital improvements program is being put together for the county planning staff. Joske said the planners were given the job by the county administrator.

"This is a Micky Mouse operation," Commissioner Lothar Salin opined. He said the procedure was backward. Any recommendation the planning staff wanted to make should first be reviewed by the park and recreation commission before going on to the administrator and the board of supervisors, he declared.

Joske said he would check into the procedures and call a special meeting of the commission if necessary. Capital projects must be submitted to the planning staff by Jan. 1.

Projects listed for next year include development of Deer Park, acquisition of land at the west end of Stafford Lake, purchase of Bolinas Lagoon shoreline, and purchase of land near Nicasio Lake.

Coast Rec Study Need Challenged By Official

County Parks and Recreation Commissioner Howard Council stirred things up at yesterday's meeting of the commission with one word.

"Why?" he asked when Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske suggested a study of recreation possibilities in the Stinson Beach and Bolinas areas.

Joske said the study had been suggested, but he did not explain that it was suggested in the planning department's analysis of the Bolinas Harbor District plan for Bolinas Lagoon.

Joske said he thought the study should not be specific, but should give general description of what the uses are and can be.

"I'm getting sick and tired of hearing about Bolinas," Council said. "This is a big county. Surely there are other areas we can study.

"Unless we come to grips with specific, we're not accomplishing anything," he continued. "Maybe we would only be adding to the confusion."

Commissioner Melton Ferris disagreed. He said a study is needed and would be helpful.

No vote was taken. The nature of the study and its implementation was left to the decision of Chairman Gibbs L. Lawson, who is to discuss it further with Joske.

Earlier in yesterday's session at the Civic Center, Ferris said with all the studies so far, no scientific research has yet been made on the extent that man and wildlife can get along together at the lagoon.

John Campbell, who appeared to seek some backing for his proposed development on the northwest shore of the lagoon, told the commission that egrets once nested in downtown Bolinas.

Campbell, representing Muskrat Corp., showed commissioners his proposal for 11 units in two clusters to be built on pilings along the shore, within part of the territory the county hopes to buy next year.

Commissioners agreed that, as a private development, the intrusion would not be bad, but they still favored public ownership.

Old Marshall School Plea Gets Sympathy

The Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday responded to a plea to keep the historic Marshall School in public ownership—but with little idea of how it might be done.

The school, built in 1876, was closed last year when it was decided to send the pupils to Tomales School. It stands on land deeded for school use with a proviso it reverts to the original ownership if a school is no longer maintained.

Mrs. William Strauss of the Marshall Community Club wrote the county commission, asking that some means be found to keep the school in public ownership. She said it would revert to private ownership in about two months. Gibbs L. Lawson, chairman of the commission, said he believed reversion would take place even sooner.

The commission voted to ask county supervisors to explore all means for preserving the school in public ownership.

The park and recreation commission also discussed the general task of designating historical sites and points of interest throughout the county. Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske said the job might best be done by the planning staff.

Riverside Campus Helps Scholars On Dry Regions

(Special to the I-J)

RIVERSIDE — The Riverside campus of the University of California is becoming a major world headquarters for solving the problems of the dry-lands areas of the earth, says President Clark Kerr.

Addressing the University Citizens Committee and the World Affairs Council of Inland Southern California, Kerr noted that international research on air, land and water problems is clustering at UCR. The cluster is made up of the Citrus Research Center, Air Pollution Research Center, Philip R. Boyd Desert Research Center, the new Dry-Lands Research Institute and UCR's new School of Engineering with its emphasis on environmental engineering.

He said the university is moving the headquarters of its Water Resources Center from UCLA to UCR. The center administers research at all the U. C. campuses in irrigation, reclamation of waste waters, and salt-water conversion.

"We must develop dry-lands areas if we are to feed the world's exploding population," Kerr said. "Dry-lands make up half of the land surface of the earth, and are the homelands of one-third of its peoples."

The UCR dry-lands studies are an example of how American universities have become international institutions.

Germany Dreams Up Rental Yule Trees

HAMBURG, Germany (GF)—For the first time, Germans here won't have to worry about buying and disposing of Christmas trees this year. Instead of purchasing trees, they'll be able to rent them and when Christmas is over a pickup service will be around to take them away.

Best of all, there'll be a minimum of stooping and sweeping by housewives to clean those needles off the floor: for the rental trees are alive.

The brainstorm belongs to a clever Hamburg businessman, who directs a local stage theater and cabaret. He is buying young fir trees from a nursery at market prices.

The trees are planted in large pots, rented and delivered under agreement they won't be removed. A set of instructions accompanies each delivery, telling families how to care for the trees.

The full price of the tree is paid by rentors, but one-third of the amount is returned providing the trees are undamaged when returned.

After Christmas the firs will be returned to a tree nursery to grow until next Christmas rolls around, and the man who thought of the scheme is looking forward to nifty profits.

Put Something In The Slot

The National Automatic Merchandising Association held its 30th anniversary and displayed the latest in vending machine equipment.

Two Teen-Agers Hurt In Motorcycle Mishap

Two Corte Madera boys were injured when the motorcycle they were riding overturned at Paradise Drive and the Highway 101 overpass in Corte Madera yesterday at 8:14 a.m.

British Publishers Waiting Decision

LONDON (AP) — London publishers of William Manchester's forthcoming book, "The Death of a President," said today they were waiting to see if Mrs. John F. Kennedy could stop its publication in the United States.

Also waiting was Lord Thomson's Sunday Times, which bought the serial rights.

City Accidents Worse Than War

WASHINGTON (SS)—Chances of surviving combat wounds in Viet Nam or Korea are better than on the average city street, expert consultants say.

A report of the National Research Council just released says that accidents "are the neglected disease of modern society."

The report contrasts the research expenditures of the U. S. Public Health Service, which allows 50 cents for each of the 10 million accident victims and the $220 for each of the estimated 540,000 cancer patients. Grants also allow $76 for each of the estimated 1,420,000 cardiovascular patients.

'Left' Feeling Is Really Bad

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—For a short time, John Zimmerman was all alone in a 10-story office building. He didn't like it.

It was 3 a.m. when he left his office, found that the elevator wasn't working and walked down 10 flights of stairs only to find both street floor doors locked.

He didn't have the necessary coins to operate the pay phone in the lobby and said he was starting to get jittery when someone shook a door. It was a merchant policeman who rescued him.

"I wanted crowds of people around me," Zimmerman said, "crowds of people. Everything in town was closed so I went home and woke my wife and kids."

New Plants To Common Market

Foreign outlays by American firms, consisting of foreign plant and equipment expenditures, are expected to reach $9.2 billion by the end of 1966. It represents a rise of 21 per cent over the previous year.

The six Common Market countries, Belgium, France, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and West Germany, will receive an investment of about $1.4 billion, a 40 per cent increase over 1965 outlays.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

School Board Members Cannot Be Just Citizens Most Of Time

All the time, except when attending board meetings, according to a letter sent home to parents of San Rafael High School students recently by Principal Alan W. Ellsberg.

Ellsberg, in his "administrators' newsletter" dated Dec. 2, discussed what to do if "you have just heard something regarding San Rafael High School that really bothers you." The gist of his advice was to "bring your concern to the place it belongs—and that's to San Rafael High School." Not bad advice, but . . .

AMONG "PATHS to be avoided" he wrote, "are telling your friends and neighbors of the 'most deplorable condition'; reporting it to an official of the P-TA, or to members of the board of education. The latter will be the first to tell you that they are private citizens, just like the rest of us, except when the board of education has been assembled in an official meeting."

This rather astonishing thesis —that a board member is a private citizen "just like the rest of us" except when the board is in session—would seem to put to naught one of the qualifications "essential for constructive members of school boards" listed a couple of years ago by the California Teachers Assn.

The CTA, describing the "ideal candidate" for school board member, said one requirement is "a willingness to give the necessary time to this important position."

IF THE NECESSARY time is only the four or five hours a month that the board is in session, this would be such a simple requirement it would scarcely be worth listing.

Anyone fortunate (or unfortunate) enough to be elected or appointed to a school board soon learns that a great deal more time than that is required just to acquaint oneself with the job. Actually, few board members are able to give the job the time it should have.

If they were "private citizens just like the rest of us" between board meetings, they would indeed be handicapped in learning about the district's needs. It is not easy for the average citizen to find out specifics about how a school district operates. Administrators are too busy to take the time to tell him—even if they feel the questions he asks should be answered.

ANYHOW, THERE is a long history of citizens taking their school problems to the board members they elected—just as they take their problems about police protection, poor street drainage, inadequate street lights, etc., etc., to their city councilmen rather than to the police chief, street superintendent, or whoever the bureaucrat involved may be. That is one reason for elective government. The elective official is responsive to the electorate. People know this without even being told.

Even educators are aware of this. At hand is a report by Roscoe Martin of Syracuse University on a study of "government, schools and suburbs," in which he comments:

"The most frequent method for the expression of interest is recourse to the board of education. Direct appeal to the superintendent is much less frequently employed, and recourse to the teachers ranks third."

THAT'S THE WAY the game is played, and as the people make their own rules, there's not much to be done about it.

No one placed in an elective public office—or an appointive public office, for that matter — can remain "a private citizen just like the rest of us." That is one of the rewards and penalties of office-holding.

AND IF ANYONE planning to run for any of Marin's numerous school boards next April has the idea he can be a school trustee while the board is in session and forget about it the rest of the time—well, he'd better forget the whole thing in a hurry.

Judge Gives Slayer Short Prison Stay

OAKLAND (AP)—Mrs. Kimiko Namikawa, who followed her adopted son here from Japan and then killed him during an argument, was sentenced yesterday to 90 days in prison.

Judge Redmond C. Staats said the Japanese consulate has assured Superior Court that Mrs. Namikawa, 60, will be given psychiatric treatment on her return to Tokyo. She is to be held while deportation proceedings get under way.

Mrs. Namikawa, divorced wife of a Japanese public official, fatally stabbed Toshihiro Namikawa, 27, Sept. 7 and then attempted suicide.

Police said the woman told them he had squandered money she gave him to study electrical engineering at the University of California.

She also accused him of beating her several times and twice driving her to the Golden Gate Bridge and ordering her to jump off.

Trash Bin Nap Nearly Fatal

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — John Edwards fell asleep in a large trash bin and came within minutes of being buried alive by a bulldozer.

The bin, containing trash, boxes, garbage and the 47-year-old transient was dumped into a large truck. The contents were compressed under 45,000 pounds of pressure.

Four hours later, the truck dumped its load at the city dump. Workers heard groans and spotted Edwards' head protruding. A bulldozer was due 10 minutes later to bury the trash.

Edwards said, "I guess I deserved it. I had been drinking."

The word "cracker" is one of those interesting words that came into being because breaking the "biscuit," as crackers were once called, made a cracking sound.

Christmas Party Set For Recorder Society

Marin Recorder Society will hold a Christmas party at 8 p.m. Friday in the music room of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

Arraignment Held On Check Charges

Robert Allyn Voll, 44, of Hawaii, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for allegedly passing six worthless checks totaling $246 in Corte Madera from March 22 to May 12.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. scheduled plea entry for 2 p.m. next Wednesday. Voll, arrested in Salt Lake City, Utah, waived extradition and was returned to Marin County by Corte Madera police Tuesday.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

with Carol King and Pat Reynolds

It's Christmas time in The Village! Shop windows and friendly doorways beckon one to browse and shop and enjoy the highly personalized service at these unique specialty shops. As usual, the gift wrapping at Village shops is outstanding . . . also, as usual, you'll find "treasures" and treasures in these shops . . . from ten cents to ten thousand dollars. Happy Shopping!

Don't mean to sound panicky, but if you have been planning to send a HICKORY FARMS gift package . . . right now is the time! If anyone can get your gifts delivered, this store can do it, but be sure to make your selection soon (like today, Mabel!). We found HICKORY FARMS gift packages in well-chosen combinations and a variety of prices. No matter what you choose from this "old country store," you can be sure your gifts will be well remembered. Wonderful staff here, by the way . . . in the HICKORY FARMS tradition of personalized service, the personnel is well-trained to help you select just the right delectible edibles (and they can advise you on "what ships well and to where"). Of course, they take care of all wrapping and shipping for you . . . just take in your gift list and spend a happy time in almost effortless shopping.

Many adult games at CAPRICORN BOOKS. For a sure "ice breaker," try the game called "Pass Out" . . . involves liquid libation and Lady Luck. Also, they suggest "Scrabble" . . . old favorites like Anagrams and Dominoes (amateur to expert) . . . dice games, such as Yahtzee and Perquackey . . . Dart Boards and Ouija Boards (depending upon whether you lean towards the occult or the athletic, we suppose) . . . also, that Oriental challenge called "Go" (instruction books for this game too).

Robes are always a favorite gift and MONKEY BUSINESS has an extraordinary collection of styles in this department. There are wispy, lacey, bride-like peignoirs . . . lightweight, non-transparent robes for travel . . . very pretty cottons that would brighten any breakfast scene . . . and "swish" hostess robes that are absolutely elegant. One of our favorite bits of MONKEY BUSINESS is a floor length, tailored robe . . . entirely of white eyelet lace with just a bit of pastel satin trim . . . pure understated femininity!

Welcome news, indeed . . . DR. JOSEPH POMPURA, OPTOMETRIST, has opened his new office (next to Rojean's Card & Party Shop, facing The Mall). DR. POMPURA, who formerly practiced in San Francisco, has a complete line of gift-type frames . . . and, of course, excellent professional eye care services. Don't overlook gift possibilities here . . . prescription sunglasses are wonderful and double nicely as a second, emergency pair of glasses. Then, too, most females would love a pair of dressy frames for special occasions . . . and a gift certificate for contact lenses is always a hit!

Not all of us have as much time as we'd like for holiday baking. If this is the case at your house, we recommend you try the homemade pies at The HICK'RY PIT. These pies are extra thick and we guarantee both family and guests will rave about them. Stop for coffee while shopping and taste these pastries for yourself . . . then take one home and "share the wealth" with the family. (HICK'RY PIT mince pie is a timely specialty right now.)

New item at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP . . . those wonderful Marly Soaps. These are packaged in many sizes and combinations and make lovely gifts.

Those Mrs. Carver Homemade Fruitcakes at EDY'S OF MARIN are nothing short of magnificent. These cakes are loaded with fruit and nuts and EDY'S offers them in a number of sizes, including the miniatures. Perfectly charming stuffed animals here too . . . all sorts of cunning little creatures. We get a bit glassy-eyed in this shop (as we press our noses against the window), and marvel at all the wonderful holiday confections.

Inspired Christmas arrangements at ALBERTA OF MARIN. These delightful decorations would make wonderful gifts, to say nothing of being sure compliment-getters in your own home. ALBERTA also carries those tiny Italian lights that are just perfect with her pretty miniature trees.

Memo to "Santa": Don't forget Fido and Pussycat (the one with four legs) at stocking-stuffing time. MUTTS OF MARIN has already stuffed some stockings for doggies and kitties . . . they are filled with toys and treats and ready for holiday hanging.

A happy holiday selection of coordinated knit separates at SUSAN'S FASHIONS. These are all from their regular stock, so after-Christmas exchanges are possible. However, we imagine exchanges will be few since SUSAN'S offers an important "extra" with these knits . . . you can mix sizes (even on their "robi" label suits) . . . this means a size 12 top and size 14 skirt or pants can finally get together as one outfit, for one very grateful female. Thank you, SUSAN'S!

Come along with we to the wine country (sorry about that) while we "select" our wine cellar of fine domestic wines from VILLAGE LIQUORS. We'll want our cellar to include a representative selection of wines. So, let's start with CHABLIS, BURGUNDY, VIN ROSE and RHINE WINE for our festive holiday tables . . . then we'll choose RIESLING, CABERNET SAUVIGNON, PINOT NOIR and PINOT BLANC and PINOT CHARDONNAY. Also from the well-stocked VILLAGE LIQUORS shelves, HAUTE SAUTERNE, ZINFANDEL, CLARET and MOSELLE, GERURZ TRAMINER and JOHANNISBERGER RIESLING.

Among famous California vineyards represented in this selection from VILLAGE LIQUORS are WENTE BROS., LOUIS MARTINI, CONCANNON, PAUL MASSON, CHARLES KRUG, ALMADEN, BUENA VISTA and BEAULIEU. And there you have it . . . California's pride, stacked in a fine mahogany wine rack and ready to add a festive touch to any holiday gathering.

Besides marvelous food, KUBLAI KHAN offers a quiet and most attractive atmosphere. Lovely table appointments harmonize with red and gold decor . . . a tranquil setting for an unhurried meal. Menu is nicely varied to include Chinese, Polynesian and American cuisine.

THE HEARTH SHOP is loaded with gift ideas . . . all kinds of decorative, useful fireside accessories (even fireplaces, if you intend to "start from scratch"). They carry many types of fire lighters . . . including the popular, pine scented one that burns so colorfully. Also, very nice gift packages of Bark Chips (colors, long-burning) . . . and those long matches in tall boxes with bright designs.

Noticed blouses, shirts, "shells" and long skirts at THE LITTLE DAISY . . . just right for holiday entertaining or for gifting. We like the look of "The Dandy" . . . white dacron shirt with a veritable waterfall of lacey ruffles down the front that are echoed on the cuffs. This shirt would be stunning teamed with THE LITTLE DAISY'S floor length, black crepe coulottes. Pretty "shells" here too . . . as examples, a crocheted "number" with high neckline, sleeveless, choice of four colors, and completely lined . . . or a black silk shantung "shell," sleeveless, scooped neckline. Interesting African-inspired print on velour or velveteen floor length skirts at this shop . . . a bright holiday note.

. . . an exceptionally fine selection of watches and clocks at VILLAGE JEWELERS. The Bulova "family" is represented by Accutron, Bulova and Caravelle . . . and Longines "lineage" includes Le Coultre, Longines and Wittnauer. This collection certainly offers a wide price range combined with outstanding quality. Handsome wall clocks and elegant little boudoir clocks here too.

Pay attention, girls . . . here's a "clip and plant in front of Santa item." THE HOUR GLASS has a magnificent selection of robes and gowns . . . many in matching sets. (They also have gift certificates for shy Santas!) We like the gown and matching peignoir set of pink or blue nylon lace, priced at a surprising $25.00 (looks much more expensive). And (this you've got to see for yourself) . . . a full length, strapless gown that involves an elastic top and yards upon yards of flowing pastel nylon . . . sounds sort of kookie, but is terribly pretty and very flattering.

We find December is an exciting and very busy month . . . and, after a day of shopping we frequently "pull an absolute blank" at the kitchen door. Now we have learned to plan ahead and bring home a casserole dinner from L'ENTREE. Master Chef Louis Reimers has concocted a marvelous menu to please a variety of palates and pocketbooks and (maybe most important), his casseroles have proven to be consistently delicious.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

School Board Members Cannot Be Just Citizens Most Of Time

All the time, except when attending board meetings, according to a letter sent home to parents of San Rafael High School students recently by Principal Alan W. Ellsberg.

Ellsberg, in his "administrators' newsletter" dated Dec. 2, discussed what to do if "you have just heard something regarding San Rafael High School that really bothers you." The gist of his advice was to "bring your concern to the place it belongs—and that's to San Rafael High School." Not bad advice, but . . .

AMONG "PATHS to be avoided" he wrote, "are telling your friends and neighbors of the 'most deplorable condition'; reporting it to an official of the P-TA, or to members of the board of education. The latter will be the first to tell you that they are private citizens, just like the rest of us, except when the board of education has been assembled in an official meeting."

This rather astonishing thesis—that a board member is a private citizen "just like the rest of us" except when the board is in session—would seem to put to naught one of the qualifications "essential for constructive members of school boards" listed a couple of years ago by the California Teachers Assn.

The CTA, describing the "ideal candidate" for school board member, said one requirement is "a willingness to give the necessary time to this important position."

IF THE NECESSARY time is only the four or five hours a month that the board is in session, this would be such a simple requirement it would scarcely be worth listing.

Anyone fortunate (or unfortunate) enough to be elected or appointed to a school board soon learns that a great deal more time than that is required just to acquaint oneself with the job. Actually, few board members are able to give the job the time it should have.

If they were "private citizens just like the rest of us" between board meetings, they would indeed be handicapped in learning about the district's needs. It is not easy for the average citizen to find out specifics about how a school district operates. Administrators are too busy to take the time to tell him—even if they feel the questions he asks should be answered.

Braden Opens New Attack On Rafferty

SACRAMENTO (AP) — More leadership — not more money— is what's needed to improve California's educational quality, says the president of the State Board of Education.

Thomas W. Braden launched another sharp attack yesterday on state school chief Max Rafferty, telling the Senate Finance Committee the superintendent of public instruction is more interested in "enhancing himself" than in improving education.

But Braden and Rafferty, in separate appearances before the committee hearing on school costs, agreed that money alone won't raise educational standards in California.

The hearing dealt largely with recent tests showing California first and second graders lagging in reading progress.

Rafferty said schools should use the phonics system of teaching reading, and predicted quick improvement in tests scores if they did. Phonics means teaching sounds of syllables rather than whole words.

Braden later agreed with Rafferty's assessment, but said the Department of Education hadn't provided enough facts about phonics.

"We need someone heading the school system of our state who really cares about our schools," said Braden. "Rafferty isn't engaged in a crusade to improve reading."

He said Rafferty paid more attention to "the morality of teachers" and other issues than about reading.

Rafferty, who wasn't present when Braden testified, later said his department had provided the school board with "everything we've been asked to provide."

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post advocated a statewide tax to support education. At present, local districts levy property taxes for their support. A state tax, Post suggested, would eliminate the inequities between poor and rich districts.

Couple Must Explain Their Rental Plans

Harry H. Johnson, publisher of Marin Guide, and his wife, Eleanor, have been ordered to appear in Marin Superior Court at 11 a.m. tomorrow to show why 19 rental properties they own should not remain in receivership.

The action began with filing of a complaint against the Johnsons by Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., alleging the couple defaulted in payments to the loan company on several promissory notes dating back to June of 1957.

The Johnsons, however, refused to permit the loan company to assume collections of rents on the properties as part of the default provisions according to the complain. The suit asks the court to rule that the plaintiff is entitled to all rents until the Johnsons' payment obligations are met.

On Dec. 2, Judge Samuel W. Gardiner temporarily appointed William H. Bemiss of 15 Davenport Court, San Rafael, to serve as receiver for the properties, single, multiple, and combination multiple resident and commercial buildings, in Mill Valley, San Anselmo, and Fairfax.

Meeting Postponed

The regular meeting this evening of Sausalito Recreation Commission has been postponed for lack of a quorum, chairman James E. Muldoon reported. No date for the meeting has been set, he said.

Bank Tax Rate Set At Maximum

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state franchise tax board has set the tax rate for banks and financial institutions at the maximum of 9.5 per cent.

The bank and financial institution franchise tax rate, set each year by the board, is made up of a minimum of 5.5 per cent, set by law, plus an additional rate based on the ratio of total personal taxes to total income of California corporations other than financials and utilities. The maximum for the resulting tax is 9.5 per cent.

The computed rate for this year's tax was 9.528 per cent. Banks and financial institutions pay franchise taxes at this rate in lieu of personal property taxes which are normally assessed by the county assessors.

Creek Saving Proposal Wins Consideration

The Army Corps of Engineers yesterday agreed to explore a proposal by Mill Valley Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon for a covered flood control canal down the middle of Miller Avenue from Millwood Street to Camino Alto.

Bragdon termed the Corps' willingness to consider his alternative to its own plan to line Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio with concrete "a significant change in their attitude." The Corps and city have been at odds over the city's demand that it retain aesthetic control over the proposed flood control project.

LANDSCAPE PLANS

The covered canal would be landscaped as part of the city's plan to beautify Miller Avenue, Bragdon said. It may cost more, he added, but the community may be willing to pay some extra to preserve the creek in its natural state.

George W. Skene, local chief of the Corps' water resources planning section, offered to explore the proposal at a meeting in the Corps' San Francisco district office.

COST FACTORS

Skene also agreed to explore the cost of covering the present creek if the canal proves too expensive. If lining the creek with concrete is the only way to get flood control, Bragdon suggested, then it could be covered as "a linear park through town for pedestrians, bicycles and horses."

City and Corps of Engineers officials agreed to meet sometime in January to discuss the matter again.

PG&E To Appeal Damage Verdict

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. plans to seek a new trial in an effort to reverse jury awards of more than $1 million resulting from a 1962 forest fire.

A PG&E spokesman said yesterday that a motion for a new trial would be filed in Superior Court within 10 days.

A jury Tuesday awarded the damages to two men injured in the Mariposa County fire and to the families of four men killed in the blaze.

Closed College Meet

The Marin Junior College District board will have a closed meeting today at 8 p.m. at the county superintendent of schools office in Corte Madera, to review applications for the position of president of the college. The board will have no regular meeting this week.

$400,000 LOSS

Show On Capote's Book Closes Down

NEW YORK (AP) — "Breakfast at Tiffany's," the season's most awaited musical, has flopped before its $1 - million guaranteed opening on Broadway. Producer David Merrick called the sudden closing "my Bay of Pigs."

Over $1 million in tickets had been bought for the show, an adaptation of the Truman Capote story. The money, Merrick said, would be returned. Merrick said he expected to take a $400,000 loss.

"Rather than subject the drama critics and the theater-going public to an excruciatingly boring evening, I decided to close," Merrick said yesterday.

The show, starring television performers Mary Tyler Moore and Richard Chamberlain, had four preview performances in New York after weeks of tryouts in Boston and Philadelphia. It was scheduled to open here Dec. 26.

At Tuesday night's preview at the Majestic Theater, a quarter of the benefit audience walked out. Applause was thin and laughter scarce.

The only big guffaw came embarrassingly unwanted — when the script had a woman detective punch Miss Moore, playing Capote's hoyden Holly Golightly, in the stomach. Scenes, performers, dance sequences, and songs indicated in the program were not presented.

Capote, not involved in the production, disclosed reservations about it but said the show was "a really faithful adaptation."

Folk Singers Out Of Big Rose Parade

MONTEREY PARK (UPI) — The Monterey Park City Council voted 3-2 yesterday to remove folk-rock singers Sonny and Cher from the city's float in the New Year's Day Rose Parade in nearby Pasadena.

The council then hired someone it felt would better represent the city, cowboy singer Buck Owens.

"I have nothing against Sonny and Cher as persons," said Irvine. "In fact, I'd never heard of them. I just saw this picture of them with all those 'police brutality' protestors in the background. I'm getting sick and tired of all this 'police brutality' stuff."

A spokesman for the singers said Sonny and Cher took no part in the activities and were just observing the protest.

"They feel very hurt and that they are victims of guilt by association," the spokesman said.

Grant Accepted For Recreation Area Highway

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state has accepted a $3 million federal grant for a 25-mile highway to serve the proposed Mineral King recreation area to be developed by Walt Disney.

But agency chief Robert B. Bradford said yesterday the grant won't come through unless the state puts the entire road under contract within two years.

Bradford said this may be impossible in view of the highway's expected cost — about $1 million a mile — plus recent cutbacks in federal highway aid.

Also casting a shadow over the project, Bradford said, is the change in membership on the State Highway Commission expected in January when Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan takes office. The commission is responsible to planning how to finance the highway.

Gary Lewis Drafted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gary Lewis, who once earned $50,000 in a month-long tour, has signed up with the Army for the standard $90.60 a month, beginning Dec. 28. "You gotta go in," said the son of comedian Jerry Lewis after signing "If you have any animosity toward Army life it can be your downfall."

Volunteer Army Plan Hit By Gen. Hershey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the nation's Selective Service System has challenged the volunteer army concept advanced by some as an alternative to the military draft.

In defending the present draft system, Hershey said, "We've got to make up our minds whether we want to be defending this country or not." He said there should be no alternative — particularly in a time of war when everyone owes a debt to his country.

"If the country ever gets to the point where the average person doesn't believe in defending his country," he added, "we're done for. We've had it."

Drunken Driving Fine

Noal Lennis Robinson, 50, of 3725 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, was fined $250, with a $50 suspended, in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving. He also was placed on a year's probation. San Rafael police arrested him Dec. 3 on Solar Court.

Yacht Loss Blamed On Mystery Hit-Run Ship

PANAMA (AP)—A mysterious black, fast ship collided with the yacht Langosta in pre-dawn darkness off the Mexican coast 10 days ago and made no attempt to stop or render help, the yacht's sole survivor said yesterday.

David E. Smith, 46, of Merced, Calif., told of the collision as he recovered in Gorgas Hospital at Ancon, in the Panama Canal Zone. Smith who was the skipper of the 50 foot yacht, gave this account:

His yacht's bow was cut off by the stern of the other ship at about 2 a.m. some 400 miles north of Acapulco. The other ship executed a maneuver as if to avoid the collision just before it happened. Smith's yacht was running with all lights on.

The Langosta sank in 10 to 15 minutes. Smith, his son Monty, 19, and two other persons from the yacht clung to a one-man life raft for two days and a night. They tried to paddle toward the coast but the current was against them.

Then Monty died and the other two—Gil Fordy and Richard D. Marchand —decided to try to swim for the coast, about 40 miles away. That was the last Smith saw of them.

Smith stayed with the life raft and was picked up two days later, last Friday, by the Greek freighter Zarathustra, after crewmen heard his shouts.

Smith, sunburned and his arms bandaged, was landed in Balboa by the freighter and taken to Ancon yesterday. He was not injured but suffered from exposure to sun and salt water.

He identified Fordy and Marchand from a news dispatch from Acapulco last Monday listing four persons besides himself aboard the yacht. He said Billy Ray Ringos, one of the persons named in the dispatch, was not aboard.

The Langosta was en route to Long Beach, Calif., from Gulfport, Miss., when the collision occurred.

U.S. raliroads hauled nearly 2.4 million new motor vehicles in the first half of 1966, more than two-fifths of auto manufacturers' production, the Association of American Railroads reports.

Water Pollution Contract Signed With Kaiser

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Water Quality Control Board today signed a $1.7 million contract with Kaiser Engineers of Oakland for technical assistance in conducting a water pollution study of San Francisco Bay and the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

The study is aimed at developing a regional waste water collection, treatment and disposal system for the region — an area comprising about 40 per cent of the state.

The board is to make final recommendations on the system to the 1969 legislature.

The study grew out of state plans to drain waste waters out of the delta. Some legislators feared the original plan would have resulted in polluting San Francisco Bay.

$400,000 LOSS

Show On Capote's Book Closes Down

NEW YORK (AP) — "Breakfast at Tiffany's," the season's most awaited musical, has flopped before its $1 - million guaranteed opening on Broadway. Producer David Merrick called the sudden closing "my Bay of Pigs."

Over $1 million in tickets had been bought for the show, an adaptation of the Truman Capote story. The money, Merrick said, would be returned. Merrick said he expected to take a $400,000 loss.

"Rather than subject the drama critics and the theater-going public to an excruciatingly boring evening, I decided to close," Merrick said yesterday.

The show, starring television performers Mary Tyler Moore and Richard Chamberlain, had four preview performances in New York after weeks of tryouts in Boston and Philadelphia. It was scheduled to open here Dec. 26.

At Tuesday night's preview at the Majestic Theater, a quarter of the benefit audience walked out. Applause was thin and laughter scarce.

The only big guffaw came embarrassingly unwanted — when the script had a woman detective punch Miss Moore, playing Capote's hoyden Holly Golightly, in the stomach. Scenes, performers, dance sequences, and songs indicated in the program were not presented.

Capote, not involved in the production, disclosed reservations about it but said the show was "a really faithful adaptation."

Folk Singers Out Of Big Rose Parade

MONTEREY PARK (UPI) — The Monterey Park City Council voted 3-2 yesterday to remove folk-rock singers Sonny and Cher from the city's float in the New Year's Day Rose Parade in nearby Pasadena.

The council then hired someone it felt would better represent the city, cowboy singer Buck Owens.

"I have nothing against Sonny and Cher as persons," said Irvine. "In fact, I'd never heard of them. I just saw this picture of them with all those 'police brutality' protestors in the background. I'm getting sick and tired of all this 'police brutality' stuff."

A spokesman for the singers said Sonny and Cher took no part in the activities and were just observing the protest.

"They feel very hurt and that they are victims of guilt by association," the spokesman said.

Grant Accepted For Recreation Area Highway

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state has accepted a $3 million federal grant for a 25-mile highway to serve the proposed Mineral King recreation area to be developed by Walt Disney.

But agency chief Robert B. Bradford said yesterday the grant won't come through unless the state puts the entire road under contract within two years.

Bradford said this may be impossible in view of the highway's expected cost — about $1 million a mile — plus recent cutbacks in federal highway aid.

Also casting a shadow over the project, Bradford said, is the change in membership on the State Highway Commission expected in January when Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan takes office. The commission is responsible to planning how to finance the highway.

Gary Lewis Drafted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gary Lewis, who once earned $50,000 in a month-long tour, has signed up with the Army for the standard $90.60 a month, beginning Dec. 28. "You gotta go in," said the son of comedian Jerry Lewis after signing "If you have any animosity toward Army life it can be your downfall."

Volunteer Army Plan Hit By Gen. Hershey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the nation's Selective Service System has challenged the volunteer army concept advanced by some as an alternative to the military draft.

In defending the present draft system, Hershey said, "We've got to make up our minds whether we want to be defending this country or not." He said there should be no alternative — particularly in a time of war when everyone owes a debt to his country.

"If the country ever gets to the point where the average person doesn't believe in defending his country," he added, "we're done for. We've had it."

Drunken Driving Fine

Noal Lennis Robinson, 50, of 3725 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, was fined $250, with a $50 suspended, in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving. He also was placed on a year's probation. San Rafael police arrested him Dec. 3 on Solar Court.

Yacht Loss Blamed On Mystery Hit-Run Ship

PANAMA (AP)—A mysterious black, fast ship collided with the yacht Langosta in pre-dawn darkness off the Mexican coast 10 days ago and made no attempt to stop or render help, the yacht's sole survivor said yesterday.

David E. Smith, 46, of Merced, Calif., told of the collision as he recovered in Gorgas Hospital at Ancon, in the Panama Canal Zone. Smith who was the skipper of the 50 foot yacht, gave this account:

His yacht's bow was cut off by the stern of the other ship at about 2 a.m. some 400 miles north of Acapulco. The other ship executed a maneuver as if to avoid the collision just before it happened. Smith's yacht was running with all lights on.

The Langosta sank in 10 to 15 minutes. Smith, his son Monty, 19, and two other persons from the yacht clung to a one-man life raft for two days and a night. They tried to paddle toward the coast but the current was against them.

Then Monty died and the other two—Gil Fordy and Richard D. Marchand —decided to try to swim for the coast, about 40 miles away. That was the last Smith saw of them.

Smith stayed with the life raft and was picked up two days later, last Friday, by the Greek freighter Zarathustra, after crewmen heard his shouts.

Smith, sunburned and his arms bandaged, was landed in Balboa by the freighter and taken to Ancon yesterday. He was not injured but suffered from exposure to sun and salt water.

He identified Fordy and Marchand from a news dispatch from Acapulco last Monday listing four persons besides himself aboard the yacht. He said Billy Ray Ringos, one of the persons named in the dispatch, was not aboard.

The Langosta was en route to Long Beach, Calif., from Gulfport, Miss., when the collision occurred.

U.S. raliroads hauled nearly 2.4 million new motor vehicles in the first half of 1966, more than two-fifths of auto manufacturers' production, the Association of American Railroads reports.

Water Pollution Contract Signed With Kaiser

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Water Quality Control Board today signed a $1.7 million contract with Kaiser Engineers of Oakland for technical assistance in conducting a water pollution study of San Francisco Bay and the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

The study is aimed at developing a regional waste water collection, treatment and disposal system for the region — an area comprising about 40 per cent of the state.

The board is to make final recommendations on the system to the 1969 legislature.

The study grew out of state plans to drain waste waters out of the delta. Some legislators feared the original plan would have resulted in polluting San Francisco Bay.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Family Fete Set For Water-Loving Couple

Thomas and Laura Rickey of 61 Lincoln Avenue, San Anselmo, will mark of their fiftieth year of married life Dec. 21 with a family dinner at the home of a daughter.

The Rickeys, married that date in 1916 in Stockton, have lived in their San Anselmo home for 40 years.

He retired from his partnership in a wholesale tobacco and liquor distributing business in San Francisco in 1955. He was a cost accountant in the construction business earlier.

The couple has a son, Lt. Col. Stanton M. Rickey, stationed at the Pentagon with the Air Force; two daughters, Mrs. Leonard W. Hamilton and Mrs. Joseph D. Alumbaugh, both of San Rafael; eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Their golden wedding anniversary dinner will be at the home of Mrs. Hamilton. Their Washington, D. C., based son plans to attend with his family.

They are members of the San Rafael Yacht Club, where Rickey has been port captain for the last 14 years, and both enjoy cruises on the bay.

Since his retirement, Rickey has served on one federal grand jury and two Marin County grand juries. He was an unsuccessful candidate for Marin Municipal Water District director from division three in 1962.

'Girl Friday' Arraigned In Marin

Marie Della Mederios, 31, of Oakland, nicknamed "Girl Friday" because of her alleged method of operations in passing worthless checks, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a complaint charging four counts of bad checks.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. scheduled plea entry for this afternoon.

Mrs. Mederios is accused of having two $15 checks in her possession last month with intent to defraud United Market in San Rafael.

She was arrested Tuesday by San Rafael police. California's Criminal Investigation and Identification Bureau said she is wanted by 20 police departments for a spree of writing bad checks on Fridays, then leaving the area during the weekend.

Alano Club Moves Into New Quarters

Alano Club of Marin, which helps alcoholics, has moved from 1405 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, to 1462 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

The club will be open Thursday and Friday nights from 7 to 11, on Saturdays from 2 p.m. to 11 p.m. and on Sundays from 2 to 8 p.m.

Librarian Slates Children's Hours

Barbara Rauhala, Marin County children's librarian, will tell Christmas stories next Tuesday through Thursday at six branches of the county library.

The schedule: Civic Center, 2 p.m. Tuesday; Ross Valley, 3:30 p.m. Tuesday; Corte Madera, 10 a.m. Wednesday; Fairfax, 2 p.m. Wednesday; Novato, 2 p.m. Thursday, and Belvedere-Tiburon, 4 p.m. Thursday.

Christmas Tableau

San Domenico School will present a Christmas tableau at 8 p.m. today and 2 p.m. Friday at the school. The program is directed by Ann Brebner.

Marijuana Charge Plea Slated Today

Michael Raymond Tauer, 19, was to plead in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon to a charge of possessing marijuana when returning to county jail from work furlough.

Tauer, arraigned on the felony charge yesterday, is accused of having two marijuana cigarettes in one of his socks when he reported back to jail Monday evening. He is already serving 120 days for possession of narcotics paraphernalia and violation of probation.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1966 29

"WONDERFUL, WONDERFUL" — Mrs. Alice Parker, 66, of 598 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley (left) and Mrs. Zelita Jones, 69, of 4 Ashwood Court, San Rafael, are roommates at Marin General Hospital where they've each been confined to bed for a month, both with hip operations. Both are voluble in their praises for Medicare—"it's wonderful, wonderful." Signed up for Medicare's hospital and doctor benefits, they paid only the first $50. Medicare paid, and will pay, the rest. (Independent-Journal photo)

Local Medicare Seems To Be Thriving

By PAT PERRY

Like it or not, Medicare is here to stay, another offspring of the federal government's burgeoning family — and people like it.

Ushered in at its July 1 birth with cries of dismay and a gloomy prognosis from the American Medical Assn., Medicare seems to be thriving—in Marin County, anyway.

It's had teething problems admittedly. Financial ones. Dr. John C. Siemens, administrator of Ross and Novato General Hospitals, has been extremely unhappy about the reimbursement system, and has forecast that it could result in increased charges to the private paying patients.

BILLING DELAYS

He's still far from satisfied with financial aspects. He wrote in this month's Marin Medical Society Bulletin: "The delay in billing because of complexities, the delay in getting patients' eligibility established and the frequent rejection of bills because of inconsequential errors, all have the result of decreasing cash flow to the hospital. This means hospitals are having to provide for more working capital. And who pays the cost of working capital? The private paying patient."

This week Dr. Siemens was more optimistic. "It's looking a little better now," he said.

Wallowing in paperwork is universal. Marin General Hospital hired an extra fulltime bookkeeper to deal solely with Medicare forms and another part-time employee may be necessary.

Center Medical Hospital in Kentfield hired a fulltime accountant to process Medicare accounts. At present some 50 per cent of the medical cases there are Medicare patients.

Administrator Donald Barksdale said: "I think the program is good, but the administration was pretty poor in its inception." Things are improving rapidly now, Barksdale, but in the beginning his hospital was running anywhere from three to four months in arrears of payments. Once Medicare and MediCal (the state program) payment were $90,000 behind.

Blue Cross in Oakland is the federal government's intermediary for hospital Medicare cases. Public Relations spokesman Bryant King said: "These programs have taken a little while to get rolling. Hospitals didn't realize at first they had emergency funds to draw on." (On Oct. 24 the Social Security Administration announced that proprietary hospitals will be allowed a 7½ per cent return on their invested capital."

NO ABUSES

None of Marin's participating hospitals has encountered any abuse of the program. There's a built-in guard against malingering, for each agency must have an active utilization review committee, comprised of professionals who review each case.

At Marin General Hospital, the Medicare patient percentage has levelled off at 15 per cent. Administratior Ray Bollinger said these, get exactly the same care as private paying patients.

In fact, said Bollinger, Medicare patients get more care than many others, simply because they are older and require more nursing care. And that's a major bone of contention remaining between participating hospitals and the Medicare administration. Hospitals are reimbursed for Medicare patients on a basis of the average patient cost.

"The federal government won't let a hospital include in its average costs departments such as obstetrics and pediatrics and emergency facilities. On the other hand, a general hospital has to include these departments in its average costs. Marin General is currently one of 50 hospitals nation-wide engaged in a study of this problem," he said.

"All hospitals have had problems with Medicare simply because of the newness and the speed involved. But I must say the intermediary, Blue Cross, has bent over backwards to be helpful."

LITTLE DIFFERENCE

Medicare has made "very little or no difference" at Kaiser Terra Linda Valley Hospital, said administrator Dr. Albert E. White. Some 25 per cent of patients there are covered by Medicare. ("Most of our over-65's, as members of our health plan, had received the same kind of care before July 1 as they now get under Medicare." White said.

Now that Medicare is on its feet, another birth is imminent. On Jan. 1 a new baby "Extended Care Benefits After Hospitalization" joins a family, which, it is now freely admitted, may lead to socialized medicine for everyone some day.

Already 70 per cent of Marin County's convalescent hospitals have applied to the State Bureau of Hospitals in Berkeley to qualify for the extended care program.

The idea is that at sometime during a hospital stay, many patients no longer need the intensive care which the hospital provides but still need continuous skilled nursing care. This kind of care can be provided just as effectively, at less cost, in a high-quality extended care facility, reasons the Social Security Administration.

EXTENDED CARE

It's not yet known yet just how much the federal government will pay for Medicare patients in the extended care program. Currently Marin hospital room rates are running around $40 a day, while Marin convalescent hospitals charge around $18 a day.

Misconceptions about the new extended care progam are rampant. Many people think anyone over 65 now in a convalescent hospital or nursing home will automatically get bills paid by Medicare. This is far from true.

Bryant King of Blue Cross explained that it's only for over-65 patients who have been hospitalized for an acute illness of at least three days' duration, and then enter a qualified extended care facility within 14 days, on doctors orders.

FULL COSTS

Medicare pays the full costs for the first 20 days and all but $5 a day for 80 additional days. Within each "spell of illness," Medicare hospital insurance covers up to 90 days of hospital care and 100 days of extended care services.

There will undoubtedly be problems in getting the new facet of Medicare into gear, say all the involved officials, but experience gained in the last six months will help.

Lodge Hall's Stock Of Beer Is Stolen

Someone broke into the storeroom at the IDESI hall at 901 Sweetser Avenue, Novato, and took 10 cases of beer between Dec. 4 and yesterday, Nancy Lee Brazil of 1201 Chase Street, Novato, reported to police.

The hasp was pried off the door, police reported.

Horse Killed As It Dashes Onto Freeway

A horse, pursued by its owner, ran onto Highway 101 at Novato at 7:45 p.m. yesterday and was promptly killed by a car.

California Highway Patrol reported a 16-year-old palomino owned by Sherman J. Lucas of 1260 Yukon Way, Novato, knocked down a fence and ran onto the highway just south of the Novato Creek Bridge, Lucas in pursuit trying to catch him.

A southbound car driven by Robert Ernest Moeller, 42, of 1713 Novato Boulevard, Novato, hit the horse, knocking it into the inside lane where it was hit again by a car driven by Susan Mercer Mead, 20, of 19 Park Way, San Anselmo, then a third time by one driven by Mrs. H. M. Grimwood of San Francisco.

Two passengers in the Moeller car, Sherry Moeller, 7, and Gregory Moeller, 9, were shaken up but refused hospitalization, the patrol reported.

Liquor Licenses

The State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has issued licenses to: Deo Rose, Jae Soon, Walter J. Del Rose and Tom Hom doing business as the Peacock, 1618 Grant Avenue, Novato, for on-premises sale of beer and wine; Sil and Corinne Petrini for off-premise sale of beer and wine and 1550 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon; and to Safeway Store at 2 Bon Air Road, Greenbrae, for off-sale of beer and wine.

Purchase Of Golf Course Has Problems

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney yesterday pointed out some problems that could arise in the proposal for county acquisition, through revenue bonds, of the 146-acre San Geronimo Valley Golf Course.

San Geronimo Valley Properties, Inc., made the proposal to supervisors several months ago. The board endorsed the idea in principle and asked that legal ramifications be explored.

FINANCING PLAN

Robert Roumiguiere explained the proposal to the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday. The property would be deeded to a non-profit corporation which would sell tax-free revenue bonds to finance the purchase.

The bonds, probably totaling about $2.25 million at 6 per cent interest for 25 years, would be paid off through proceeds from the operation of the golf course.

When the bonds were retired, the facility would become county property with no charge to the the county. This gift to a public agency is a necessary condition to make the bonds tax-free.

Maloney said the proposal gives the promoters advantageous financing for the sale of the golf course.

OTHER ACTION

If operation of the course could not pay off the bonds and there was a foreclosure by the bond holders, supervisors might be put under political pressure to purchase the course to prevent its sale for development, Maloney said.

He said the plan is extremely complictaed. Many fees and charges are involved and these could heighten problems in case of earlier forecosure because there would be very little real equity in the property until after fees are paid.

COST OF LAND

Roumiguiere said he was figuring the land at $2,700 an acre for a total $394,000, construction of the course at $606,000, and the clubhouse and pool at $500,000 for a total of $1.5 million. There would be around $500,000 in legal, brokerage and other fees and charges, he estimated — maybe more.

Commissioners asked that the proposal be presented again when the lease form has been drawn up. Roumiguiere agreed.

Trio Will Seek Posts On Board

Three candidates will contest for two positions on the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District Board in a special election Feb. 7.

Filing before the deadline at noon today were Howard Bean of 204 Caribe Isle; Clyde A. Wrightsman of 228 Montego Key, and William J. Breber of 12 Montego Key, reported Mrs. James Zoeller, district secretary.

The election is to increase the board of the district near Novato from three to five members and elect candidates to the new positions if the increase is approved. If the increase is rejected, nobody will be elected.

South Marin Communities Blacked Out

Electric power failed in large areas of southern Marin last evening when a 12,000-volt line burned in Marinship, a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spokesman said today.

Z. P. Melcon, district electric superintendent, said the wire burned and fell on the shoulder of Bridgeway near the Big G Supermarket at 8:50 p.m.

Sausalito firemen and police roped off the area until the line was repaired.

The failure hit Marinship, Marin City, Tennessee, Tamalpais and Homestead Valleys, Southern Mill Valley, Muir Beach, Stinson Beach, and Bolinas. Service was restored in sections, with most restored by 10:27 p.m. Ten commercial customers in Marinship had no electricity until 2:48 a.m. today, Melcon said.

He said the cause of the failure was still unknown.

Today is Thursday, Dec. 15, the 349th day of 1966 with 16 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

French engineer Alexandre Eiffel was born on this day in 1832. The Eiffel Tower in Paris was named for him.

On this day in history:

In 1791, the first 10 amendments to the constitution — known as the Bill of Rights — went into effect following ratification by the state of Virginia.

In 1944, American forces led by Gen. Douglas MacArthur landed at Mindoro, in the Philippine Islands in World War II.

A thought for the day— American writer E. Scott Fitzgerald said: "The test of a first-rate intelligence is the ability to hold two opposed ideas in mind at the same time and still retain the ability to function."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

By Controlling The Trumps, You Also Control The Play

In many hands the key to success is to draw exactly two rounds of trumps before going on with your other plans.

If you're violent with the key, however, it may break before you manage to open the door.

Opening lead — ♠ 3

South refused the first spade trick, shrewdly enough, but took the second trick with the ace of spades.

After this promising start South went full speed ahead with the trumps, leading out the ace and then a low trump.

LONE TRUMP

East won the second round of trumps and promptly drew a third trump, thus leaving only one trump in the dummy.

North was vaguely dissatisfied. "If you study the hand hard enough," he suggested, "you can probably find a way to go down two."

SHOULD MAKE

South can make the contract by drawing only two rounds of trumps.

He wants to leave two trumps in dummy to take care of the two losing spades but he doesn't want to risk an over-ruff of dummy by a player who started with only two trumps.

After taking the second trick with the ace of spades, South should lead a low trump.

SPARED INSULT

No matter what is returned, South can draw exactly one more round of trumps with the ace — and then he abandons trumps.

South ruffs a spade in dummy, gets to his hand with a club and ruffs his last spade. The defenders get, in all, two trumps and the first spade—and South is spared his partner's sarcasm.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one club.

If partner bids one diamond, you can bid one heart; but if partner responds first in a major suit you can raise to two of that suit. No response can embarrass you.

Red Tape Holds Up Good Water

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian red tape deprived 30,000 villagers in Upper Egypt of potable water for the past 10 years, the newspaper Alakhbar reported.

Two councils running the affairs of Girga city conflicted over whose duty it was to install a short pipe. It took them 10 years to determine who was to do what.

Meanwhile, the villagers drink subterranean water, reported by scientists as unsuitable.

Red Tape Holds Up Good Water

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian red tape deprived 30,000 villagers in Upper Egypt of potable water for the past 10 years, the newspaper Alakhbar reported.

Two councils running the affairs of Girga city conflicted over whose duty it was to install a short pipe. It took them 10 years to determine who was to do what.

Meanwhile, the villagers drink subterranean water, reported by scientists as unsuitable.

Six Brown-Appointed Judges Are Confirmed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Six appointments of Gov. Edmund G. Brown to the California Court of Appeal were approved yesterday by the commission on Judicial Appointments.

The commission, composed of Chief Justice Roger J. Traynor, Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, and Appellate Judge Parker Wood, took the following action:

Appointed Sen. James A. Cobey, Merced, to Ford's position.

California Tops Tomato Harvest

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Indiana, once the nation's top tomato producing state, and other major tomato growing areas have fallen far behind California.

Max D. Reeder, general manager of H. J. Heinz Co.'s agricultural division, said yesterday about 75 per cent of California tomato growing was mechanized last year. The figure for all the rest of the country was less than 1 per cent.

More than 7.5 million persons in the United States play tennis.

Movie Set War Becomes Too Realistic For Safety

GRANADA, Spain (UPI) — Actors Yul Brynner and Trevor Howard and their wives, Doris and Helen, escaped injury today when a series of explosions showered onlookers with sparks and hot splinters on the set of "The Long Duel" near Granada.

The two couples were among several onlookers watching scenes of soldiers running for cover as a fort armory blew up and part of the set caught fire —as per schedule.

The unrehearsed drama came when the melee of extras, all scrambling to safety in genuine terror, held up unit firemen, company officials said.

English Actor David Summer was momentarily stunned by a special effects gunpowder explosion. Other actors, blinded by thick black smoke, had to grope their way out. Some suffered minor facial burns while others had their hair and costumes singed.

Student Prose, Poetry Contest To Be Tomorrow

Seventh grade students from four Catholic schools in Marin County will compete in a declamation contest at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's School in San Rafael.

Students will interpret the prose or poetry selections they have memorized in oral presentations. Participants will be Timothy Flagerman and Dolores Meiswinkel of Blessed Sacrament School, Santa Venetia; Nancy Bradford and Mary Beth Riley of St. Isabella's School, Terra Linda; Laura Grandin and Cindy Scales of San Domenico School, Sleepy Hollow, and Eileen Hicken and Anne Lichtenwalner of St. Raphael's.

Speeches will be judged by Hanlon Tharp, principal of Davidson School, San Rafael; John J. Alvarado, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, and Sister Marie, O.P., English professor at Dominican College, San Rafael.

Asphalt pavements look slippery when wet but actually have higher resistance to skidding than any other type of pavement.

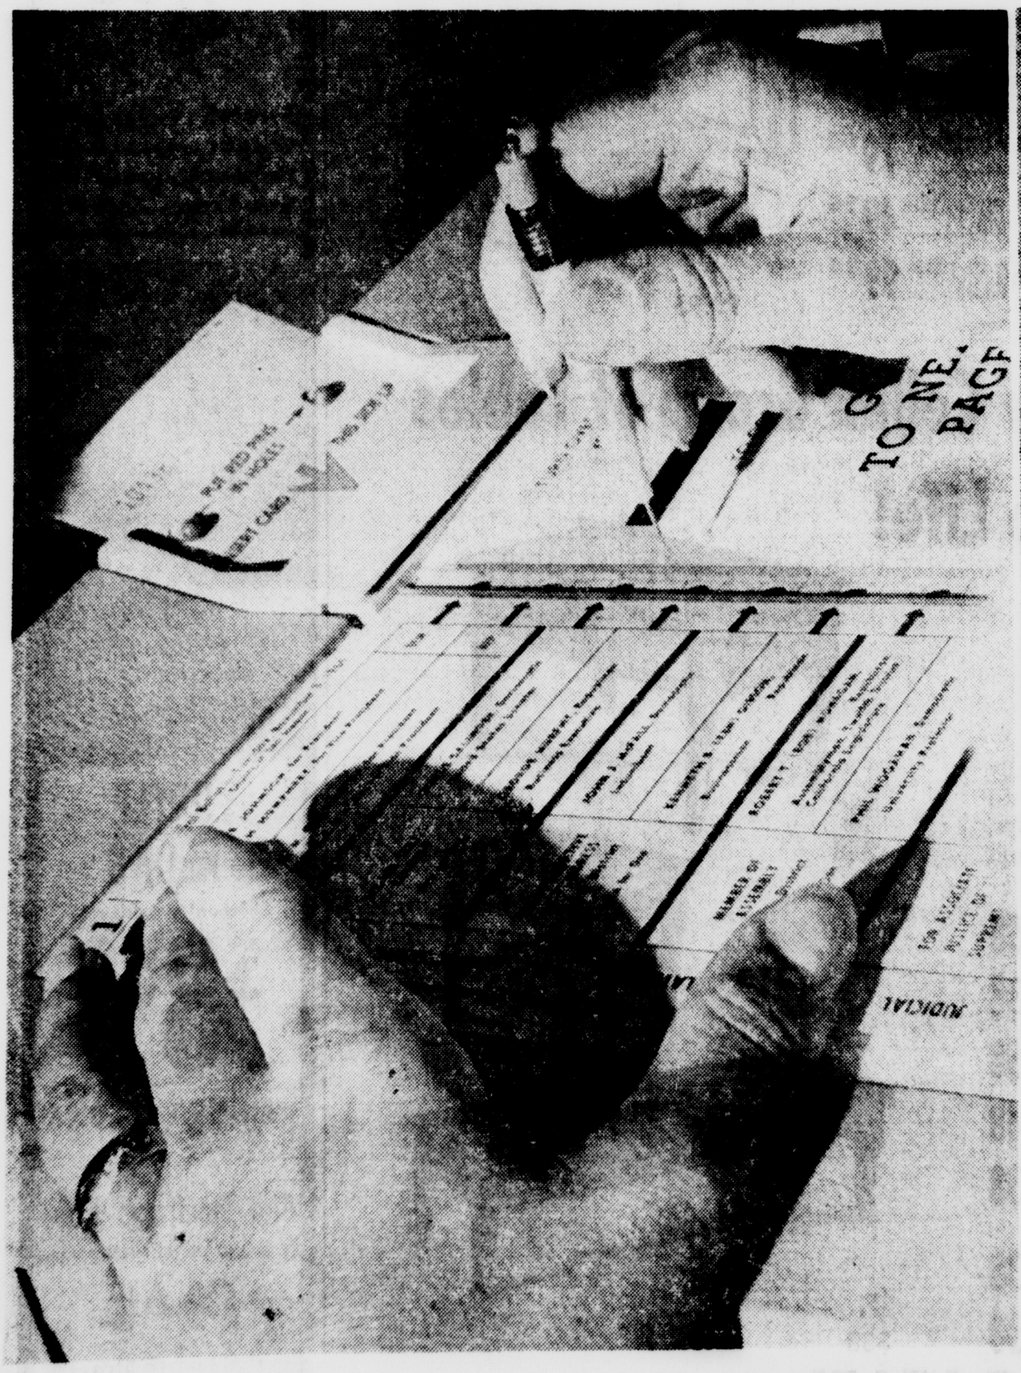
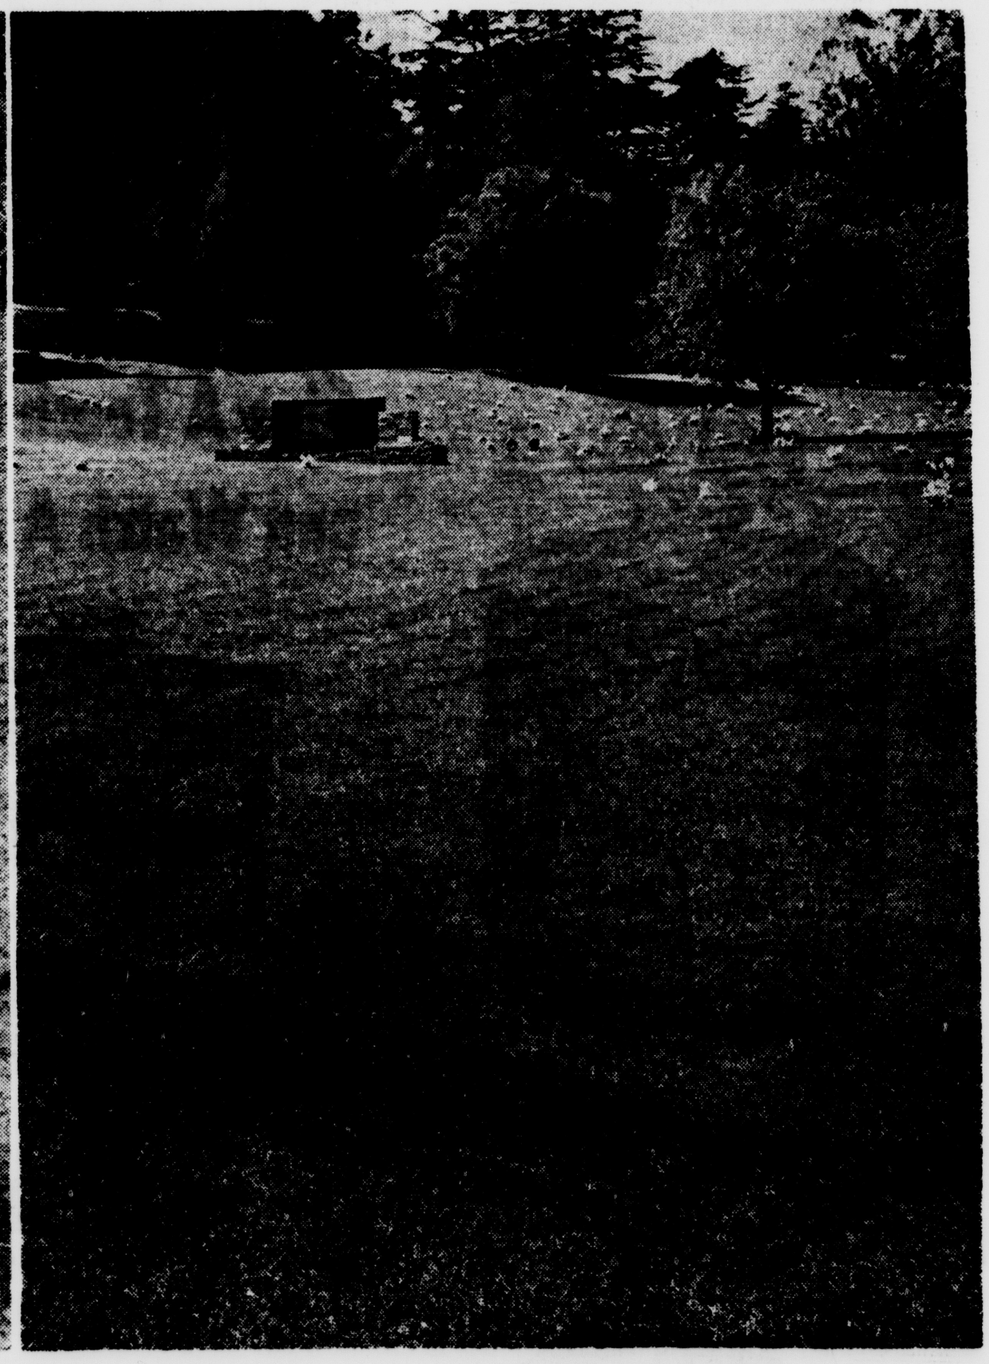
ON GUARD—The most widely reprinted picture in the Independent-Journal during 1966 was this photo by photographer Dave Mayhew, which appeared on Page 1 on June 13. Kitty, the jaguar, was chained to guard Fitz's Richfield Service Station in Alto after attendant Joe Ghazar was beaten by a gang of youths. The picture, sent from San Rafael by Associated Press Wirephoto, was reprinted around the world.

IT STARTED WITH FLOODS—Like many years, 1966 in Marin was ushered in by storm and flood. This was the scene on Kent Avenue in Kentfield on Jan. 5, as photographed by Bob Hax. A score of residents were evacuated.

GRAVE IN THE NEWS—Tiburon small fry bade an affectionate farewell at the end of February to a longtime favorite, Blackie, the sway-backed horse that had for many years grazed in a pasture beside Tiburon Boulevard. They erected a makeshift cross to mark the grave. This picture by Frank Farrara of Sally Raisin, 5, and her brother, Preston, 3, and the story he wrote with it won a San Francisco Press Club award.

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY





PUNCH CARDS, AND MORE GRAVES—Marinites had their first experience with punch-card voting in the June primary. Troubles that developed because cards did not punch out cleanly continued to plague election officials., and annoy voters, in the November election. The I-J twice ran this picture showing how the voting was done in preparation for its first try in June. Also during the first half of 1966, unmarked graves made the news with disclosure that Marin County places only numbered markers (as in center photo at old Lucas Valley cemetery) or none at all (as in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, at right) on the graves of those buried at county expense. Although supervisors expressed shock over the disclosure, nothing was done about it.

Parcel 1 as shown on that certain Map entitled, "Map of Re-subdivision of Assessor's Parcel 5-062-28, San Anselmo, Marin Co., Calif.", filed for record on January 4, 1964 in Book 12 of Maps, at page 59, Marin County Records.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM the interest conveyed to the City of San Anselmo, in Deed recorded in Liber 385 of Official Records, at page 293. (Affects the Southeasterly corner of said land).

BEGINNING at a point on the Easterly line of Camino de Herrera which point bears North 89° 49' 30" West 557.64 feet, and South 101.83 feet from the Southeast corner of that certain John Dias Tract referred to above and running thence along said line of Camino de Herrera, North 75° 24' West 25.926 feet; thence leaving Camino de Herrera and running North 78° 24' 30" East 100.882 feet, North 86° 37' 30" East 49.755 feet, South 75° 56' 30" East 131.085 feet, South 81° 20' 30" East 112.031 feet, South 82° 25' 30" East 157.780 feet, South 24° 19' 30" East 180.979 feet, South 46.465 feet, West 50 feet, North 59.966 feet, North 24° 19' 30" West 125.872 feet, North 82° 25' 30" West 135.939 feet, North 81° 20' 30" West 114.296 feet, North 75° 56' 30" West 126.839 feet, South 86° 37' 30" West 40.749 feet, South 78° 24' 30" West 70.328 feet to the aforesaid line of Camino de Herrera, thence along said line North 20° 23' West 28.892 feet to the point of beginning.

ALSO AN EASEMENT over a strip of land 5 feet in width lying 2.5 feet on each side of the following described center line:

BEGINNING at a point on the Westerly line of Butterfield Road distant thereon North 21° 42' East 2.5 feet from the most Easterly corner of that certain tract of land conveyed from Thomas T. Kent to Clarence Eye, et ux, by Deed dated on February 1, 1927 and recorded in Liber 113 of Official Records, at page 150, Marin County Records, and running thence parallel to the Northerly line of said tract North 53° 03' West 185 feet, thence North 29° West 89 feet, thence North 62° 21' West 97.73 feet to the East line of the above described easement.

TOGETHER WITH an easement for public utilities, including the installation and maintenance of a sewer line over, along and across a strip of land with a uniform width of ten feet, the Southerly line of which is described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point which bears North 89° 42' West 98.64 feet and North 0° 18' East 55 feet from the Northwesterly corner of the land conveyed to Lawrence Dudley Sweeney, et ux, in deed recorded December 2, 1943 in Liber 458 of Official Records, at page 65, Marin County Records; thence Northeasterly to a point distant North 89° 42' West 9.02 feet and North 0° 18' East 79.4 feet from the Northwesterly corner of the land conveyed to Lawrence Dudley Sweeney, above referred to; thence North 63° 03' 30" East 78 feet to a roadway known as Carlson Court.

TOGETHER WITH an easement for public utilities, including the installation and maintenance of a sewer line under, along and across a strip of land with a uniform width of twenty (20) feet, the Southerly line of which is described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point which bears North 89° 42' West 98.64 feet and North 0° 18' East 55 feet from the Northwesterly corner of the land conveyed to Lawrence Dudley Sweeney, et ux, in deed recorded December 2, 1943 in Liber 458 of Official Records, at page 65, Marin County Records; thence North 75° 03' 20" East 168.2 feet, more or less, to a point in the Westerly line of a certain roadway known as Carlson Court; the Northerly line of said Easement is to be extended or shortened so as to terminate on the Westerly line of said Carlson Court and on the Easterly line of the lands of Danny D. Mapes, et ux, as set forth in the Deed recorded January 24, 1961 in Liber 1431 of Official Records, at page 39, Marin County Records.

SAID EASEMENT is granted for the benefit of and appurtenant to all or any part or portions of the adjacent lands of the Grantee. Said easement is granted upon the condition that the grantee herein, his heirs, successors or assigns, install, at the expense of the grantee, a four (4) inch sewer pipe with four 4 by 4 "Y's" within the above described easement, within 2 months from the date of this instrument. In the event the above condition is not met within the prescribed time, this Easement shall cease and terminate.

RESERVING THEREFROM unto the Grantor herein, his heirs, successors and assigns, the right to locate the above described four, 4 by 4 "Y's" and the right to connect with the same for the benefit of said Grantor's remaining adjacent lands.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances to satisfy the obligation secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain Deed of Trust executed by Danny D. Mapes and Yvonne Mapes, his wife, to Pacific Coast Title Company of Marin, a corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of Marin County Savings and Loan Association, a California corporation, dated February 27, 1964 and recorded March 5, 1964 in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 1787 of Official Records, at page 348.

ALSO AN EASEMENT over a strip of land 5 feet in width lying 2.5 feet on each side of the following described center line:

BEGINNING at a point on the Westerly line of Butterfield Road distant thereon North 21° 42' East 2.5 feet from the most Easterly corner of that certain tract of land conveyed from Thomas T. Kent to Clarence Eye, et ux, by Deed dated on February 1, 1927 and recorded in Liber 113 of Official Records, at page 150, Marin County Records, and running thence parallel to the Northerly line of said tract North 53° 03' West 185 feet, thence North 29° West 89 feet, thence North 62° 21' West 97.73 feet to the East line of the above described easement.

TOGETHER WITH an easement for public utilities, including the installation and maintenance of a sewer line over, along and across a strip of land with a uniform width of ten feet, the Southerly line of which is described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point which bears North 89° 42' West 98.64 feet and North 0° 18' East 55 feet from the Northwesterly corner of the land conveyed to Lawrence Dudley Sweeney, et ux, in deed recorded December 2, 1943 in Liber 458 of Official Records, at page 65, Marin County Records; thence Northeasterly to a point distant North 89° 42' West 9.02 feet and North 0° 18' East 79.4 feet from the Northwesterly corner of the land conveyed to Lawrence Dudley Sweeney, above referred to; thence North 63° 03' 30" East 78 feet to a roadway known as Carlson Court.

TOGETHER WITH an easement for public utilities, including the installation and maintenance of a sewer line under, along and across a strip of land with a uniform width of twenty (20) feet, the Southerly line of which is described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point which bears North 89° 42' West 98.64 feet and North 0° 18' East 55 feet from the Northwesterly corner of the land conveyed to Lawrence Dudley Sweeney, et ux, in deed recorded December 2, 1943 in Liber 458 of Official Records, at page 65, Marin County Records; thence North 75° 30' 20" East 168.2 feet, more or less, to a point in the Westerly line of a certain roadway known as Carlson Court; the Northerly line of said Easement is to be extended or shortened so as to terminate on the Westerly line of said Carlson Court and on the Easterly line of the lands of Danny D. Mapes, et ux, as set forth in the Deed recorded January 24, 1961 in Liber 1431 of Official Records, at page 39, Marin County Records.

SAID EASEMENT is granted for the benefit of and appurtenant to all or any part or portions of the adjacent lands of the Grantee. Said easement is granted upon the condition that the grantee herein, his heirs, successors or assigns, install, at the expense of the grantee, a four (4) inch sewer pipe with four 4 by 4 "Y's" within the above described easement, within 2 months from the date of this instrument. In the event the above condition is not met within the prescribed time, this Easement shall cease and terminate.

RESERVING THEREFROM unto the Grantor herein, his heirs, successors and assigns, the right to locate the above described four, 4 by 4 "Y's" and the right to connect with the same for the benefit of said Grantor's remaining adjacent lands.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances to satisfy the obligation secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain Deed of Trust executed by Danny D. Mapes and Yvonne Mapes, his wife, to Pacific Coast Title Company of Marin, a corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of Marin County Savings and Loan Association, a California corporation, dated February 27, 1964 and recorded March 5, 1964 in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 1787 of Official Records, at page 348.

Credit Control Changes Seen Next Month

By PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Some time after the first of the year, the credit controllers at the Federal Reserve Board will take firm steps to make money easier. Mortgage and other interest rates then will finally begin to come down.

That's the view of government economists and officials. They see the forces of change at work in the trend of business activity and in the tax and spending decisions President Johnson is likely to make.

Surprisingly, this conclusion does not necessarily assume that the President will ask for tax increases in January. The experts can visualize a set of circumstances in which the economy is reasonably safe from inflation without higher taxes and with looser reins on credit.

Put another way, a case can be made for easier money whether defense spending jumps $10 billion and whether taxes are increased or not.

First, suppose that defense spending can be held to something less than the outside limits being mentioned. Congress and the President will be cutting defense outlays sharply, so that the deficit can probably be kept to $4 billion or $5 billion.

This level of spending and this big deficit would not be sufficient to keep the current weakening in the civilian sector of the economy from persisting — or even spending further. Note that the economy has kept softening throughout the second half of 1966, precisely when defense spending for the Viet Nam war was increasing fastest.

In this situation, the President would not be asking for higher taxes. A modest deficit would seem appropriate as a business stimulator — and wouldn't add to pressures of inflation. Indeed, some easing of money would be necessary to help the economy grow at the rate of 3.5 per cent to 4 per cent a year that is considered desirable and sustainable.

Now, suppose that the jump in war spending is huge and big enough to rekindle the exurberance that ruled the economy up to the early part of this year. The President would then be faced with both a big deficit and inflation. He would have to ask for increased taxes — and presumably he would get them.

The tax hikes would no doubt be big enough to offset the extra war spending. Once taxes are imposed, though, steps would be all the more neecssary to prevent further weakening in business spending for plant and equipment, and in consumer buying of autos and appliances. Again, an easing of money would be called for.

The Federal Reserve Board will be quick to act, once it knows the President's intentions. Some officials feel that credit was allowed to get too tight last summer. Indeed, some observers see evidence that the "Fed" has already begun to ease up slightly, in advance of word from the President. The money controllers know that any easing action would not be felt at once. If they want results early in 1967, some anticipating may be necessary.

The declines in interest rates will come fairly slowly once they begin. That's because there will be substantial demands for money from would-be borrowers still willing to pay a high price for credit.

High-Altitude Mexican Olympics Will Shatter Many Precedents

MEXICO CITY (ANS)—The XIX Olympic Games, scheduled to take place in this capital two years hence, promise to be unlike any other in the 72 years since the ancient Greek sports classic was revived.

Sports, to begin with, will not be the sole feature of the Mexican-staged Olympics but will share honors with culture — something that has never occurred since the modern Olympics began back in 1896.

The sports program consisting of 20 different competitions will be matched by "20 cultural events," and the participating nations have been invited to send along two art works each for display, the president of the Mexican Olympic organizing committee, Pedro Ramirez Vasquez, announced.

The cultural phase will begin a month before the sports competitions, on Sept. 15, 1968, and will terminate when the sports start on Oct. 12. The athletic events will end on Oct. 23.

Unprecedented, too, is the fact that the altitude of Mexico City is the highest (7,349 feet) Olympic athletes have ever had to compete in, and that has aroused a controversy in international sports and medical circles which is unlikely to end until the games are over.

Taking the high altitude into account, the International Olympic Committee has decreed that athletes may be allowed four weeks of training at a comparable altitude before the games. But some experts say that is not enough time.

Dr. Peo Astrand of Sweden has said Mexico is a dangerous place for endurance events.

On the other hand, a French doctor named Herve Stephan says that athletes unused to high altitudes can compete successfully in Mexico City provided they observe certain rules. He is making virtually a new science of studying what happens to athletes in such altitudes.

But a low budget, construction problems, and the danger of overcrowding are greater headaches for the Mexican organizing committee than altitude.

As a relatively poor country, Mexico is both unable and unwilling to invest in the Olympics anywhere near the $2 billion Japan is said to have spent on the 1964 games. From the point of view of tourist and other economic returns on such an investment, the 1968 Olympics are described as "a risky undertaking" for Mexico by Tourism Minister Agustin Salvat.

Accordingly, Mexico has limited her Olympic budget to a mere $25 million, which means that a lot of scrimping and cutting of corners must be done. Olympic construction, for example, is being built with an eye to future use. Thus the Olympic Village now going up will become a housing project after it has temporarily housed athletes during the games.

There has been much debate here, muddied by politics, as to whether Mexico is behind or on schedule with Olympic construction.

Vasque claims that everything is proceeding according to plans that Mexico submitted to the International Olympic Committee in 1963, when it was decided she would be the 1968 site. Since he is an architect by profession, and has had direct charge of Olympic construction from the outset, presumably he knows.

As an example, he said scheduled start on the palace of sports was on time.

The head of the IOC, Avery Brundage, was on hand to witness the commencement of the work and came away with praise for the "fine team" in charge of Mexican Olympic preparations.

Mexico's Olympian Achilles' heel, however, may prove to be neither poverty nor politics but her proximity to the United States. The constant nightmare of Mexican officials is that a deluge of American motorists may descend upon this capital in the fall of 1968 and cause unmanageable congestion.

Or take the problem of beds to put up visitors. Some 250,000 visitors are expected for the Olympics. In addition there is the usual October flow of about 50,000 or more tourists into Mexico City. But the city, according to the tourism department, has accommodations for only 28,619 persons.

Olympic, tourism and hotel officials are feverishly working toward expanding accommodations to at least 82,000 rooms by 1968. That figure includes new rooms to be built by hotel and motel companies, new trailer camps, and beds to be provided by civic groups such as the Lions and by outlying communities.

Of course, the capital is capable of building many more rooms than the goal stated above. But again, Mexico is cannily trying to profit by the experience of Tokyo, which set no limit on building new accommodations and after the Olympics was stuck with a lot of empty and unusuable rooms.

To control the anticipated flood of visitors, the tourism department has already set up a control office through which reservations for both rooms and tickets to the games can be made. But if would-be Olympic goers don't hurry, there will be neither rooms nor tickets available before this year is out.

Photosynthesis Isolated In Lab

Special to the I-J

BERKELEY— Photosynthesis, the process whereby green plants manufacture the earth's energy foods, has for the first time been conducted swiftly and completely outside the cells of green plants.

The work was reported in the "Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences" by two scientists in the University of California Lawrence Radiation Laboratory here, Dr. James A. Bassham, chemist, and Dr. R. G. Jensen, National Cancer Institute post-doctoral fellow. The work was supported by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The scientists also described experiments in which they used their "isolated" photosynthesis technique to discover two major control mechanisms of the complex photosynthetic cycle.

The Berkeley scientists speculated that future knowledge of photosynthetic mechanisms may ultimately make it possible to raise protein and fat content of conventional agricultural crops and to produce food crops in leaf plants not now cultivated.

Men Are Best Doughnut Makers

NEWTON, Mass. (UPI) — Men make better doughnut bakers than women, according to Sal Bucchieri, 40-year-old faculty member of a school for franchise operators who are going into the business of selling doughnuts and coffee.

"Men have no hesitancy about plunging their hands into a pan of dough," says Bucchieri. "Women do. Women are repressed —when it comes to making doughnuts, that is." The school in which Bucchieri teaches (Dunkin' Donuts University) graduates a score of men and women every six weeks.

All Wet Location

SNOWDEN, England (UPI) — Postal workers picked the clearest spot they could find when they erected a new public letter box. No one told them it was the local pond during winter rains. So, until the next dry spell, one drowned letter box.

Misses The Elevator

ZARAGOZA, Spain (UPI) — Alberto Clerencio, 32, "missed that first step" and fell nearly 100 feet down the elevator shaft of his apartment house. He broke both hips and both legs but was able to shout up to anxious relatives, "I'm here!"

Drive On Tuesdays

CHICAGO (UPI) —It's safest to drive on Tuesday, according to the National Safety Council, which reports motor vehicle deaths vary sharply from day to day. Saturday, the Council says, is the most dangerous.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Proper Use Of Alcohol Not Harmful; Heavy Nipping Bad

VAN DELLEN

There are many serious and embarrassing side effects to overindulgence in alcohol. The worst is the possibility of becoming an alcoholic, even though the chance is not great. Eighty million Americans drink approximately 300 million gallons of liquor a year. Of these, 6.5 million become alcoholics. This demonstrates that the majority do not become problem drinkers, develop cirrhosis of the liver, wreck their lives, or become criminals or bums.

There also is a chance that the user will hurt or kill himself or others. This is a possibility because one-half of all fatal accidents involve a person who has been imbibing. In addition heavy drinking shortens life from 10 to 12 years.

DESPITE THE considerable difference of opinion about the definition of an alcoholic, all concede that he is a person who has lost control of his ability to drink and has become dependent upon alcohol. In 1790, Dr. Benjamin Rush suggested that uncontrolled drinking might be a disease. Ten years ago delegates to the A.M.A. convention passed a resolution declaring alcoholism a disease. This is the sophisticated approach, even though many physicians agree that it is not like any disease with which they are familiar. New laws may keep the alcoholic out of jail and add to the shortage of hospital beds—a la medicare.

Getting drunk may aggravate existing diseases. A few ounces of booze may relax a person with heart trouble, but it will create stress if he overindulges. The pulse may double and he might overeat or exert himself beyond reason. Diabetics, and those with gout or peptic ulcer also may forget "doctor's orders" in the circumstances.

A PATIENT of mine with a rheumatic tendency was always banging his hand against the door or table when feeling high. Arthritis of the fingers developed as a result of the trauma. He also is embarrassed when he cannot remember what he said or forgets commitments he made the night before.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

VERY RED FACE

A reader writes: I have been in the habit of drinking a quart or two of cheap wine every week. Now after I have given up this practice my face is very red. Did the wine cause this or could it be something else?

REPLY

Something else. Various foods, drinks, drugs, emotions, and internal conditions may redden the face. Tension may do the same.

DESCENDING TROUBLESOME

Mrs. H. writes. A friend of mine with a heart condition claims it bothers her more to go downstairs than up. Do you think this is likely?

REPLY

If she says so it must be true. The relationship between heart disease and stairs is one of work. For this reason, I doubt whether the difficulty your friend has on walking downstairs is related to her heart.

ILLNESS AND CHILDREN

L.B. writes: I have two children under 11 years of age. My mother-in-law has terminal cancer. Is it healthy for her to kiss the children on the cheek?

REPLY

To the best of our knowledge, cancer is not contagious. It is not passed along via kissing.

WART COLOR

REPLY

Personality Type Session Planned

By PATRICIA McBROOM
Science Service

WASHINGTON—When the National Crime Commission submits its report to President Johnson next January, it will propose a method for typing personalities that promises to update the nation's correctional system.

The aim is to tailor correctional measures to fit different types of individuals. Traditional treatment of the criminal population has been unsophisticated to say the least—"We've been firing with a shotgun," said Dr. Elmer K. Nelson, who heads the commission's task force on corrections.

"Until we can break down the offender population," said Dr. Nelson, "we can't get very far."

The new typology, developed by California psychologist Rita Warren, would put offenders in one of nine categories according to their style of dealing with other people, or their "interpersonal maturity."

One type is the manipulative personality—the type skilled at working others for his own purposes. Another is the anxious personality. Ideally, the first should get firm handling, greater discipline; the second more permissive treatment and tender care.

Though the Warren typology was based on a juvenile delinquent population, Dr. Nelson said it would be applicable to adults as well. It is now being tested on delinquents in four California locations.

Complete data on the criminal repeat rate—yardstick for measuring the success of any correctional program—is not yet available, but Dr. Nelson said the differential treatment is showing a "clear advantage" over traditional methods.

From statistics released last week by the crime commission, it would appear that almost anything would be an advantage over current practice.

In the first national survey of prisons and correction programs ever made in this country, the commission revealed that two and a half million offenders were involved in the system last year.

Of that total, one-third were in institutions, described as "often fortress - like constructions where security is the predominant goal and where rehabilitative programs are absent."

The other two-thirds were in the community, "under the supervision of overworked, underpaid and poorly trained probation and parole officers."

On the state level, the commission established these facts:

Only two of 50 states claim they do not put children in jails. Last year a quarter of the 400,000 children detained were locked up with hardened criminals.

Only five states have "halfway houses" to aid offenders in making the leap from prison back into society.

Eleven states have no probation service for adults convicted of misdemeanors and most offer it on a "spotty basis." As for felonies, half of the nation's parole officers carry caseloads exceeding 100 persons, far above the recognized standard.

Thirty per cent of all the state prisons have no vocational training.

The commission summed up the situation on the local level by stating that more than 90 per cent of the working personnel in jails and institutions are guards and administrators; "barely 5 per cent" are in treatment and training. These jails are where many of the first offenders — presumably those most receptive to rehabilitation —are handled, said the report.

Dr. Nelson said this and other commission reports will constitute a "charge" to states and the federal government to take action toward "profound" changes in the correctional system.

Scientists Happy Over Back-Of-Moon Photos

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — After staring their eyes red at more than 30,000 monotonous spacecraft photos of the moon, scientists have found one that really turns on — and there may be another one waiting in the wings.

One of the last photos made by Lunar Orbiter 2 before its cameras "died" shows more than half a million square miles of the moon, including the south pole, taken from the side that is always invisible to earthlings.

Conspicuously absent from the photo is one of the moon's most famous features — the vast smooth plains called maria — that dominate the front side, and one of the strongest pieces of evidence cited by scientists who believe that there has been volcanic activity on the moon.

The lunar south pole has been photographed before. In fact, the same area, backside and all, was included in pictures from the Soviet Lunik 3 probe before any spacecraft had photographed the front. The Orbiter picture is much clearer, however, revealing objects as much as 100 times smaller than did Lunik's.

Instead of level plains, the Orbiter picture shows an area covered with pits and pockmarks, in marked contrast to the opposite side of the planet. several theories have been suggested to account for the difference, which was predicted even from Lunik's limited information.

One is that earth's mass has attracted the moon's center of gravity like a magnet, causing the volcanic material that may comprise the maria to appear mostly on the side facing earth. Another idea is that earth attracts meteorites from far out in space beyond the moon, causing them to collide with the moon's far side, which is in their way.

While they are still puzzling over the latest picture, the analysts will soon have another to play with. Soon after the south pole photo was received on earth, along came one of the north pole. This one is so fresh that it is still being processed, and the scientists are anxiously waiting to see if it confirms the craggy backside.

Though Lunar Orbiter 2 in taking no more pictures, it will continue to send other data for several months. Next year as many as seven spacecraft — two Orbiters and five Surveyers — may add to the Lunar Art Gallery.

Reagan To Use Private Audits

SACRAMENTO (AP) —The incoming Reagan administration will hire a private firm to audit state departments to determine the size of the budget deficit, an aide said today.

Clyde Beane, a press assistant said "there seems to be some question" about the size of the deficit.

Beane said he did not know if the study would be financed by state funds. He said it would not be an in-depth study.

Reagan has said the state budget being prepared for the forthcoming 1967-68 fiscal year could have a deficit of $700 million. But Republican Controller-elect Houston I. Flournoy said the figure is more like $350 million.

NBC Scores Coup, Lands Danny Thomas

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—NBC-TV, which is in an all-out drive to overtake perennial ratings leader CBS-TV, has scored a major coup by landing a former top CBS-TV star Danny Thomas for a new weekly one-hour series starting next fall.

The new series, which is expected at this point to be a collection of comedies, dramas and variety specials, will be unlike NBC-TV's Bob Hope anthology because Thomas will be an integral part of each show. If he is not starring in a production, then most likely he will be involved as a narrator of the proceedings, the network says.

RATING DRIVE

NBC-TV, which has had less blockbuster star power than CBS-TV—the home of Lucille Ball, Red Skelton, Jackie Gleason, Andy Griffith, Ed Sullivan et al—has made a determined ratings drive this season.

One of the unfortunate aspects of this otherwise reasonable move is that NBC-TV, known in the past for its importance in the news and documentary field, has slipped somewhat in the presentation of prime time public affairs specials, especially those with real bite. At present, it is the only network without a regularly scheduled, weekly prime time public affairs series, and this fact has been noted within the trade. Documentaries usually draw lower ratings.

GOOD SPECIALS

Thomas has been doing some very good entertainment specials for NBC-TV the past few seasons. The latest, his third annual edition of "The Wonderful World of Burlesque," aired last Sunday. During these seasons of specials with NBC-TV, he proved his ratings pull was still potent—a carryover from the years in which he helped CBS-TV carve out its dominance in the numbers game.

Bus Lines Station Window Hit By Pie

The men drove slowly by the San Rafael bus depot in a late-model silver-grey Oldsmobile and let fly with a fruit pie which spattered across the depot's window, police said.

Court Refuses Miller Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court yesterday refused a hearing to Lucille Miller, 36, serving a life sentence for the fire death of her dentist-husband.

Mrs. Miller was convicted of murder in San Bernardino County Superior Court on March 5, 1965. Her husband, Dr. Gordon Miller, was burned to death in his car on a remote road in Alta Loma on Oct. 8, 1964.

The prosecution charged that Mrs. Miller killed her husband in a fake accident to collect more than $125,000 in insurance.

Mrs. Miller is serving a life term in the California Institution for Women at Frontera. Her guilt was affirmed by the District Court of Appeal Sept. 22.

Marin Quints Face A Rugged Weekend

With conference play less than a month away, the practice schedule for Marin County Athletic League basketball gets thick, hectic, and tough.

While Redwood and Novato are engaged in tournaments at Yuba City and Chico, the rest of the teams have a schedule of six games on tap but only two of them will be played in Marin County.

The top local attraction looks to be Tam vs. San Francisco powerhouse St. Ignatius Saturday night, 8 o'clock, at Tamalpais.

The other local attraction is Wilson at Terra Linda Friday night at 8:15 p.m.

In other Friday games, Drake is at Salesian at 7:30 p.m., San Rafael visits Vallejo at 7 p.m. and Marin Catholic is at Riordan at 8:15 p.m. Terra Linda has another game Saturday, an 8:15 battle at Hogan of Vallejo.

The Indians (1-4), rated preseason championship material in the MCAL, have gone into a four-game tail-spin but still have the potential there, especially with Steve Woodward, the MCAL's third-best scorer with a 15.8 average, in the lineup. St. Ignatius lost to Poly in the finals of the Riordan tournament last week.

Independent-Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Thurs., Dec. 15, 1966 45

Marin Catholic (4-1), which had its unblemished record blemished this week, sports the top offense in the league with a 72-point scoring clip, topped by Harry Mattsinger's MCAL second-best 16.2 scoring average and Ches Bornia's 14.2 average.

San Rafael (5-1), currently the hottest team in the league, will face a toughie in Vallejo, an 80-46 winner over Novato and a 55-57 loser to Drake.

Terra Linda (2-4) gets good scoring from Steve Congdon (13.6) and Paul Lee (11.9) and will try to improve on its record. The Trojans have wins over Healdsburg and Novato.

Drake will try to improve on a 3-3 mark, but the Pirates must get their offense into gear. They're led by Chet Carlisle, a 15.1 average holder.

TAM'S MIKE BIBER ON ALL-NORTHERN CAL '11'

Mike Biber, the great pass-catching end of the Tamalpais High School Indians, was named to the first team All-Northern California prep football team by the San Francisco Chronicle today.

Biber, 6-1, 180-pound senior who caught 58 passes for 1,206 yards and 15 touchdowns last season, was also named "Lineman of the Year" on the All-North Coast team.

Drake High School tackle Jerry Sprout joined Biber on the first All-North Coast team, while Terra Linda linebacker Jim Sherbert and Drake center-fullback Bill Hickerson were named to the All-North Coast second team.

Marin Catholic Made Boo-Boo With Premature Announcement

EXODUS—In its haste to escape the lion's den, Marin Catholic High School may have committed a monumental boo-boo last week.

I refer to the school's premature announcement in the sports section of the San Francisco Chronicle that it was seeking football opponents for next autumn. This was the first official announcement that Marin Catholic was, at least partially, pulling out of the Marin County Athletic League, although rumors to thet effect have been rife.

MARIN CATHOLIC is still very much committed to the MCAL. It has requested permission to withdraw from future football committments while retaining membership in other sports, but so far that permission has not been granted Thus, the parochial school took a lot for granted by advertising for 1967 football games in last Thursday's Sporting Green.

The MCAL Board of Managers is not scheduled to meet until Jan. 4. The Marin Catholic matter, presumably, will be discussed at that time.

RUMORS INDICATE the Board of Managers was ready to grant Marin Catholic's football withdrawal, but the Greenbrae school's presumptious attitude may have ruffled a few feathers.

Now, it appears, the Managers may politely inform the Catholics to fulfill their 1967 MCAL grid committments and pay the consequences.

MARIN CATHOLIC'S ill-timed request to take it on the Arthur Duffy created a scheduling panic among the league's other members. Ordinarily games are scheduled more than a year in advance, so Marin's tardiness in the matter left some schools up in the air. Tentative games were arranged, but they can not be confirmed until the MCAL Board of Managers makes its decision Jan. 4.

I imagine the Catholics will be forced to stick it out at least one more season before going minor league.

IN CASE you tuned in late, Marin Catholic has decided after eight years that it cannot measure up to MCAL football standards. Three victories against 45 losses is the woeful testimony.

The school's restricted enrollment is to blame. It can produce competitive basketball and baseball teams, but football is a pigskin of another color.

ONE OF THE most excited press-boxers at Kezar Sunday was Frankie Albert, 49er stockholder and former star and coach.

Francis' daughter Nancy gave birth to a son Saturday, so gramps was proudly announcing his heir's vital statistics to the press. The first boy, incidentally, in Albert's brood.

Doesn't that make you feel older? Little Frankie Albert a grandpa!

Packer Ace Hits Peak Of Career

By JACK STEVENSON

PALO ALTO (AP)—Bart Starr remembers 1956 as the year he was overwhelmed with the opportunity to be able to make a professional football team.

Ten years later, the Green Bay Packers' quarterback has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by the Associated Press.

"I was grateful just to be drafted the year I started," Starr admitted. "I had been hurt my last two seasons in college and was a little dejected."

From Alabama, Starr was the Packers' 17th draft choice but in five years had won the starting quarterback job.

He won the MVP honor by a wide margin with 19 votes to six for runner-up Larry Wilson, the St. Louis Cardinals' blitzing safety. Don Meredith, the Dallas quarterback, had four votes and Cleveland's Leroy Kelly had three.

Starr was obviously pleased with the honor but looks forward to the NFL championship game and hopes his club will be facing the American Football League title winner in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles.

"We'd like to have that problem," he says referring to defeating the AFL.

Recuperating from rib injuries suffered in the first half last Saturday at Baltimore, Starr doesn't know if he'll play Sunday in the regular season finale against the Rams at Los Angeles.

Coach Vince Lombardi has indicated he'd like to rest his quarterback and the Packers already have won the Western Conference title.

"It takes awhile to get well, or to get better," Starr said. "But I'll be ready for the NFL championship."

After beating the Colts 14-10 to take the Western title, the Packers came to Palo Alto and work out daily at Stanford.

Asked if he had expected pro football to become as big as it is today, the quarterback answered, "No," and then explained that he really hadn't thought about that much back in 1956. He was too happy with the opportunity of reporting to a pro camp.

"I'm grateful to be a part of the game," he said. "It's a great challenge and a great life. Love it . . . just fantastic."

Starr will be 33 on Jan. 9 and has enjoyed his best season of the 11 he's played with Green Bay. He's completed 62.2 per cent of his throws with a fantastic record of only three interceptions in 251 attempts.

Against San Francisco on Dec. 4, Starr had a third down

No More Big Deals Seen As Trading Period Nears End

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The inter-league baseball trade deadline in the major leagues is at midnight tonight and the deals that sent Roger Maris to St. Louis from the New York Yankees and Maury Wills to Pittsburgh from the Los Angeles Dodgers look to be the biggest that will be made unless there is a last day flurry of activity.

Yesterday, California traded veteran first baseman Norm Siebern to San Francisco for outfielder Len Gabrielson. And St. Louis sent Walter Williams, who led the Pacific Coast League in batting last season, to the Chicago White Sox along with relief pitcher Don Dennis. In return, the Cards got catcher John Romano and minor league pitcher Lee White.

The Angels got youth for age in giving up the 33-year-old Siebern for Gabrielson, 26. But Siebern hit .247 last season and drove in 41 runs while Gabrielson hit just .216 and had 16 RBI.

Romano, the key player in the St. Louis deal, hit .231 for the White Sox in 1966 and had 15 homers. Williams, 23, hit .330 for Tulsa while Dennis was 4-2 in relief for the Cardinals.

The two deals brought to 14 the total made in the last three weeks.

Nov. 29 — Los Angeles Dodgers traded outfielder Tommy Davis and infielder-outfielder Derrell Griffith to New York Mets for second baseman Ron Hunt and outfielder Jim Hickman.

Nov. 29 — New York Yankees traded third baseman Clete Boyer and minor leaguer to be named later to Atlanta Braves for outfielder Bill Robinson and relief pitcher Federico (Chi Chi) Olivo (Olivo to Syracuse).

Nov. 30 — Washington Senators traded center fielder Don Lock to Philadelphia Phillies for relief pitcher Darold Knowles and undisclosed amount of cash.

Dec. 1 — Los Angeles Dodgers traded shortstop Maury Wills to Pittsburgh Pirates for third baseman Bob Bailey and shortstop Gene Michael.

Dec. 2 — California Angels traded pitcher Dean Chance to Minnesota Twins for first baseman Don Mincher, outfielder Jimmie Hall and pitcher Pete Cimino.

Dec. 3 — Minnesota Twins traded pitcher Camilo Pascual and second baseman Bernie Allen to Washington Senators for pitcher Ron Kline.

Dec. 8 — New York Yankees traded outfielder Roger Maris to St. Louis Cards for third baseman Charlie Smith.

Dec. 10 — Ramos to Philadelphia Phillies for pitcher Joe Verbanic.

Dec. 14 — California Angels traded first baseman Norm Siebern to San Francisco Giants for outfielder Len Gabrielson. St. Louis Cardinals traded outfielder Walter Williams and pitcher Don Dennis for catcher John Romano and pitcher Lee White.

Drake Girls Do Well In Gymnastics

The meet, in which the competitors must perform pre-set routines, included more than 300 competitors.

Susan Brice and Shelley Green took the Drake honors in the intermediate category. Shelley was eighth in the balanced beam and in the uneven bars while taking seventh in the overall. Susan took fourth in the balanced beams and eighth overall.

In the beginners category, the Drake girls finished one, two three in the overall with Sherry Green placing first, followed by Anna Niemann, second, and Deirdre Bullis, third.

Sherry was third in the beginners bars, and fifth in the vaulting. Anna took a first on the bars, a second in the beams. Deidre was sixth in the beams and first in the free exercise. In addition, Gracia Bell finished ninth in the beams. Christine Bryce was third in free exercise and Eloise Goodrich was ninth in the free exercise category.

The Drake point scorers as well as two other girls, Dani Jamison and Nancy Jose, will go to Northern California Optional Meet in March at San Francisco State College.

Canadian Ice Not So Hot For Seals; Another Loss

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The California Seals dropped their second straight Western Hockey League game on Canadian ice last night, bowing to the Vancouver Canucks 2-1 in overtime. Victoria beat them 3-1 the night before.

Rookie winger Bob Cook won it for the Canucks, slapping a loose puck into the corner at the 7:16 mark of the overtime period to break a 1-1 deadlock that had held since the first frame.

Rauch To Coach West All-Stars

SPORTS BRIEFS

Wednesday's Sports In Brief
By Associated Press

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK — Bart Starr, Green Bay's brilliant quarterback, was named the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League in 1966 by the vote of a panel for The Associated Press.

NEW YORK — Les Duncan, San Diego defensive back who intercepted one pass and blocked an extra-point kick in the Chargers' 42-27 win over the New York Jets last Sunday, was named the Defensive Player of the Week in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

HOCKEY

DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings announced that its deal for Howie Young of the Los Angeles Blades is off because of an unknown private agreement between Los Angeles and the Chicago Black Hawks, giving the latter first refusal if Young was ever returned to the NFL.

BASEBALL

CHICAGO — The Chicago White Sox sent catcher Johnny Romano and minor league pitcher Lee White to the St. Louis Cardinals for Pacific Coast League batting champion Walter Williams and relief pitcher Don Dennis.

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Giants traded outfielder Len Gabrielson to the California Angels for first baseman Norm Siebern in an inter-league exchange.

Miss Richey Loses; Emerson Is Upset

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Nancy Richey of Dallas, the lone American survivor in the South Australian Tennis Championships, was eliminated in the women's singles semifinals today. Kerry Melville of Australia rallied to defeat Miss Richey 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

In the other men's singles semifinal match, John Newcombe, Australia's No. 3 seed, upset top-seeded Australian Roy Emerson 7-5, 6-2, 6-1.

Miss Melville outplayed Miss Richey, No. foreign seed. Miss Richey broke Miss Melville's service to clinch the first set 6-4, then double faulted and allowed Miss Melville to go to 3-0 in the second set.

The games went with service for the Australian to win 6-3 and equalize at one-set all.

Miss Richey broke Miss Melville's service to lead 2-0 in the third set. But the Australian then took four games in a row to load before Miss Richey broke back to level at 4-4. Then the Australian took three more games to win 7-5.

Williams Named Sports Editor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sports writer Roger Williams was named sports editor of the San Francisco Examiner today, succeeding the late Curley Grieve.

Examiner Editor Ed Dooley announced Williams' selection. Williams had been executive sports editor of the Examiner since September, 1965.

Tars On Road Tomorrow, Return 'Home' Saturday

College of Marin basketballers go through another round of the toughening up process this weekend as they take on a pair of nonleague opponents, one on the road and one in Kentfield.

The Tars meet Cabrillo College at Santa Cruz tomorrow night, then return home for a Saturday battle with perennially powerful Contra Costa. Both games are at 8 p.m.

"Cabrillo will be one of the tallest teams we've faced," Marin coach Cal Riemcke said. "They've got a 6-9 center, another fellow 6-7, and two more 6-4 and 6-5."

Cabrillo likes to play the control game, with heavy emphasis on rebounding. It lost to Foothill in its last outing, 56-63. The Tars bowed to Foothill by 27 points.

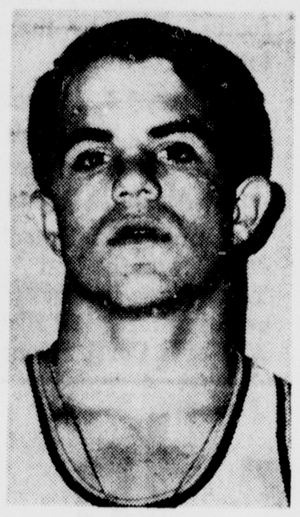
Riemcke will start with Russ Smith and Bill Pandiani at guards and Tom Stetson and Terry Overlid at forwards but center is a genuine question mark. Six-nine Brad Luz has a sore ankle, and six-four Craig Kilby has been out all week with the flu. Riemcke may have to go with Ken Blasingame, who did a commendable job against Foothill, hauling down 14 rebounds.



BILL PANDIANI
Top scorer

Pandiani tops the scoring with 82 points in seven games for an 11.7 average, followed closely by Smith with 77 points and an even 11-point average. Smith has connected for more field goals than anybody on the team with 35. Right up there are Overlid with 68 points, Bob Phillips with 66 points, Stetson with 53 and Luz with 42 points.

The Tars are 3-4 on the season.

Cardinal Back Voted NFL's Top Rookie

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Roland, a 1965 All-America back from Missouri who received a big bonus to sign with the St. Louis Cardinals, has been named rookie of the year in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each of the 15 league cities.

Roland won in a close vote over Tommy Nobis of Atlanta, the two-time All-America from Texas.

The Bidwell brothers (Bill and Stormy) snared Roland away from the New York Jets of the American Football League in a bidding contest that cost the Cardinals at least $250,000.

Roland was honored for his defensive work last season at Missouri, moving to the offense when short yardage was needed. He had made a name for himself as a blocker and running back in his junior year.

Coach Charley Winner earmarked Roland for his offensive unit and moved him into the regular left halfback job over the incument Bill Triplett in the middle of the Cards' opening game with Philadelphia. In his first half-day of work he contributed 159 yards to the total offense and was picked as the Offensive Player of the Week in mid-September.

Roland is a man of all trades. In the Cards' first 13 games, he has accounted for a total of 1,566 yards with his running, throwing or catching. He had scored six touchdowns and has thrown one TD pass. He leads the league in punt returns.

As the heavy duty runner of a ground attack that has had to shoulder a heavy burden since the injury to quarterback Charley Johnson, Roland has gained 665 yards on 182 carries. He has completed five of seven passes for 130 yards on the option. His first toss went for a TD against the New York Giants. Johnny also caught 20 passes for 203 yards.

81,400 AVERAGE PER GAME

Ohio State Tops Grid Attendance

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes finished with the largest home attendance among the 616 college football teams in 1966 for the ninth straight year, it was revealed today with the released of a survey by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The Buckeyes, despite a drop of 1,856 spectators from 1965, topped the list with an average of 81,400 spectators for six home games. Michigan State was second with an average of 71,125 followed by Michigan 68,933, Louisiana State 64,350 and Nebraska, 63,764.

Seven teams showed increases of more than 10,000 a game. They were Tulane, up 17,452, Colorado 13,292, Alabama 13,219, North Carolina State 11,865, Rice 10,407, Nebraska 10,186 and Clemson 10,041.

Alabama, which drew an average of 57,306 spectators, surged from its 20th place standing of 1965 to eighth the past season. The Crimson Tide were the only newcomers in the top 10 attendance rankings.

The Army-Navy game on Nov. 26 in Philadelphia drew the largest single game attendance, 98,466. Notre Dame at Southern California on the same day was next, attracting 88,520 followed by North Carolina at Michigna with 88,233 on Oct. 1.

Tomales Grapplers Win League Opener

Tomales High School's wrestlers, coached by Jim Kovalick, downed Upper Lake yesterday in its North Bay League opener, 28-23.

The Tomales winners were: Dan Erickson, 112 pounds, decision; Randy Jose, 113, fall; Steve Carpenter, 135, default; Lou Ferroggiaro, 154, fall; Bob Mache, 165, fall.

Torres Predicts Kayo Victory In Light Heavy Title Defense

By MURRAY ROSE

That was Dick Tiger's comment today to Jose Torres' latest pronouncement on how he expects to knock out the Nigerian in a light heavyweight title fight at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

"I wouldn't be surprised if I caught him in the first round," said Torres, the 30-year-old light heavyweight king when he finished training at Kiamesha Lake.

"He may think I'm a pushover, but I'm not," said Tiger. "I wouldn't be a pushover for a heavyweight. I'm a fighter and a good one. And I'm proud of it.

"All I hope is that he means what he says about coming out fighting. If he doesn't run, it should be a real good fight. I'll be coming after him."

Tiger, a former two-time middleweight champion, never has been stopped in a 14-year pro career. Torres was knocked out in the fifth round by Florentino Fernandez 3½ years ago. Tiger had stopped Fernandez in the sixth round a year before.

In view of this did Tiger think he would knock out Torres?

"I'll be happy if it happens," replied Tiger, who never has made predictions on his fights. When prodded some more, Tiger said, "I think it could happen. But I'll be very happy to win and have a title again."

Tiger and his handlers have charged that Torres uses illegal punches to the kidneys to soften up his opponents. This Torres denies.

Will he retaliate?

"If he punches to the kidneys, I will too," said Tiger.

Tiger punched to the body and head in his last boxing workout yesterday at New Garden Gym. He was real sharp in going two rounds each with Jackie Adare and Julio Noboa.

"He's been that way all week," said Jersey Jones, his American manager. "He started out sloppy but picked up steam. He's been punching fast and I think he'll punch faster than Torres.

"He's much stronger and a harder hitter at 165 pounds. I wouldn't be surprised if he flattens Torres."

The light heavyweight shot is Tiger's first start since he lost his middleweight (160 pounds) crown to welterweight champion Emile Griffith at the Garden last April 25. He was dropped for the first time in his career and lost the decision.

"I don't have to make 160 pounds this time and I'm a lot stronger," said Tiger. "The finish could be different, too."

and inches situation on his own 17. He surprised everyone with a pass to Carroll Dale, which went for a touchdown on the 83-yard play and propelled the Packers to a 20-7 victory.

"Bart Starr is probably the best Quarterback in football today and before he gets through, which I hope is soon, he may be recognized as the greatest of them all."

San Rafael Frosh Whip Tamalpais

Drake Jayvees Win

Drake High School's junior varsity cagers, behind the scoring of Fred Westcott (17), Clark Jamison (16) and Mike Gaffney (15), beat San Rafael jayvees 58-46 yesterday in the San Rafael High School gym.

Name Landry Coach Of '66

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Landry, the man who brought the Dallas Cowboys from a haphazard expansion team to the threshold of an Eastern Conference title in seven years, has been named Coach of the Year in the National Football League.

A panel of 45 sports writer and sportcasters, three from each of the 15 league cities, made the selection for the Associated Press.

Landry breezed home by a comfortable margin with 19 votes to nine for Charley Winner of St. Louis, his closest challenger. Vince Lombardi of Green Bay and George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams each got four. Otto Graham of Washington and Norb Hecker of Atlanta each got two. Five panel members did not vote in this category.

Unscheduled Trout Fishing In Southern Cal; Crab Season's On

STEVENS

Happens you will be visiting or driving in the southern part of the state, and you find yourself on Highway 178 heading north by east toward Kernville, and you have a yen to do some practice trout casting in Lake Isabella, and you have a supply of small egg hooks . . . say number 12s and 14s, you might try a single egg on one of the small hooks and get your limits of of rainbow trout measuring from four to 8 inches. How come? Well, there should be some fast and fancy trout fishing in Lake Isabella.

The recent heavy rains poured flood-size water down the Kern River and took with it about 500,000 rainbow trout from the Kern River Hatchery and dumped them into Lake Isabella. Not many large fish, but oodles of catchables measuring from four to eight inches.

THERE IS NO closed season on trout in Lake Isabella, but you are restricted to a catch limit of five only.

However, should you be driving north to the upper Klamath River country and happen to be near Happy Camp, and you yearn for the feel of steelhead on the end of your line, you may be in luck. A report from Jim Roads of Happy Camp (Jim conducts a guide service at Happy Camp) reads: "Klamath River is returning to fishable condition. Fresh roe and nightcrawlers on top, lure fishing good if weather will let the river stabilize. The steelhead that should have been here in November are now in the Happy Camp area. The steelies are late due to former low water conditions. Past storms raised the river level four feet, and with high and muddy conditions brought new runs up. Mr. and Mrs. "Buck" Carter registered limits to seven pounds."

INCIDENTALLY, IF you are champing at the bit to try for winter steelhead in the coast streams in Mendocino, Humboldt and Del Norte counties, and the streams are not yet prime, and you like to eat freshly caught crabs, the sportfishing season on crabs opened this morning. If you are new at crabbing, buy a folding metal crab net at your favorite bait or sports shop, gather up some smelly fish-bait, abalone entrails or almost any spoiled meat, tie it to the bottom of your net and locate a jetty or breakwater and try your luck.

If you have yet to get your share of Mourning and White-winged Doves, better get busy, the season closes on Sunday.

STRIPER STRIVING in the local waters continues good to excellent according to the area fished. Best action seems to be on the Shell Banks near the Pump House area and out from China Camp. Both stripers and Sturgeon have been in good supply.

Talking with Herb King (Formerly Patrick's Resort on Three Mile Slough), I was told both rivers are badly colored; very few fishermen are going out. Herb mentioned that two anglers caught a sturgeon each, but, unfortunately both were scant inches short of being legal. Rivers apparently have started to lower and clear, so prospects may brighten within a few days.

JIM MURRAY

New Book Is Out On 'Minnesota Fats'

In a way, my whole life was colored by having an uncle who was a pool hustler. No boyhood should be without one.

In some respects, I think I learned more of the values of thrift, foresightedness, punctuality, and downright conformity from my Uncle Ed because he didn't have any of them. The two basic tenets of his life were 1) work is for field animals; and 2) always play with your own deck and never the other fellow's game.

I GUESS ED enjoyed life. I know he turned up aces and eights far too young. He had no respect for hard work but a great deal for books. A good book, he used to say, was better than a case ace. "If you've read the book and the 'mark' (English translation: sucker) hasn't — HE's playing your game," was the way Ed put it.

I thought of this when a new book hit my desk the other day — Tom Fox's co-biography of the only other pool hustler I ever had any long talks with — Fatty Wonderone, better known to you as "Minnesota Fats," the silent star of the talking picture "The Hustler."

THE BOOK IS titled "The Bankshot and Other Great Robberies" and it is, like Fatty himself (or ANY pool hustler) part con and part candor. I could see, reading it, where Fatty was a good deal like Ed. He didn't have any more respect for the Boy Scout Movement than Uncle Ed. He joined Moral Disarmament at an early age.

Even some of the characters sound alike. Coney Island Al sounds a good deal like Savin Rock Sol, my uncle's sidekick, of whom Ed said one day "Sol got tired of hearing in one ear — and he uses that ear to make loans." Coney Island Al, in Fatty's book, is the guy who goes deaf when a fellow tries to borrow $2. But when the guy is advised to try the other ear and shouts into it "Lend me $5," Coney Island Al says "Go back to the other ear."

THE TROUBLE WITH Fatty was he always looked like Henry VIII in a blue serge suit. His equalizer was a 20-ounce cue and a worried look. Fatty always looked like a guy who just got a ransom call. His gimmick was to pretend he just dropped off a rattler from Altoona but his silhouette — which looked as if it floated on ropes over Macy's parade, always shot him down. He'd walk into a pool hall looking for lunch money but it was like Mickey Mantle trying to sneak into a fungo-hitting contest or Arnold Palmer trying to get two-a-side from the sandtrap set at Riviera.

Fatty, like Uncle Ed, traveled light — a cue, a chalk and a bank shot. It was the only bank he trusted.

THE LAST TIME I saw Fatty he had picked up a wife, a house — and a yardful of stray dogs and cats. It wouldn't take a psychiatrist long to figure out why Fatty was a pushover for every hungry, homeless mutt that came along. He was a little "out of stroke" (English translation: he couldn't spot Mosconi the break any more) and it had been years since he traveled the pool halls under the name of "Smith."

Fatty takes a cab everywhere — like from Du Quoin, Ill., to Minneapolis the last time I saw him. He has a Cadillac now but he only uses the trunk. The only time he opens the front door is to let the dogs out.

I THINK YOU'LL like Fatty's book. Like all hustlers, he pretends he's a hard case but he's as soft inside as a kiss shot. The gang's all there — Weenie Beanie, Tuscaloosa Squirrell, Superstitious Aloysius, Daddy Warbucks, Harrisburg Whitey, 27 dogs and 14 cats, the 72-hour one-pocket game. Fatty can live on two hours sleep a week. One reason he doesn't like to sleep is, it interferes with his eating. He's got one hand on a pool cue and the other on a chicken.

Uncle Ed would have loved Fatty. Because they would have looked at each other and decided the other one was the world's biggest sucker. And you know something? They would have been right. The biggest sucker in the world is the guy who thinks everyone else is. As Fatty would say: "That's the sweet sad truth of it." But — at $5.95 — "The Bank Shot and Other Great Roberies" is, so to speak, a steal.

Tomales Quint Wins First Tilt

Tomales High School's basketball team won its first game of the season in the first half, then staved off a furious last-half drive by Rohnert Park for its 45-43 victory Tuesday.

Tomales outscored Rohnert Park 28-13 in the first half but lost the second half 30-17.

San Rafael Prep Wrestlers Lose

San Rafael High School's wrestling team, which opens Marin Athletic League competition against Tamalpais Friday, lost its first practice dual meet of the season Tuesday, bowing to De Anza of Richmond, 21-27, at San Rafael.

It was a see-saw meet with the Bulldogs leading all the way up to 154 pounds. After Pete King nailed down a 6-0 verdict at 154, DeAnza won the next three matches for the victory.

San Rafael had leads of 8-0 and 15-8 in the meet.

Danny Bell Headlines San Rafael Pin Scores

Danny Bell of San Rafael was star bowler of the week at Country Club Bowl with a 656 series in the Splinters League.

Bell, 21, is just back from two years in the Army including one year's action in Vietnam. Now working as a gas station attendant, Bell had games of 228, 226 and 202, quite a night for a 159 average kegler.

Frank Bernardi was next with a 636 series in the 900 Classic League. In individual game scores, Paul Gottlieb rolled a 256 and Elmer Tynes a 254 in the 900 Classic, while Dennis Parsons had a 255 in the Elks League.

Topping the scores for the women were Penny Tornell with a 562 series in the Daffodils League and Rosalie Sloan, a 224 line in the Sleepers League.

2 San Francisco Men On Olympic Soccer Squad

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Twenty-five men, inluding eight alternates, were chosen Sunday after two days of competition at Washington University as members of the U.S. Olympic soccer team which will compete in the 1967 Pan-American Games and the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City.

The team was named by the 12-man selection committee that judged two days of competition.

Johnny Mueller, an 18-year-old St. Louis high school student, was named to the squad which was described by Coach Geza Henni as one of the youngest in many years.

Named to the team were Mike Ivanow, goal, San Francisco; Bob Gansler, fullback, Milwaukee; Myron Worbec, fullback, Newar, N.J.; Bob Watson, fullback, Philadelphia; Werner Fricker, halfback, Philadelphia; Rudy Getzinger, halfback, Chicago; Leil Stam, halfback, Patterson, N.J.; John Schlenker, halfback, Chicago; Ned Kralj, halfback, Chicago; Horst Stemke, halfback, Milwaukee.

Church-Sponsored Basketball League In Terra Linda

Jim Hand, Terra Linda Recreation-Park District director, has announced the district is forming a church-sponsored young adult basketball league in the Terra Linda area.

A meeting for all churches interested in entering a team is set for Dec. 20, 7:30 p.m., at the T. L. Recreation Center, 670 Del Ganado, San Rafael.

The Recreation-Park District has reserved Thursday evenings at the Terra Linda High gym for league play. Team managers will plan league organization at the Tuesday, Dec. 20 meeting.

Church representatives desiring more information may contact Recreation Superintendent John Williams at the Recreation District, or Rev. Bill Harman, Faith Lutheran Church.

Syria Presses Iraqi To Seize Oil Company

BEIRUT, Lebanon (ap) — The semiofficial Iraqi press today said that Iraq expects to be paid full royalties by the Iraq Petroleum Co. even though the flow of oil to Mediterranean ports has been cut off.

Syrian Foreign Minister Ibrahim Makhos, visiting Baghdad, continued his government's pressure to induce Iraq to nationalize the company's assets following Syrian seizure of the firm's pipelines and other property in Syria.

Despite newspaper hints and Syrian claims of Iraq support, the Iraq government has yet to make any official statement of its position following the stoppage in the oil flow, now in its third day. Baghdad radio said the Iraqi newspapers not only demanded that the company pay full production royalties but also that it increase production.

"It cannot use excuses to stop implementation of these commitments because the interruption in the oil flow is not a compelling circumstance for stopping payment of royalties," one newspaper said.

The Syrian government demands that the firm pay $10.5 million in additional royalties for Iraqi oil crossing Syria by pipeline during the first nine months of this year. Makhos said in Baghdad that his government would not make the same demands of Iraq if the latter decided to market its oil on its own.

The company pumps 42 million tons of Iraqi oil a year through the pipelines. It also markets 20 million tons by tanker through the Persian Gulf, with most of it going to Europe.

Dixie Summer Classes Cut By Trustees

Trustees last night cut proposed class schedules back to handle 800 to 900 pupils next summer rather than the 1,987 enrolled last summer. Deleted will be the demonstration school and grades four through seven in the Lucas Valley area, Supt. Dennie B. Willis said.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Lorraine Parmer, sixth grade teacher at Santa Margarita School, and Mrs. Martie Moran, seventh grade teacher at Miller Creek School.

2. Hired Mrs. Marjorie Moore at $5,200 a year to replace Mrs. Parmer, and Mrs. Patricia Evans at $7,200 to teach a new class at Dixie School.

3. Accepted gifts of two display cases from Mr. and Mrs. Wally Allen of 83 Cielo Drive, Greenbrae; $83 in equipment plus United States and California flags from the Santa Margarita Parent-Teacher Assn.; a $30 set of books from Mrs. Gordon R. Johnston of 2 Mount Tioga Court, Lucas Valley; trees from Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Schwartz, Mrs. John Riley, and Girl Scout Troop 2075, a refrigerator from Robert Lawrence, and $441 in equipment from the Don Timoteo P-TA.

Machinist's Union Wins Marin Election

Frank P. Bottarini, secretary-treasurer of Local 238, International Assn. of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, said today an election among 12 employees of Hymco Co. on A Street, San Rafael, has indicated the majority are in favor of the Marin local as their bargaining representative.

Last year about 20 per cent of all the food consumed in this country was eaten away from home.

Coppolino Murder Trial Jurors Work On Verdict

FREEHOLD, N.J. (UPI)—A jury of two women and 10 men today began deliberating the fate of Dr. Carl A. Coppolino, after being told by the judge they could convict on the testimony of his chief accuser alone.

Superior Court Judge Elvin R. Simmell sent the jury into deliberations at 11:53 a.m. EST.

"The state leans heavily on the testimony of Marjorie Farber," Simmell said in his 30-minute charge. "You may consider whether she has special interests in the outcome of the case...or feelings of revenge or reprisal.

Mrs. William E. Farber, 52, widow of retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber, testified as the state's trump witness during the nine-day trial that the defendant, a 34-year-old doctor-hypnotist, had been her self-proclaimed lover who put her in a two-year "waking trance" during which he instructed her how to kill her husband by injecting a lethal drug.

When she was unable to do that, she testified, the doctor himself pressed a pillow with his entire weight onto the colonel's face and neck—and then personally pronounced him dead.

The state produced an expert witness who had performed the autopsy, chief medical examiner Milton Helpern of New York City, who said the autopsy showed the death was from strangulation, of a fractured neck cartilage.

The defense produced expert witnesses who said the colonel died of a heart attack, and that the neck fractures occurred after death—and it called to the stand the articulate, calm defendant, who categorically denied almost all of Mrs. Farber's story.

Coppolino implied he had saved Farber's life at one point on the day of his death by treating him with several indicated drugs during a heart attack.

Marin City Market Is Hit By Burglars

Deputies said entry was by breaking a front door glass. According to Daniel Hayden, owner of the store at Cole Drive and Drake Avenue, the intruders also broke two half-pint bottles of liquor inside the building.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Northgate Delicatessen Again Has New Owner: Frank Castro

There has been another sale of Kountry Kitchen Delicatessen and Meats at 276 Northgate Shopping Center. William Schoenhard, who bought it only a little over five months ago, has had to give it up because of health reasons.

New owner is Frank Castro of Terra Linda, who worked here for about 30 months when the original owners, Sil and Corinne Petrini had it. For the past year he has been working at a San Francisco delicatessen. The transaction was handled by Harry Abras of William Timmer Realty.

Castro was scheduled to take over the operation today. He now calls the store Frank's Kountry Kitchen and will make some other changes—putting in new quality foods and specializing in imported cheeses from all over the world. But he will continue to carry on the meat business and he will have a catering service (no deliveries). Schoenhard dropped wines and beers so Castro has applied for a new off-sale license which should be activated the latter part of January.

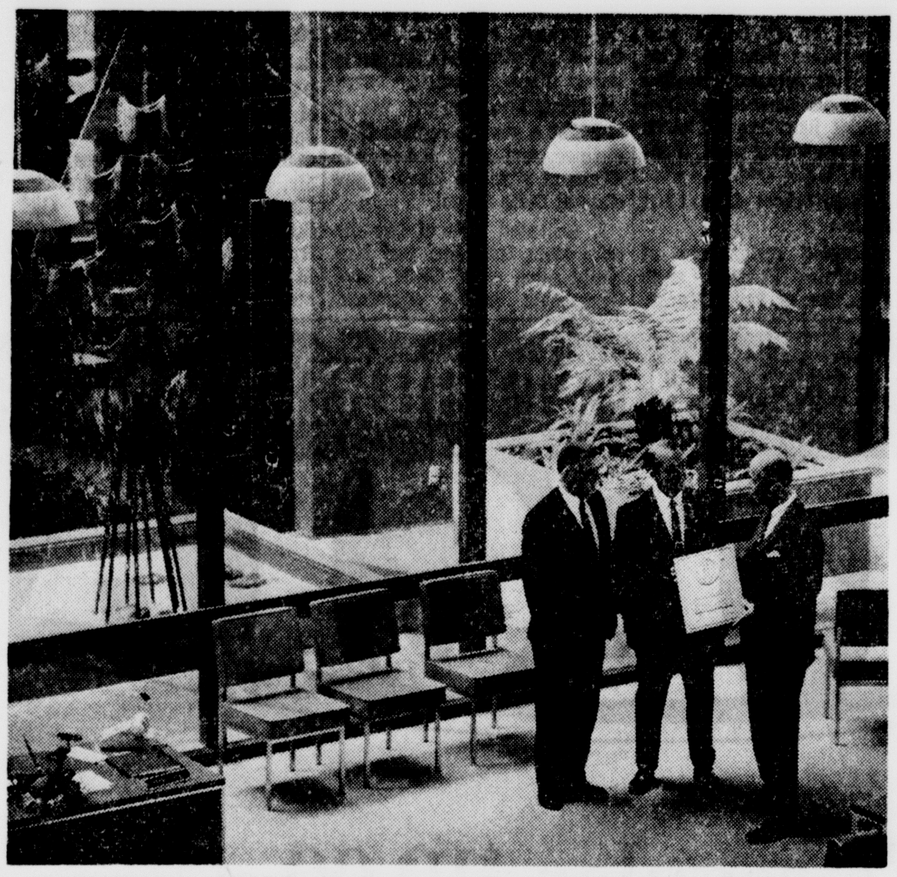
Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays and from 10 to 6 on Sundays.

Ferriter

JOSEPH P. FERRITER SR. of San Rafael has come out of retirement to join Hallgarten and Co. in its newly opened offices on the 35th floor of 44 Montgomery Street, San Francisco. This branch of the New York headquartered brokerage firm is the company's first office west of Chicago. Ferriter was previously with Harris Upham and Co. and has been closely associated with San Francisco's financial activities for the past 40 years.

THE REBUILDING of Crocker-Citizens National Bank's San Rafael headquarters at Fourth and B Street is now past history—it was completed about 19 months ago. But as is often the way with projects of this kind it has taken time for it to be recognized as a reconstruction classic.

This week the Society of American Registered Architect's stamp of approval arrived—in the form of its national bronze plaque by architect Robert W. F. Severin from the Society of American Registered Architects. The award was in recognition of the 18-month-long rebuilding of the San Rafael office completed last year.



ARCHITECT'S AWARD—Crocker-Citizens National Bank vice presidents Ralph Didham, in charge of properties, and Charles L. Van Horne, San Rafael manager, were presented this week with a bronze Regents Award plaque and was given to San Rafael architect Robert W. F. Severin to pass on to bank dignitaries. You'll see it in the bank's lobby.

Praise for Severin's own work on the project was not forgotten (he was the one who designed and planned the whole thing from start to finish). He received a plaque of his own at the society's last meeting in Los Angeles.

Stock Market Drops Sharply Amid Concern

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower today amid concern about the economy and the Vietnam conflict. Trading was fairly active.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.6 million shares compared with 7.53 million yesterday.

The November drop in industrial production and reports from business leaders about a slackening in the boom made a drab backdrop for stocks.

IBM was off several points as were Xerox and other glamor issues.

Walt Disney Productions dropped more than 3 points as the death of founder Walter Disney was reported.

Wall Street was depressed by the November drop in industrial production and reports from business leaders that the pace of business was slowing down.

Autos and steels fell following the reports of their production decline influencing the November figures. General Motors and Chrysler lost about 1½ each. Down about a point were Ford, Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

More Income Necessary Than These Shares Give

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am a 70-year-old widow, dependent on income from stocks and Social Security. I own Woolworth, which shows a big loss for me, and National-Standard, on which I have a profit. What should I do with these stocks? I need more income with the cost of living soaring as it is. I would appreciate your advice." R. C.

A. I am very much pleased to help anyone in your position. You hold two stocks which are relatively secure, but considerably depressed in price at present levels.

National-Standard is a quality producer of wire and other steel items, and the shares currently yield 4.7 per cent. Woolworth's British subsidiary has been hurt by higher taxes, and this has been reflected in the price of the shares, now yielding 5 per cent.

Both stocks under present circumstances appear to be poorly situated for price appreciation, and I believe you can improve you income without materially affecting your security or your gains potential. I suggest that you switch these issues into Maytag, selling on a 6.3 per cent basis, and Southern Railway, yielding 6.4 per cent at current market.

Q. "I would like your opinion on Ipco Hospital Supply. The stock seems to have dropped rapidly." S. D.

A. Ipco's price decline is attributed to a sudden slowdown in growth. After a long period of steady expansion, earnings for the fiscal year ended June 30 were very little changed from year-earlier results. A sharp drop in the June quarter was mainly responsible for the relatively unfavorable comparison. Margins are said to have narrowed because of expansion costs and an operating loss in one division. Earnings were off slightly in the September quarter, but I believe the slowdown is temporary and that the strong earnings uptrend will be resumed. I advise you to retain the stock which is in an industry with built-in growth prospects.

Opening Date Set For Bank

Charles Tijerina, president of Tiburon National Bank has announced the bank's new Novato office will open Dec. 23.

Located in the Nave Shopping Center at Center Road and South Novato Boulevard, this will be Tiburon's fifth office in Marin County. It will be managed by William R. Berry of Novato, formerly with Crocker-Citizens National Bank, who has been working recently at the Alto office. Jack Matthews, also a Novato resident and previously with Bank of America, will be assistant manager.

Another office is scheduled to open in Sausalito early in 1967, Tijernia said. A site for this bank has not yet been selected.

State Gives Nod To Bank Branch

The state banking department has announced approval of Wells Fargo Bank's application to establish a branch office in the vicinity of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and La Cuesta Drive, Greenbrae.

Niels Schultz Jr. of Bon Air Development Co. said no agreement has been reached on the exact location, but "we have been thinking about the 5,000 square feet adjoining the Bon Air Pharmacy." This would be part of the building occupied by Bon Air Super Market.

Schultz said, however, that the site may not be acceptable to Wells Fargo.

Plumas Junior College Proposal Deserves Study

Plumas County is so sparsely populated (about 12,000 people) that it is doubtful it could operate a successful separate junior college with a full and varied curriculum.

But its high assessed valuation, nearly $80 million, means that financing a junior college would not be an insurmountable problem.

Supt. Robert F. Schoensee of Plumas Unified School District acted wisely when he approached Marin and other junior college districts on the possibility of annexation.

Peralta Junior College District in Oakland has already expressed serious interest in the annexation and may have built up such a lead in the negotiations that Marin may already have lost what opportunity it might have had.

Peralta foresees an arrangement under which most Plumas County students would attend one of the Peralta colleges in the East Bay. Peralta has two in Oakland, a third under construction in Alameda, and a fourth planned for Alameda or Berkeley.

Within four years after annexation, Peralta would plan to build a junior college campus in Plumas County. At the Plumas campus, such courses as forestry, mineralogy, plant ecology, wildlife and others related to natural resources could be emphasized.

It is conceivable, then, that if Plumas is annexed by a Bay Area junior college district, Bay Area residents would have the opportunity to study in specialized fields like forestry and plant ecology at a Plumas site ideally located for such studies.

As long as Marin Junior College still has an outside chance, the possibility of a Marin-Plumas tieup deserves serious study by acting President Irwin P. Diamond and the Marin Junior College Board of Trustees.

'WHO NEEDS YOU?'

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon, Percy Share Stage With Romney As Candidate

COLORADO SPRINGS — Here is the way the race for the 1968 Republican Presidential nomination looks from this post-election conference of Republican governors:

Nelson Rockefeller has persuaded the governors that he has definitely taken himself out of the race and Ronald Reagan has persuaded them that he is not going to get into it.

Even at this stage a majority of the governors expect to support George Romney, but they are not rushing into early commitments. Notwithstanding his front-running position today, Romney is not going to run away with it in the next few months.

A number of pro-Romney governors rate Richard Nixon a formidable contender— and the man Romney has to beat. They expect that both will enter the first 1968 primary in New Hampsrire and they are not certain at all that Romney will come out on top.

THERE IS ALSO a quite realistic awareness here that both Romney and Nixon could falter and fall before the '68 National Convention. The reasoning is that Nixon could falter by running too far behind President Johnson and that Romney could falter by failing to display adequate grasp of national and foreign affairs.

If these two men do falter or fall into deadlock, then, in the view of most of the governors, there is only one good alternative—the able and personable Sen.-elect Charles H. Percy of Illinois.

This is, I think, a faithful composite of how the governors, at this stage, view the pre-convention outlook. This is what they have been saying to each other and this is what they are willing to say to political writers on a not-for-attribution basis.

I MUST say that these five judgements make a lot of sense to me. Take the first. Rockefeller has unquestionably taken himself out of consideration. He has said it a hundred times to the voters of New York State. He means it. He has said it to Sen. Jacob Javits who would like to be Romney's running-mate, and is confident Rocky means it.

There are several reasons why the governors are not hurrying to line up behind Romney, even thise who are already for him. He has not yet really announced he will go after the nomination and they don't want a reluctant candidate on their hands. They also want freedom to maneuver in the event there is an unexpected turn of events.

THERE WILL BE, therefore, a considerable number of of "favorite sons" none of whom will be serious candidates—like Reagan of California, Rhodes of Ohio, Javits of New York, Case of New Jersy, Tower of Texas. Unless there is a decisive break either to Romney or Nixon after early primaries, these GOP leaders will control important bargaining power at the convention itself.

None of the pro - Romney governors are discounting Nixon. They see him, after learning the hard way, as able to mount a most effective campaign operation in his own behalf. He has earned the warm loyalty of party workers in every state and, if personal loyalty becomes the principal basis for choosing the 1968 nominee, Nixon will be hard to beat.

BUT THERE is a new factor. It is evident in the very atmosphere here that the Republicans sense victory in '68; they will see Johnson's defeat as attainable; they see the White House within reach. Obviously they want to pick a man qualified to be President. But they want to pick a winner and the dominant opinion here is that Romney is strongest where Johnson is weakest.

The pro-Romney governors think Romney could win, if Romney slips, they think Percy could win. The undercurrent of interest in Percy is strong.

Too Much News About Abortions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is with serious concern that I have noted recently the amount of publicity being given by the I-J to an abortion "lecturer." Do you really feel that such detailed coverage on the front page is in the public interest?

I chose the I-J originally over a city daily because the editorial policy seemed to be to play down this type of story in favor of responsible news reporting. I hope this policy has not been changed.

Non-Drivers And The Darting Dogs

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is with "tongue in cheek" that I read the article on the editorial page dated Dec. 2 by David Coleman on "Couple Counts Their Blessings."

It is true that there are careless people driving through residential areas with undue caution. However, there are also many people living in these areas who are just as blameworthy as those who do not drive.

People who have and love pets should keep them in an enclosed area so they may be free and safe from harm. It is always easier to let your dog run around the neighborhood messing up other people's lawns and gardens and becoming general nuisances. Most neighborhoods in Marin County have leash laws anyway, but I guess that just applies to the other fellow, not you.

Also, many times I've driven cautiously in residential areas and have had to slam on the brakes because some dog darted across the road. It was just by "the grace of God" that something dreadful didn't happen.

Twice within the last year there were two serious accidents due to dogs darting in front of moving vehicles. In both cases cars were smashed up and drivers badly shaken, and in one instance a dog was killed.

I wouldn't ever want it on my conscience that I've killed an animal, but between an animal and a human, I'd rather an animal be killed than a human become a hopeless cripple because some selfish person failed to keep it off the street.

Reader Appalled At Welfare Dept.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have a very curious idea about what is considered needy in our county. I am appalled at the casual manner of welfare people toward the really needy. Their generous attitude toward the slovenly.

I speak from a disgusting experience recently (yesterday Dec. 7, 1966) my young friend Sue Flores had at the welfare department in Marin County Civic Center.

Sue's husband is in Viet Nam. She is living in an apartment in Novato. She lives on $123 a month. Her rent is $90 a month. Her utilities (on the minimum side) are $15. This does not include a telephone. She does not have a car either. So here is her allotment $123 a month. Her necessary expense of rent and utility — $105. What does she eat on and feed her baby? — what's left — $18 for a month of food. This wouldn't qualify her to buy clothes even or anything whatever — it would not even cover her food.

But the Welfare said — no she doesn't qualify as her husband hasn't deserted her on any of the usual things. They suggested she go to work. She is qualified to do work that would pay her sitter and nothing left over. How would she seek work anyway — no car, no phone, a three and a half month old baby. Why should she work? The baby lost its father to Viet Nam, now he should lose his mother, so she can pay a sitter and still have nothing left over!

Who does qualify — the ones having illegitimate kids? I'm curious as to how immoral or crumby you have to be to qualify. Because here is a totally deserving person and it's thumbs down. Help from the Red Cross is of no value as you have to pay them back and that's what she's doing now from having to utilize them when she was burned out of an apartment about a year or so ago.

Before Sue's husband (an airman in the Air Force) left for Viet Nam, he was first transferred to Oxnard; they had to pay for the move of their furniture because the Air Force only moves the furniture if you are A/1c and above. Then after they were nicely settled, he was notified he was going to Viet Nam, so he had to borrow ahead out of his pay to move up here again near the only people Sue knows.

So now Sue is in a real nice fix and the welfare doesn't recognize this as their affair.

Reader Wonders About Reporting

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As I opened the paper this evening, I wondered to myself just how badly I would be misquoted this time. I am referring to the article on the Tomales High School special board of Trustees meeting held Dec. 1.

In the first paragraph of the article, you stated that I retracted charges made at an earlier meeting. Later on you mentioned the charge of physical violence in the physical education department, making it appear that this, in fact, was what I retracted. I did withdraw ONE charge, but that concerned the use of foul language by physical education instructors, and though I apologized to the Board, the apology was directed to the men accused. The other, and to me, much more serious charge of physical violence, was not retracted.

I realize it is not always possible to check with all of the individuals concerned with any one article, but after having the same thing happen to me twice in one month, and if the letters to the Editor are any indication, others as well, I am beginning to wonder if you go out of your way to be INaccurate. When you know in advance that something newsworthy is going to occur, why not send your local reporter to cover the meeting? We would be happy to provide transportation—both ways.

Note: I am sure your Society Editor has a book on etiquette which your reporters could borrow to bone up on the proper use of the title Mrs. In my case, I am Mrs. Donald Patterson or Rosalie H. Patterson without the Mrs. In any case, nicknames are completely improper for adult females!

HANDICAPPED MAN HELPS OTHERS WITH SAME AFFLICTION

The first deaf and blind man ever to receive a college degree was named "Handicapped American of the Year" by the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Robert J. Smithdas of Brooklyn, stricken by meningitis at the age of 5, went on to become director of the deaf and blind program for children in New York City.

The Committee made the award for the "sheer determination and ingenuity" that enabled him to become an independent and useful citizen.

Shortly after he lost his sight and hearing, he recalled, his mother read a great deal about Helen Keller's accomplishments.

"She told me what a wonderful person she was, so I decided to overcome my handicap, too," he said.

Parents and others who acquaint young people with the lives of outstanding persons can often inspire heroic efforts in them. The Lord will make up for whatever you may need in enabling youth to overcome liabilities and to achieve difficult goals.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Executives Not Making Rush To Leave High-Paying Posts

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Some of the difficulties Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan is having in finding top-flight businessmen in the high class executive field to fill top-flight state positions as directors of various departments may be a reflection on the capacity of the people to govern themselves through the democratic process.

It has been reported from some highly authoritative sources that there has been no wholesale rush in the executive field to leave private industry and cast lots with the new administration.

In fact, many of the executive type that Reagan had hopes of securing for state position, already have disqualified themselves from even consideration of jobs.

GOVERNOR Edmund G. Brown made out for eight years by filling some of his posts with political has-beens, later elevated to judgeships, members of his family, and civil servants.

He managed to find several appointees who can be classed as good executives, and some of the career civil service appointees he drafted for non-civil service spots have full knowledge of state operations albeit they never functioned in private industry.

Reagan has hopes for something better. He said during his campaign while discussing the matter of top-flight executives, that he would "make all appointments to state office on the basis of experience and qualifications, and not on the basis of personal loyalties or political obligations."

IT IS HARDLY the fault of the governor-elect that the type of person he wants in his administration is looking at state service with a jaundiced eye.

Rather, it's the fault of the system itself. Two prime reasons keep the high-powered executive and ultra-able administrator out of service to the people. The first is money, and the second authority.

It doesn't seem reasonable to ask an executive to give up a salary which in many instances is more than double and sometimes treble what he could receive from the state.

Only the very rich, and few people, comparatively speaking, fighting the battle of income taxes and inflation together, can be classed as even reasonably wealthy.

NEITHER DOES it seem reasonable to ask a top-flight executive to give up a position of authority, where his orders virtually amount to law, to cope with the red tape of government, the sometimes conflicting laws enacted by the legislature, and the virtually impossible requirements of civil service which prevent any administration from running the government, despite the fact the administration has been mandated by the people.

The course of selectivity never runs smooth for a new administration, even when it is anxious to do the best job possible for the state, and it's known the job of picking and choosing isn't running easily for Reagan.

Executives count the possibilities of legislative investigations when they offend the politicians. In short, all the odds are against luring individuals out of the fields of business to take on the business of the people. The trend, therefore, emphasized by any new administration take-over, is toward more and more bureaucracy, rather than more and more sound business in government.

AFTER A SHOW has been running a long while on Broadway, the actors therein tend to slacken up considerably and even change the dialogue from time to time. It's the job of a really conscientious director to drop in occasionally and put the cast back on the beam.

Noel Coward once sent a wire to the cast of one of his biggest hits that read, "There will be a rehearsal tomorrow morning at 11 to take out the improvements." George S. Wish you were with me."

No Tax Increase Seen For Awhile

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Taxpayers can definitely be sure of one thing on that much discussed question of a tax increase — there won't be one for at least six months, and perhaps even longer.

Regardless of whether President Johnson decides to ask the new Congress for higher taxes in January, as most administration insiders now are convinced he will, no hike will go into effect before July.

ONE IS THAT Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., powerful chairman, and a majority of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, are adamantly against any tax boost becoming effective before July.

Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler also supports this view.

Another important reason is Mill's determination to first consider increasing Social Security benefits—strongly favored by both the administration and Republicans. It is his firm plan to open hearings on this legislation soon after the new Congress meets.

IN TALKS WITH congressional and administration leaders, Mills has bluntly warned them not to expect any action on the tax issue before spring.

"If the President does decide to seek higher taxes," Mills said, "you can tell him there is no likelihood of anything being done before July 1. Also there is no chance of a tax increase being made retroactive. There is very emphatic opposition to that in both parties. A poll of my own committee shows it as unanimous against a retroactive tax hike."

Mills has given no indication of his own attitude on a tax raise. He says he is withholding judgment until the White House has made its views known.

Under a schedule already approved by the Ways and Means Committee, proposals to increase Social Security benefits will have first priority in the new Congress.

ANOTHER PROBLEM on putting a tax raise into effect was injected by Treasury Secretary Fowler.

He has informed the Ways and Means Committee that the Internal Revenue Service will "need at least two months after Congress passes a tax bill to arrange the administrative handling of such legislation."

A forthcoming Treasury report reveals that sales taxes in the 50 states produced $7.9 billion in the fiscal year ending July 1, 1966.

Revenues from other major sources were:

GASOLINE, $4.6 billion; income, $4.3 billion; corporation, $2 billion; tobacco, $1.5 billion; liquor, $1 billion.

IN 31 STATES sales taxes were far in the lead as a revenue producer. In 13 other states, income taxes were foremost. In five states, this predominance was held by gasoline taxes.

Total state tax collections for the fiscal year totaled $29.4 billion—a 12.4 per cent increase over $26.1 billion in the preceding year.

All states collected more in taxes in fiscal 1965, with the biggest increases in Idaho, up 31.5 per cent, and Kansas, up 30.8 per cent.

By CAROL MARSH

Christmas Season, And The Problem Of Buying Gifts

If the best, altruistic part of Christmas is giving gifts, as some maintain, surely one of the most hectic parts is trying to decide what to give, after you've discovered what to use to get whatever you are going to give.

The last problem I solve, as I imagine most people do, by going into debt. But then what?

MY PARENTS have the fortunate habit of telling me what they want, except that my modest mother will say she wants something like a purse, completely ignoring the fact that her birthday comes four days before Christmas.

I invariably end up giving her one of those things listed in a currently running, rather obnoxious radio commercials as the "ten gifts women most like." I find the commercial obnoxious because it shows what a mundane gift-giver I am.

My father is easier. He wants golf balls, golf sweaters, golf shirts, golf books and golf magazines. No problem.

Last year I found the perfect present for my brother—$25 worth of certificates exchangeable only for parachute jumps. But since my niece is expected momentarily, I decided I had better not be responsible for keeping my brother in the air, so this year I bought him shirts. My brother is also among the unfortunates whose birthdays come in December. My father's birthday is one week from Father's Day.

TO COMPLICATE the problem, my parents expect me to tell them what I want—but I usually buy whatever I want if I can afford it, and if I can't, my parents certainly can't. Mom will force me to name something by suggesting things like a vacuum cleaner or an electric frying pan. I'm so far along on my Christmas buying by now that I've already had time to learn that one of my gifts, the most expensive one, arrived damaged. It was a set of liqueur glasses. My uncle, recipient of the gift, called to thank me for the "communion set," to tell me it was damaged since I'd insured it, and to add, in an irrelevant aside (he is a doctor), that he had just read that cigarettes cause cancer in dogs so I should be sure not to let my dog smoke. I discovered I had lost both the insurance slip and the store receipt for the set.

THERE'S A LOT to be said for mundane gifts. Last year, an extremely imaginative fellow tried to give me a monkey.

He ordered the monkey, without consulting me, one week before I got myself an un-housebroken puppy. I had been struggling with the housebreaking, in a furnished, fully carpeted rented apartment with no yard, for two weeks when he broke the news that he had ordered a monkey for me.

Since he was editor of the newspaper I was then working for, I could only respond, feigning enthusiasm, that I had always wanted to own a monkey.

Sad though it was for the monkey, I'll admit to immense relief upon learning that the monkey had not survived the trip from a farm in Florida. I told him there was really no need to order another, and he got me a Peanuts calendar instead.

20 YEARS AGO

MORRIE RYSKIND

Yes, Virginia, I Believe In Santa, But Really Now

YES, VIRGINIA, I believe in Santa Claus and all the wonderful things he symbolizes. All I suggest is that, by being carried away and giving too much, you may turn the recipient into a boorish brat who accepts the gifts as his due and won't even say, "Thank you." Ask Uncle Sam, whose generosity has gained him contempt and derision, rather than friendship, in so many places.

Don't shut me off. I am first to concede there is something especially inspiring in the very air at this time of year, that happy, ecumenical season which embraces the sacred holidays of two of the great religions and whose friendly aura envelops the heart of the most intransigent. It is hard to be cynical when even the Hatfields and McCoys stop shooting at each other long enough to exchange Christmas and Chanukah greetings.

(Incidentally, I plead with the printers to retain that C in Chanukah, which many have been omitting of late. Otherwise, I suspect, next year they will be referring to the "Sweetheart of Sigma Hi.")

BUT, HOWEVER you spell it, the magic of the season is not to be denied. Ebenezer Scrooge has already been converted twice on TV, and I hope to see him hit the sawdust trail at least four times more before the Yuletide ends.

And there's the Viet Cong, who have agreed to a coffee-break during which they will infiltrate only mildly; and—most revealing of all — the downtrodden of Berkeley, students and non-students alike, have signed a temporary truce under which they will not attempt to take over the university until after the New Year.

So far, so good. But, Virginia, consider the sad case of that Good Samaritan, Pat Brown. Unembittered by his defeat and thinking only to help his successor, he has been outdoing Santa in the few short weeks of his remaining term by passing out judgeships like mad, so that Governor Reagan will be relieved of such burdens after inauguration.

IN FACT, Pat has made so many appointments that he may go down in history as the man who reversed Andrew Jackson's motto by changing it to: "To the loser belong the spoils."

And Pat has gone even further in filling the stocking of his successor with surprise goodies. While some impetuous pollsters predicted he might leave Ronnie as much as a $200 million deficit, which certainly would have been fair enough, Pat decided to go all out and left a whopping $700 million shortage.

And what has been Ronnie's response to all this? I don't like to say so, Virginia, but the truth is he's been rather churlish about it. Instead of being properly grateful about the judiciary appointments, his attitude has been, "I'd rather do it myself, mother," like the young lady in the TV commercials. Indeed, he has gone so far as to complain openly, "I'll be about the only governor in all the 50 states who won't be able to fix a parking ticket."

BUT THAT IS nothing to the invectives Ronnie has employed in discussing the handsome deficit he received. Not that he is given to the usual four-letter words, but the powerful euphemisms he has indulged in haven't fooled anybody.

He has been shrieking that the deficit was altogether too big, and he'd like to exchange it for something at least five sizes smaller.

Well, that hasn't sat very well with Pat, after all the trouble he took in selecting Ronnie's gifts. So now he is calling Ronnie a cry-baby and saying he'll grow up to the deficit after a few years as Governor.

Which may be true, but right now any trace of good feeling between the two has disappeared altogether. All in all, I suspect Ronnie would have been much happier of the Good Samaritan had just sent a nice Christmas card and kept all his bounties. After all, it isn't the cost of the gift, but the spirit that matters.

See what I mean, Virginia?

When knights were made it was the custom to firse embrace the nominee followed by a light blow with a sword.

Observatory To Be Moved To Santa Cruz

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Lick Observatory has been moved from Mt. Hamilton to the University of California at Santa Cruz.

He said that expanded research activity and the inauguration at the campus of a formal academic program leading to a doctorate in astronomy led to the transfer.

Mount Hamilton is 25 miles east of San Jose, while the UCSC campus is 30 miles to the southwest of that city.

Astronomers, other staff members and some 167 tons of equipment will make the move. Remaining on the 4,200-foot peak of the California Coast Range will be an operation and maintenance crew of 16.

Reagan's Margin: 993,739 Votes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — For the record: Republican Ronald Reagan defeated Gov. Edmund G. Brown Nov. 8 by 993,739 votes.

The official tally made public yesterday by Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan showed Reagan amassed 3,742,913 votes and Brown received 2,749,174.

Jordan said the difference between the two tallies resulted from the fact that absentee ballots were not tabulated in the semi-official count.

The total vote of 6,605,866 was 79.19 per cent of the state's registered voters, short of the 1964 presidential year turnout when the percentage hit 88.4 per cent.
